Farmers Can Get Quick Service On Soil Tests

Because of the unusual season farmers have experienced of late, many farmers have been unable to get soil samples for testing.
Eugene J. Kamprath, Director of Soil Testing Division, with the North Carolina Department of Agriculture, said today that the division is up-to-date with its testing and that quick service can be given if farmers still desire to send in soil samples.
It will require from seven to 10 days to receive results from soil sent in now.

Cpl. Brooks To Remain In Duplin

Voluntary reduction in rank of Cpl. T. G. Brooks of Wallace to private first class in the State Highway Patrol was announced Friday by Sgt. T. W. Fearing of Goldsboro commander of District Five.
Brooks requested the reduction in rank in order to remain in Wallace.
Under a reorganization of the State Highway Patrol, effective Friday, Cpl. Brooks would have been transferred to Marion in the western part of the state had he maintained his rank.

Under the new program, Duplin County will be in District Three of Troop B with Onslow County. Headquarters will be in Jacksonville under the command of Sgt. C. J. Mitchell.
Wayne and Sampson Counties will comprise District two with headquarters remaining in Goldsboro under the command of Sgt. Fearing. At present, Wayne Sampson and Duplin counties comprise District Five.

Eastern Baptist Association To Hold School Of Missions April 3 - 8

From April 3-8 Eastern Baptist Association will be the scene of a series of Schools of Missions. Twenty-one of the forty-two churches in the Association are participating.
Not only will each participating church make a study of a huge mission book emphasizing the needs of rural missions but also will hear each night messages by foreign, home, and state missionaries. The program each night will include for the first hour the mission study which will be followed by the missionary message.

W. L. Crumpler
Because of the size of the Association geographically, the twenty-one participating churches have been divided into three groups of seven churches each. In Group II are the following churches: Mt. Olive, First Warsaw, First Calvary, Beulaville, Cedar Fork, Calypso, and Faison.

Alternating from one church to another each night will be one foreign missionary, Mrs. John S. Oliver of Southern Pines, North Carolina, and one home missionary, Mrs. Roy E. Brooks of Barstow, California.
Three home missionaries are scheduled for Group II. They are: Rev. W. L. Crumpler, Jr., currently serving in Barstow, California, Rev. Robert Bushyhead, of Whittier, North Carolina, and Mrs. Troy E. Brooks of Prescott, Arizona. Rev. Crumpler is a native of Clinton, and has served as Associational Missionary of the Eastern Association. He was serving in this capacity when the Home Mission Board appointed him as pastor of the foreign language groups in Barstow, California. Rev. Bushyhead was born and reared on the Cherokee Indian Reservation, is the son of an Indian pastor, and has been very active in Baptist circles on the Cherokee Reservation. Mrs. Troy E. Brooks serves with her husband as area missionaries for northern Arizona and southern Nevada.
One state missionary, Dr. M. A. Huggins, Raleigh, N. C., and for more than 27 years General Secretary and Treasurer of the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina, will speak at the churches mentioned above.
In addition to the appointed missionaries Mrs. Mary Hester Powell, of the Warsaw, First Church, currently on furlough from her missionary appointment in Nigeria, will assist in the various schools in Group II. Rev. E. B. Hager, Associational Missionary, of Warsaw, is the Associational Director of the Schools.

JR. CLASS PLAY

Beulaville Team In State Finals

The Beulaville Land Judging Team which won the Duplin-Pender County Federation Land Judging meet will go to the State Contest on Saturday, April 9. The state-wide contest will be held at West Rowan High School at Mt. Ulla, N. C., which is twelve miles from Salisbury.
Members of the Beulaville team are Floyd Lee Brown, Russell Kennedy, Wayne Kennedy and Gerald Kenedy.
The Sixth annual North Carolina FFA Land Judging Meet is sponsored by Carolina Power and Light Company, and the N. C. Bankers Association.

To Be Enforced Town Regulations Reviewed At Meet

At a recent meeting of the Kenansville Town Board which was held on March 22 the following ordinances and regulations were reviewed and it was determined that these regulations should be carried out for the best interest of the town.
Mayor Lauren Sharpe presided at the meeting, and the regulations were approved by the entire Town Board.

