Tigers First Call For Practice Draws 44 Prospects Including 14 Lettermen

TIGERS FIRST CALL FOR PRACTICE DRAWS 44 PROSPECTS INCLUDING 14 LETTERMEN
HUGHIE LEWIS FORMER TIGER STAR JOINS JAMES KENAN COACHING STAFF

Football practice began officially at James Kenan High School this past Monday afternoon with the largest turnout in several years. Coach Bill Taylor issued the invitation to prospective players at a coaches meeting this past week.

Coach Taylor has announced the squad would hold practices once a day at 4 o'clock on the Warsaw Junior High field with the full time devoted to preparing for the gridiron season which gets underway September 2 at Jones Central.

With fourteen lettermen returning, Coach Taylor appears optimistic about the upcoming grid campaign, but he warned "we have a long hard schedule to complete." Taylor did point out that, "the addi-

M. G. Cording & Sons Distributors Maola Products Effective Immediately

M. G. Cording and Sons of Wallace has announced it will begin distributing Maola milk, ice cream and other dairy products, effective immediately.

In disclosing the affiliation with Maola Milk & Ice Cream Co. of New Bern as a distributor, M. G. Cording, president, made the following statement:

"We are proud to become distributors for such a progressive and community-minded dairy as Maola.

"The dairy farmers in this area have been receiving below-normal prices for their milk during the past one-and-a-half years. The reason has been that production has exceeded sales of Class 1 milk.

"Our affiliation with Maola will become an opportunity for the local dairy farmers to move into a larger market for their milk, one which has been bringing the producers a higher income.

"It has always been my conten-

Big Eastern Tobacco Belt Sales Get Underway Aug. 23; Crop Bigger, Better

SOMETHING NEW ADDED - When couples purchase their marriage licenses in Duplin County from now on they'll receive something extra for their $5.00. With each license, the bride-to-be will receive a Bridal-Pax with which to start her house-keeping chores off with a bang. Here, Mrs. Christine W. Williams is shown as she presents the gift package to first couple, Vicky and Horace Fussell, Jr., both of Rose Hill, Vicky and Horace, Jr. purchased their license last Friday and were married at the home of the bride on Saturday. For the newlyweds there is a giant box of powdered detergent, a bottle of liquid detergent for those dishes, cleanser for there is a giant box of powdered detergent, a bottle general purpose cleaner and then a bottle of headache pills for relief from the cleaning tasks.

The world's largest tobacco producing belt, the Eastern Belt, will begin sales on Tuesday, August 23.

The market opened in 1959 on August 18. This year's delay in opening has been brought about by the late transplanting season which saw farmers transplanting tobacco from two to three weeks later than normal because of big snows and excessively cold weather which hit the entire tobacco producing area this year.

Tobacco plant beds were damaged to the extent in some areas that new beds had to be sowed in March.

Despite the late transplanting, however, tobacco matured rapidly after transplanting. Here in Eastern North Carolina farmers experienced for the first two-thirds of the growing season the best weather conditions known to many older farmers.

However, excessive rainfall came with tropical storm Brenda, causing considerable damage to the one-third of the crop in the field over the Eastern belt at the time. After Brenda left too much rain continued to fall and some tobacco was lost in the field because it ripened too fast and farmers did not have sufficient barn room to handle the flood of tobacco coming off the stalk.

Despite this excessive rainfall toward the end of the harvest season, farmers in general report a good crop of tobacco.

Official crop reporting services have estimated the 1960 crop, as late as August 1, at 22 per cent greater than the 1959 tobacco crop.

The 1959 weed crop was probably

ASC Community Elections Set For Sept. 8; Nominees Are Listed

Farmers will go to the polls on September 8, to elect five farmers from each township who will constitute the Community ASC committee for the next year.

Already 19 farmers have been nominated for consideration from each township in the County. It is from this list that farmers will vote for five men who will direct the community ASC program through the 1961 crop year.

To be elected are a chairman, vice-chairman, regular members first alternate and second alternate.

Some of the qualifications which should be considered when voting for the ASC Committee in your community are:

1. The chairman of the Community Committee is the delegate to the County Convention which elects your County Committee.
2. The Community Committee makes all adjustments in farm allotments (tobacco, cotton and peanuts).
3. It is the duty of the Community Committee to discover any violation or indicated violation of the marketing quota programs.
4. The Community Committee will inform farmers in their community of the programs operated by ASC and the changes that occur.
5. The Community Committee will submit recommendations in developing the ACP program to the County Committee.

The Community Committee will see that his community is protected.

Trial & Error

It really is a problem to get to a column during the tobacco rush. Doesn't it seem strange that everything seems to happen at the same time? You'll be coasting along taking life easy when the tobacco season opens, all stores begin wanting advertising at the same time, and everyone's job-printing will give out at the same time. Oh well, such is life.

