Duplin Has First Fatality In State For New Year

Duplin County had a record this week in which it was not proud, the first fatal wreck in the state for the year 1961.

Los George Fillyaw, Negro, of near New Barn was killed when his car skidded off highway N. C. 41, three miles from Wallace, traveling toward Chinquapin. Fillyaw died instantly when he was thrown from his car, which skidded off the wet surface, ran into a ditch and turned over. The wreck

Mrs. X Gets Her Sewing Machine!

The news papers had just been received. This young woman came into the office, her brown eyes shining. She comes to this office every day. She brings clothes for children and says that she wants somebody to have the benefit of them. This time she brought money. "Here is $50," she said. "We want Mrs. X to have a sewing machine."

Later in the day we got our mail. Here was a letter that had a check in it. The donor says "Here is a check for $50.00. I want Mrs. X to have a sewing machine."

Still later in the day a man with a heavy case came in. He said to our worker, "Here is a sewing machine for Mrs. X. I would like for her to have it. I read your article in the paper. 'What' is your name?"

BEULAVILLE: Coach Billy Bostic's undefeated girls and boys basketball teams have just got down to business because of the boys' and very successful football season. In the Tigers first out-of-town game, they scored 30 points to lead the girls in a lopsided battle over the Beulaville team.

Trial & Error

Have you ever noticed the "ungodly" combination of foods that children like? My little nephew, "George Mack" came to supper recently and he wanted banana sandwich with the bread spread with mustard! My young daughter likes banana and pickle combination! And I have seen children eating banana and peanut butter combinations! My children have to have ketchup on their boiled eggs, which sounds "ooey, goey" to me. Even my saleslady, Mrs. Campbell today I saw her putting vinegar on peas in Jones' Cafe! Watch people order in cafes and see the funny combinations of foods they choose, things that you feel would have a fight the minute they hit your stomach. Fat people always order starchy foods, and thin people never seem to even desire the fattening foods.

Received a letter this week from William S. Powell, Librarian at the University of North Carolina Library in Chapel Hill, and he is making a request which I know will appeal to many "Duplin Countyites." He is about to complete a North Carolina gazetteer which will list and briefly describe the cities, towns, and named communities; rivers and other streams; lakes, sounds, bays, rivers, creeks, and other bodies or streams of water; poisons and swamps; and other named geographical features in North Carolina. Mr. Powell states that the main entry in every case will be under the present or last used name of such feature, but he would like to know of former names which are no longer used or which ceased to be used. Features which no longer exist (such as towns which have been abandoned, mines which have closed, etc.) will be described and dates of their existence given whenever possible.

Mr. Powell says, "I also hope to explain the origin, meaning or derivation of the names, and in as many cases as possible to indicate which cities, towns and communities were first settled and when they were incorporated." I will be grateful to your readers for any information of this nature which they can supply. I should like them to distinguish between what they know for a fact and what is simply tradition handed down to them. Such information may be sent to me in care of the University of North Carolina Library, William S. Powell.

You Duplin Times readers get busy, and every time you send William S. Powell a story send a copy to me and I will publish it. There are so many interesting facts about Duplin County. Please tell me whether your stories are facts or stories that have been handed down through the years. We will have some interesting reading. What is the reason for the Barking Sands on North East Cape Fear River; the Bottomless wells in West Magnolia? From where did such names come, as, Stockinghead, Beaulaville, Gander, Fork, Chittling Switch, Cedar Fork, Hells Swamp, Purgatory, Pin Hook, Nine Miles, Duplin Forks and Sarceta?

What is the story of Sarceta being the first incorporated town in Duplin County and at one time the County Seat? From where did the reference of the "Old Tran Road" in the Scotts Store section originate? What is the story on the springs in Kenansville?

Of course, many of these stories have been published previously in the Duplin Times, and in other papers and books. But don't you believe that we would enjoy reviewing them, and many of the school boys and girls have never read or heard of many of them. Let's get a real lively "Duplin County Facts and Fiction" information column going.

At Wallace - Rose Hill H. S. Governor Sanford To Speak At District School Board Meet On February 1

The Honorable Terry Sanford, Governor of North Carolina, will deliver the principal address at the annual meeting of District Five, N. C. State School Boards Association, on Wednesday, February 1. The meeting is to be held at Wallace-Rose Hill High School located at Teachey in Duplin County.