TOWN TAGS
By ordinance in 1936 and each successive year since that time, every resident of Kenansville who owns an automobile or truck resides in the town limits of Kenansville must purchase a town license tag for each vehicle. Due to the change in personnel and improvements on collections, the time for purchase has been extended until May 1, 1960. For each auto or truck not so licensed there is a penalty of $5.00 will be added to the cost of the license. This regulation will be enforced. Each year thereafter the dates for purchase will run identical to the state auto license.

WATER BILLS
The water bills for the customers of the Town water system are payable on the tenth of each month, and if not paid by the fifteenth of the month service will be discontinued.

BRIEFS

Named To Pledge Class

Arrested Wednesday Afternoon

Jesse James Oates Charged With The Murder Of Joseph B. Tadlock, Dec. 15

By Paul Barwick
Jesse James Oates, 32-year-old Negro, has been arrested and charged with the murder of Joseph B. Tadlock. Tadlock was found murdered in the "early evening" on December 15, 1959 near Faison. Duplin County Sheriff Ralph Miller said today the arrest of Oates was the result of "intensive investigation at Tadlock's whereabouts on the day and night of his murder. This lead to Oates at an undisclosed place."
He would not reveal the "place". Oates was placed under arrest Wednesday afternoon by Sheriff Miller, accompanied by SBI Supervisor George Canady and Agent Frank Satterfield.
Tadlock was found in his burning 1949 Chevrolet beside a rural paved road about three miles east of Faison. Bernice Williams, farmer of near Calypso, found the car in a ditch burning and went to Calypso, and summoned the Calypso Volunteer Fire Department.
No one knew a man was in the car until after fire had been extinguished, according to officers. Sheriff Miller said the motive for Tadlock's murder apparently was "robbery." Tadlock is alleged to have had $180 on his person in the morning on December 15, when he left his home on route 5, Clinton. "When his body was found," Sheriff Miller said, "he had $2.75." Tadlock had allegedly been collecting insurance premiums and probably had more than the $180 on his person when he was murdered.
Sheriff Miller said an autopsy performed on Tadlock's body revealed "several skull fractures." Oates, at the time of Tadlock's murder, was living at Faison. Since then he has moved to Mount Olive. However, when he was arrested Wednesday afternoon, he was in Sampson County jail in Clinton on a non-support charge. In order for Oates to be brought back to Duplin County to stand trial for Tadlock's murder, the non-support charge was dropped.
Before Oates' arrest, Sheriff Miller and SBI agents working on the case consulted with District Solicitor Walter Britt Tuesday night. Britt gave the go-ahead on procedures to get Oates back to Duplin County.

Tuscarora Boy Scout Council To Hold Camporee At Camp Tuscarora This Week

Tuscarora Boy Scout Council will sponsor a unique "Gold Rush Camporee" on Friday, Saturday, and Sunday, April 1-3, at Camp Tuscarora.
Council headquarters has heard the word that "gold" has been found in eight "towns" around Camp Tuscarora. Since this camp is the property of Tuscarora Council, only troops sponsored by institutions within the area of the Tuscaroras are entitled to this gold, the council reported.
Search for the gold will be made by patrols during the camporee. Base camp is to get set up Friday, April 1, by 6 p. m. Each patrol of prospectors is to register with the assayer between 4 and 6 p. m. to receive maps covering the various diggings.
The gold rush will start at 9 a. m. Saturday, April 2. There will be no sooner.
Patrols will have other ways of earning "money" in addition to finding a rich claim. Present will be prospectors (ole timers) who have already filled their poke and will be willing to pay gold for good stunts and meals. The assayer is

At Wallace-Rose Hill School

Swine School To Be Held In Duplin Co.

