Special Planning Dinner

Big Veteran's Day Plans Shaping Up In Warsaw

That day when Warsaw has the biggest celebration of its kind in the State of North Carolina and perhaps in the entire East is drawing steadily nearer and much is yet to be done in planning and preparing for the big Veteran's Day Celebration.

A very few have done much and spent many hours of their precious time on this celebration plan already but much help is still needed before the many years of having a really big day in Warsaw will be upheld as many wish it to be.

In order to get final reports from committees which have already worked on various projects for Nov. 11th and to get some vitally needed help on many things yet to be done a barbecue dinner has been planned at the Legion Home for all members of Post 127 and all members of the committees from other Civic Clubs. Commander Wilbert S. Boney and Adjutant Forest Martin of Post 127 have decided that the way to get some to a meeting and get their help on some badly needed planning and work for Veteran's Day is to feed them first. So the dinner is planned for October 28th, at 8:00 p. m. at the Legion Home.

The various committees appointed, are as follows: Parade Committee - Gib Buck, James F. Strickland, Earl Hale; Dance door Committee - Wilbert S. Boney, Forest Martin, Erwin Sloan, Walker McNeil, Albert Vann; H. H. Hatcher, Robert L. West; Dance Decoration Comm. - Forest Martin, Otis Swinson, Calvin C. Pittman; Town Decorating Committee - Lion's Club; Band and Orchestra Committee - Walker McNeil, Francis McColman; Float Committee - Jaycee Club - Beauty Contest Committee - Walker McNeil, Francis McColman; Publicity Committee - Bill Vann; Joe Lee Costin, Wilbert S. Boney; Memorial Service Committee - Judge Henry L. Stevens, Jr., and Rev. and Norman Flowers, L. T. Wilson, Delmar Parkerson, Paul Mull; Reviewing and Speaker's Stand Committee - Otis Swinson, John C. Pridden; Lunch Committee - Company M. NCNG; Speaker and Special Guest Entertainment Committee - H. F. Lee, E. C. Thompson, D. J. Rivenbark, Sam Godwin, Robert L. West, Ed. Strickland.

If all these gentlemen and also all members of Post 127 who have not been named in these committees will make a special effort to attend the barbecue dinner to be given by Post 127, then the Veteran's Day celebration in Warsaw can be a huge success as it has for many years before.

Duplin To Organize For Part In Carolina Literacy Movement Soon

All 100 counties in North Carolina are participating in the "Carolina Literacy Movement" which is now being organized across the State from the Mountains to the Coast.

Duplin County will hold its organizational and planning meeting Monday (October 26) in the Agriculture Building, in Kenansville, at 10 a. m.

Mrs. Mae Hager Spicer, Home Agent, said today that the Home Demonstration organization of North Carolina is in charge of making arrangements for instruction in the rural areas of the State. Therefore, all Home Agents in North Carolina will be holding these organizational meetings immediately.

Classes are to begin around January 1, 1960 and will be taught through the media of television. Television stations across North Carolina are donating their time to this program. Classes will be taught from 6:30 a. m. until 7 a. m. daily.

In Duplin, Mrs. Spicer said that teachers are needed for the classes which will be in session throughout the County. The program is designed to teach adult men and women to read and write. This means that only men and women who cannot read or write will be accepted into the program. As for teachers, high school graduates and teachers who are not teaching in public schools are urged to volunteer to be instructors. "We will need an adult who can read and write and who has at least graduated from high school to be with the adults enrolled in the program," Mrs. Spicer said.

Twenty pilot counties in the Charlotte area were used in evaluating the "Carolina Literacy Movement" last year. As a result 1,000 men and women who could not read or write learned how and have become more useful citizens of North Carolina.

In Duplin, the classes will probably be scattered throughout the county and will likely consist of a small number of pupils in someone's home.

A total of 96 lessons will be taught. The only charge and expense to persons enrolled in the classes will be $4.00 for a teaching kit and expense to and from the classes, which will be nominal.

In cities across North Carolina, civic organizations are taking it upon themselves to organize classes for illiterate adults.

Persons who know of individuals who cannot read or write are urged to tell them about this program and encourage them to become enrolled in this program. The only way the news of such a program can get across to the illiterate is for persons who can read and write to tell them.