We have had a sad time at our house this week. Our little dog died. Even though he was just the variety type, he was a lovely little pup, and my little daughter, who had raised him from a roly poly pup, was just about the finest dog in the country. Fluffy will always have a pleasant place in our memories.

A remark heard in passing, "It's not the cost of high living that's getting me down, but the cost of living high."

In spite of the heat, isn't everything beginning to look like fall now? With the corn turning brown, the weeds seeding, and everywhere you look there are symptoms of fall. August seems rather early for the goldenrod to be blooming, but a few days ago I saw some along the side of the road.

Schools open in Duplin next week and all the young boys and girls will be busy again. Some will be happy and some quite sad, and even though some would never admit it they will be glad to get back in the classroom and see their friends again, and even see the teachers. It is real amusing to hear the various comments the "small fry" make about the opening of school. I suppose it would be extremely amusing to hear comments from the teachers; they might make too about our spoiled brats.

Speaking of children, there are identical twin boys who help us in the office with paper folding. We usually work one at the time, or we think we do, but when you work one they are always both around and changing back and forth, so you cannot tell which one you are working. They both are around when pay time comes. It is the hardest job to know which one to pay. Recently when I started to pay one of them he said, "I haven't even worked for you today." They really should be labeled.

Duplin Brides Get Practical Gift Pack

For several years, Mrs. Christine W. Williams, Register of Deeds, has been pointing out to young people contemplating marriage the advantages of marrying in Duplin County rather than South Carolina. These have been: 1 - It's cheaper, and 2 - there's a big advantage in having marriage records easily accessible for certified copies when needed for Social Security, retirement, Veterans' Benefits, etc.

During the fiscal year which ended June 30, 1960, the Duplin Registry issued a total of 301 marriage licenses as compared to 239 for the fiscal year which ended June 30, 1959. 301 is the largest number ever issued during one fiscal year.

Last Friday a new reason for marrying in Duplin County became a reality. The Duplin County Register of Deeds Office started distributing to each bride-to-be a Bridal-Pax containing such practical products as detergent, cleanser, shampoo, and headache pills.

For this package, the bride pays nothing. Neither does this package cost the County any money.

The only requirement for a Register of Deeds to receive these packages is that she sign a contract that she will distribute only one package per couple at the time the marriage license is issued. A card showing the name and address of each couple receiving a package must be returned by the Register of Deeds to Bridal-Pax, Inc.

The same kind of package is being distributed in 150 cities this year. Behind the gift is Bridal-Pax, Inc., a New York sample distribution service, which expects to give

Tobacco Meeting, Monday, August 22 To Discuss Nematode Control Program

A very important meeting has been planned for Monday afternoon, August 22, 1960 at 2:00 P. M. This meeting is to be held at Grover Rhodes farm located on 111 highway between Beulaville and the intersection of highway 11 and 111.

The purpose of this meeting is to study and discuss a method growers might use in planning a nematode control program for fine-cured tobacco. This program involves examining tobacco roots in an organized fashion and classifying them according to severity of root knot development. The information obtained from this classification of roots could be very beneficial in planning an effective control program, states Ralph Sasser, Assistant County Agricultural Agent.

Diseases caused by nematodes are costing fine-cured growers more money than any other tobacco disease. In 1959 root-knot and other nematodes reduced the value of the crop an estimated 1.8%, a loss of over 7 million dollars.

Root-knot, meadow, and stunt are the three groups of nematodes that attack tobacco. Root-knot nematodes are considered to be the most important and are a threat on practically every farm in Duplin County. Quite often all three types of nematodes are found in the same field. This makes it advisable for you to consider all three problems in planning your control program. Therefore, you need to study the problem in each field and plan a control program based on your findings.

Such a program should consist of plowing out tobacco stubbles immediately following harvest, planning a good rotation for tobacco, and fumigating if needed. Many farmers are using soil fumigant when they don't need it. Thus costing money in material, labor and in a number of cases injury to the tobacco plants, resulting in a diseased yield. On the other hand, many growers who are not fumigating should be because of the extremely high nematode count in their tobacco fields.

This is the sixth annual camp. Expenses of delegates from counties all over North Carolina are paid by Southern Bell.

If Keith should be the state winner in forestry demonstration contests at the camp, he'll win an expense-paid trip to the National 4-H Congress at Chicago in the fall.

Duplin County has 300,000 acres in timber. Forestry income for the county last year was nearly 1 million dollars.

Charlie Williams, Jr. Is Being Held On Charge Of Murdering His Wife

Charles Williams, Jr., Rose Hill Negro, is being held in Duplin County jail without privilege of bond for the fatal shooting of his wife.