Howard Holly of Burgaw, chairman of the Pender County Board of Education and district president, stated today the six-county district was very fortunate to secure Governor Sanford for this occasion. The 43-year-old chief executive who has just been inaugurated has said repeatedly that education would be the "Number One goal" of his administration.

Dr. Dallas Herrin of Rose Hill, chairman of the State Board of Education, will introduce the Governor who is to speak during the banquet which begins at 6:30 p. m. Holly said that more than 300 superintendents and their staffs, principals, board members, local committee members, legislators, county commissioners, P. T. A. presidents and other citizens interested in schools are expected to be in attendance.

The Fifth District is composed of county and city school units in Brunswick, Duplin, New Hanover, Pender, Sampson and Wayne counties.

A Boarding Home This Old Man Needed A Home

This old man needed a boarding home. This old man had been a hard worker all of his life. He had been a good worker, but he was ignorant and had no special training and worked as a laborer. He raised his children and did the best he could for them. He needed a place to live, a place where he could get his meals, and a place where he could have someone to take care of him. He had been unable to save, because all of his earnings were used to support his children. He began to receive Old Age Assistance. Because of this, he was able to take care of his harvest needs. Then he had a stroke. He stayed in the hospital for a month. His family did not want to take him out. They said that they couldn't take care of him. There was no place for him. He was well enough to leave the hospital. The only boarding home for negroes in Duplin County is licensed for four and was filled to capacity. Efforts were made to find a boarding home outside of the county. The man was taken home to a son. He needed attention, attention the son could not give him, because the son too had to work and earn a living. His life was shortened because he could not receive the attention he so badly needed.

Mrs. Drew Named Director Of The 1961 New March Of Dimes For Duplin County

Mrs. O. D. Drew, Jr. today was named Director of the 1961 New March of Dimes for Duplin County.

The appointment was announced by Russell J. Lanier, Chairman of the County Chapter of The National Foundation, Campaign dates are January 5-11, 1961.

The New March of Dimes already has made a substantial beginning in its expanded program of seeking to prevent birth defects and arthritis in addition to continuing to see total control of paralytic polio, the new Campaign Director declared.

"The people of Duplin County, through their splendid support of the March of Dimes for more than 20 years, have contributed substantially to a great health program that resulted in the Salk vaccine."

"The 1961 New March of Dimes offers opportunity for all of us to be a part of work aimed at prevention of still more of the great crippling that afflict so many millions of Americans today," she said.

"I am confident that the people of this county will continue to fight for better health for themselves and their children through the New March of Dimes, both as volunteer workers and through their contributions."

Mr. and Mrs. Drew reside in Magnolia, North Carolina with their four children. She is a member of the Magnolia Woman's Civic Club and the Eastern Star. Mr. and Mrs. Drew attend the Baptist Church, where she is the Church Treasurer.

Mrs. Drew was the Chairman of the 1960 New March of Dimes for Duplin County which was one of the most successful ever held in Duplin County.

Orders For Pine Seedlings Fall Far Behind; Soil Bank Is Stopped

By Paul Barwick

Orders for tree seedlings from the North Carolina State Forestry Division of the Department of Conservation and Development have fallen far behind orders for previous years.

In the latest figures as compiled in the Office of P. A. Griffith, Assistant State Forester, by Mrs. Betsy Shearin, only 38 million seedlings have been ordered to date this planting season.

As compared with previous years the orders are far below the average. This same time last year there were 54 million seedlings sold and placed.

The State Forestry Division had available 96 million seedlings for sale at the beginning of the present season. There are now 52 million seedlings on hand and awaiting orders from farmers, landowners and tree companies.

When the Soil Bank program was eliminated for 1960-61, orders fell off considerably, and is given by the State Forestry Division as the reason for the sharp decline in placements of seedlings.

The State Nurseries had geared their plantings and seedlings production to be prepared for placements and orders which had come to the Division under the Soil Bank Program. As a result, of elimination of the Soil Bank program, orders have not been at plentiful as anticipated.

A good supply of loblolly and slash pine seedlings are still available. The supply of long leaf pines is currently short. State Nurseries are completely out of Arizon Cypress.

As for price, loblolly, shortleaf and slash pine seedlings cost $4.50 at the nursery per 1,000 and $5.00 per 1,000 delivered to the farm.

The shipping season for seedlings is now in progress. Orders are still being received. Application blanks may be secured from the State Forester, Raleigh, or the nearest District Forester. Complete information is available from the State Forester, Raleigh, N. C.