A swine school has been scheduled for Duplin County farmers during April, with the school spanning the entire month.
Vernon Reynolds, Duplin Farm Agent, said today that the school will be held at the Wallace-Rose Hill high school and each session will begin at 7:30 p. m.
Assistant County Agent Jim Bounce and Wallace-Rose Hill Vocational Agriculture teachers T. M. Fields and Jack Dail are in charge of making arrangements for the Swine School.
Classes and instructors for the school are as follows: April 5, Swine Housing, discussed by Ray Ritchie; and Swine Diseases discussed by Dr. H. H. Phillips, Veterinarian.
April 12, Meat type hogs and the type certification program, discussed by J. R. Woodard; and April 26, Swine nutrition and swine feeding and management discussed by Dr. E. R. Barwick. All of the instructors are from N. C. State College with the exception of Dr. Phillips, who is a Duplin County Veterinarian.
Duplin now is second in North Carolina in swine production and is expected to show an increase over the next few years.

W. Heman Hall Killed By Falling Tree

Henderson Guest Speaker At B & PW

William Heman Hall, respected Duplin citizen and Rose Hill lumberman, died early Thursday as the result of a logging accident.
Friends and acquaintances of the prominent Rose Hill resident will be shocked and saddened to learn that he was killed instantly when a tree fell on him.
The tragedy occurred between 9:30 and 10:00 a. m. (Thursday, March 24) on the Felton Rackley farm approximately three miles west of Rose Hill, according to Duplin County Coroner Hector McNeil of Warsaw.
Mr. Hall had a crew of men cutting hardwood on the Rackley farm and one of the trees which had been cut became lodged against another tree in falling. Waiting for a crew to arrive to unlog the tree, Mr. Hall was directing the loading top of him, striking him on the head by the tree, which crashed down on his skull, crushing it, McNeil said. He believed to have been killed instantly, the injured man was rushed to Rose Hill physician where he was pronounced dead upon arrival, the coroner added.
No one else was injured.
Heman Hall was 63 years of age. He was the son of the late William I. and Rebecca Catherine Newkirk Hall of Rose Hill.
Mr. Hall had been in the timber business since 1937. He served as Rose Hill postmaster for 13 years and was a former member of the Rose Hill Town Board of Commissioners.
A Presbyterian, he was an Elder in the Oak Plain Presbyterian Church and was clerk of the session. He had been an Elder since 1923 and had also served as president of the Men of the Church.
Survivors include his wife, the former Annie Jones of St. Pauls, of the home; one daughter, Mrs. W. E. Marley of Lumberville; two sons, Charles and Gene Hall, both of Rose Hill; one brother, Henry Hall of near Rose Hill; and one sister, Mrs. David Williams, also of near Rose Hill.
Funeral services were conducted Saturday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock at the Oak Plain Presbyterian Church by Rev. R. J. Wilkins, pastor, assisted by Rev. Wade Allison and Rev. P. L. Clark, both of near Rose Hill in the Church Cemetery.

NORTH DUPLIN WINS NO-HITTER OVER B. F. GRADY
Left-hander Clayton Swinson hurled five innings of no-hit ball, and Charles Grady came in in the sixth and finished the perfect job as the Rebels whitewashed B. F. Grady in a conference game 8-0. It was the first regular season game for both clubs.
Swinson, a fast left-hander, struckout 11 of the first 13 batters to face him. Everyone remembers Clayton from last year when he hurled four complete games in the eastern playoffs and allowed only two hits. Grady was just about as impressive in bringing the Rebels their first win of the season.
Doug Kennedy, an ex-footballer lead the Rebel attack with two for three, while third baseman John Clifton had one for two Glenn King, Bobby Farrior, Harold Thompson, and C. Swinson each had one hit for the winners.
Big Melvin Harper, the Grady basketball star, managed to keep the North Duplin hits well scattered until the fifth inning when the strong Rebel team exploded for seven runs on four hits and plenty of miscues. Harper was the losing

WALLACE-ROSE HILL EXPLORE JAMES KENAN

Two players from Wallace-Rose Hill jumped all over the home pitcher, Charles Grady, on Friday and beat him 6-0. One of those big jobs was done by Clayton Swinson, who pitched the first three innings and made up three hits and two runs. Coach Bill Helton of the Tigers said, "Clayton would have been a great pitcher but had had very little practice and was not anywhere near the real Lockamy." He also said "Charles walked about six men and that was the big shot
