The proposed "Pay As You Go Plan" of school construction is a well planned project which will take care of the urgent needs in the next six years, as well as some of the building which should be done but is not classed as an emergency. The funds he reported, are needed for welfare and personal services to local members of the Armed Forces, veterans and their dependents; training courses in first aid, water safety, care of the sick and injured; the blood program, disaster preparedness; hospital personnel and recreation services and service programs by young people. A portion of the funds contributed, he said, will be allocated for services by the Red Cross national organization which support the local chapter's programs. Among these are the maintenance of welfare and recreation staff at U. S. Military bases and hospitals all over the world wherever U. S. Armed Forces are stationed; instructor training schools for safety, health and youth leadership courses; major disaster relief operations; the blood program; and public education in safety and health practices which reduce accidents and save lives.

Discounted Tobacco Varieties Announce

Take Note Tobacco Farmers The tobacco discount program will still be in effect for 1960, stated Rufus Elks Jr., A. S. C. Office Manager. Discounted tobacco varieties are Coker 139, Coker 140 and Dixie Bright 244. The reduced support rate also applies to mixtures or strains of these varieties. The tobacco trade put these varieties on the back list because in 1957 scientists classified these varieties as being low in flavor and aroma, being objectionably light bodied and enjoying poor acceptance with the trade. As a result the Secretary of Agriculture announced that these varieties of flue-cured tobacco would be supported at only 1/2 the support rate of comparable grade of other varieties. In order to help carry out the tobacco discount program each farm operator will be asked to certify whether any discount variety tobacco is being planted on his farm or any farm operated by him. This will be done when his tobacco is measured. This is a voluntary program which has been requested by the majority of the tobacco farmers. The program was initiated in order to protect and maintain markets for our all important Flue-Cured tobacco crop. Farmers should keep in mind the fact that this program is intended to benefit them-it does benefit them-and they are hurting themselves if they do not plant recommended varieties.