Murray New Asst. F. H. A. Supervisor

Jerry T. Murray, new assistant county supervisor for the Farmers Home Administration in Duplin County, began his duties here on August 8, 1960. Murray replaces James W. Pittman who was transferred to Hoke County. Murray is a native of Pender County, having graduated from Burgaw High School in 1950. After farming in Pender for three years, he entered the United States Air Force in 1953 and was separated in 1957. He entered N. C. State College that same year and was graduated from there this spring with a B. S. degree in agricultural economics. While in college, he was made a member of Gamma Sigma Delta, an honorary agriculture fraternity. He is an active member of the United States Air Force Reserve.

Murray is married to the former Barbara Harrell of Pender County and they have two children, Debra age 5 and Kevin age 9 months. They are making their home in Warsaw.

Beulaville Board Discuss Water Pump

The town water pump was the major topic of discussion when the Beulaville Town Board held their regular monthly meeting Monday evening at the Town Hall.

Commissioner Herman Gore reported work which had been done on the old water pump. Upon a test run of pump from 3:30 p. m. until 6:30 P. M., a lot of sand was pumped, making it unsafe to run the pump.

The possibility of securing a new lot and putting a new well down was aired and Policeman H. J. Brown was asked to write Raleigh for information concerning the best location for said pump.

The State Office provides this information free of charge.

Street lights at several places in town were also discussed and the board adjourned.

Present at the meeting in addition to Commissioner Gore were Mayor G. S. Muldrew and Commissioners Perry Williams, Delmar Houston, Harry Horne. Absent was Andrew Jackson.

NOTICE

The Duplin County Farmers Home Administration Office will be closed from noon on Monday, August 22nd through Wednesday, August 24th. All personnel will be attending a training meeting. The office will be open as usual Thursday, August 25th at 8:00 a. m.

African Educators To Visit Duplin

A delegation of African Agricultural Educators will visit Duplin County in their tour of the United States in September, according to R. E. Wilkins, Negro Agricultural Agent. The Duplin Extension Agents were notified in a letter from R. E. Jones, Extension State Agent this week. Duplin offers a variety of enterprises that would be of extreme interest to the group. Present plans also call for visits to Wayne, Craven, Nash and Wake counties.

Arrangements are being made to visit Vegetables, Poultry and Swine enterprises and also a visit to the Vegetable Research Farm at Falston.

Seven foreign dignitaries are from Nigeria and Liberia. Nigeria produces most of her own food and also has large surpluses for export. Those scheduled to visit Duplin county on September 13 are Samuel Giardino Abiodun; Gilbert Abraham, Mohammed Daliru, Kadiri Abdul, Walter Samalla, John Chukubisi Uchechenna Kros, Obed Chukwudem Monakaya.

Re E. Jones, J. S. Spaulding, P. P. Thompson, T. W. Flowers, and S. J. Hodges from A. & T. College will accompany the group during this tour.

Keith Kennedy To Go To Forestry Camp

Keith Kennedy of Kenansville has been selected to attend the annual week-long 4-H Forestry Camp in Richmond County.

The expense-paid trip is award to Keith as Duplin County winner in 4-H forestry project work. County Agent L. D. Reese made the selection.

At the camp, to be held August 15-22 at Camp Millstone near Rockingham Keith will take intensive training in forestry practices. The training is designed to help him to do a better job of handling timber on the farm.

This is the sixth annual camp. Expenses of delegates from counties all over North Carolina are paid by Southern Bell.

Citizenship Conf. In Washington September 16-20

The 15th Annual Meeting of the National Conference on Citizenship will be held at the Statler Hilton Hotel Washington, D. C. September 16-20. The Conference Theme will be "America - A Government Of The People, By the people, For People."

The National Conference on Citizenship was founded in 1946 as a means of maintaining the Spirit of Cooperation that bound together all citizens of the United States World War II.

All levels of Government, National and Local Schools; Colleges and Universities; major religious faiths; Professional Associations; Veterans' and related Organizations; Labor, business industry and finance; Farm and Civic groups; and youth Organizations have participated.

"North Carolina has had one of the big delegations for the past four or five years, says Mr. Carl B. Hyatt, Executive Director.

500 or 700 Home Demonstration Club Members from North Carolina have attended the Meeting of the Conference.

INTERESTING ROOSTER - Shown above on a nest of thirteen eggs is the Barred ROOSTER of Mrs. Estus Bland and grandchildren of Warsaw. When the picture was taken the Rooster had been sitting on the eggs for approximately 3 1/2 weeks. Since then the proud Papa-Mama has come off with six chicks and is caring for them in a motherly manner. The big advantage to this type of situation is that most man production can be obtained from Mama Hen. The Bland's Hen laid the eggs and is still laying them while Papa Rooster sets on them and raises the family. P. S. Hope this doesn't give the Women folk any ideas.
