Trial & Error

I haven't mentioned the press lately, but let me tell you now that as long as we are very proud of it. In fact, we are proud of it's performance, and incidentally the camera deal is better too. I am actually getting a picture now that you can tell whether it is a building or a person. The old saying "If at first you don't succeed, try, try again," surely must have been referring to "picture taking."

It was my pleasure this week to have lunch with Mrs. Ong who lives on the Barbados Island. Mrs. Ong is visiting Sallie Ingram and is the mother-in-law of Bill Ingram, Jr. Mrs. Ong has lived all over the world, even in Africa, and they have now moved to the Barbados Island because of the climate which is necessary to her husband's health. She is visiting in the States with her daughter in Raleigh and is here also to attend the wedding of her daughter who is in college in Iowa. She also has a son in California and one on the island with her. She kept the entire group fascinated telling about the island which is only 24 miles long and 14 miles wide. The climate varies only 10 degrees from summer to winter and from midday to midnight. But one thing I did not like, she says that the women have to do all of the heavy manual labor, while the men supervise some fun. There are three races, the blacks, the colored and the whites. It is settled mostly by the English and has a population of about 250,000. Mrs. Ong says that life is so perfect that it almost becomes monotonous. Even though most of the natives can speak English well, they speak in a dialect which is practically impossible to understand.

While in the Duplin Health Department the other day, I met Jimmy Woodall, an investigator from the U. S. Public Health Service. Woodall, with two other men, whom I did not meet, are working on the Venereal Disease program. VD is on the increase again over the State and nation. In a recent issue of the Reader's Digest the article "Once More - VD" appeared and the sub-head is "A few years ago, it appeared that venereal disease was permanently knocked out. But now it has made a shocking comeback - particularly among teenagers." Read the article and the facts will surprise you. The investigators are specially trained and are working with the U. S. Public Health Service. Their job demands much persistence and tact as their policy is not to use police powers, arrest anyone or use any form of coercion.

Dr. Powers, county Health Officer, brought in the loveliest bunch on puppies this morning which he had raised in his yard. They were huge, healthy blooms and so very colorful.

My "rocking chair supervisor" friend is accusing all of his friends of putting me up to talking about him in the paper. But my friend, that was not "hear-say", that was actually first hand information from sight, not circumstantial evidence.

ENC Broiler Growers Oppose Controls On Broilers; Membership Drive Starts

By Paul Barwick
Seventy-three broiler producers in Eastern North Carolina joined the newly organized Eastern North Carolina Broiler Growers, Inc. Monday night. Annual membership dues of $5 were set and a membership drive is to get underway throughout Eastern N. C. next week. Over 150 persons were in attendance at the second meeting of the group in Kenansville in the Courtroom of the Courthouse to give approval to the charter which has been drawn up.

Thompson Named To Head Drive Battleship N. C.

Governor Terry Sanford has announced the appointment of E. C. Thompson of Warsaw to head the drive in Duplin County to save the Battleship North Carolina. Thompson, who has been named along with 99 other county drive chairmen as an "Admiral of the Fleet" in the North Carolina Navy, will direct the Duplin County effort to provide its share of the $250,000 needed from public subscription to tow the giant ship from Bayonne, New Jersey, to Wilmington, N. C., and establish it as a permanent educational exhibit and memorial to men and women of all the U. S. Military services in World War II.

Completed in 1940 and commissioned in 1941, the U. S. S. North Carolina was affectionately nicknamed the "showboat" by the Navy because she was the first warship to carry 16-inch guns along with modern anti-aircraft weapons. She served in the Pacific theatre for 40 months during the World War II, taking part in virtually all major engagements from Guadalcanal to Tokyo Bay. In all she carried 12 battle stars.

The Navy originally planned to scrap the North Carolina, but efforts of residents of the state for which she was named have begun to save her. With a successful campaign to raise the $250,000 necessary to preserve her, the U. S. S. North Carolina will become the only World War II battleship in the nation to be open to the public.

Thompson pointed out that any Duplin resident giving as much as $100 or any campaign worker who solicits $500 or more will be made an Admiral in the North Carolina Navy by Governor Sanford. The Admiral's name will be engraved on a plaque aboard the ship. Anyone contributing $5 will receive five free admissions to visit the ship. Any school averaging 10c per pupil for 100 per cent participation by the students will each be given a free admission. All contributions are tax deductible.

Counsellors for this year's trip will be Jack and Frances Page. Students who will be in the Caravan are the following: Greensboro College, Miriam House, Kenansville, daughter of Rev. and Tom House is one of the group.

The group will visit England, Germany, Austria, Switzerland, France and Holland before returning to this country August 7. They will stay in the homes of Methodist people abroad, will participate in various work projects and will meet with young people in various cities they visit.

1961-62 Hunting Regulations Proposed

John Edwards and Harold Sides, wildlife protectors of Duplin County, announced that the Wildlife Resources Commission will hold a series of public hearings in each of the Commission's nine districts to give sportsmen an opportunity to express their opinions regarding the 1961-1962 hunting and trapping regulations.

John Edwards and Harold Sides said that the Commission met in Raleigh May 10, to establish a set of proposed regulations that will be presented at the hearings. John Edwards and Harold Sides urged that local sportsmen attend the District 2 hearing scheduled for 7:30 p. m. at the Courthouse in New Bern on June 1, 1961.

Up for consideration this year, John Edwards and Harold Sides said, is a proposal that the squirrel season be opened statewide on October 16, and close January 1, in Duplin County the season opened (about the same date) as last year.

The Commission proposes essentially the same season on bear as last year, October 16 through January 1, with minor local exceptions, and the same dates would generally apply to the deer season. Requests for consideration of an open season on antlerless deer in certain localities should be made to the Commission by August 11 so that public hearings on the subject can be held during the week of September 4.

The rabbit season would be opened November 23 and close February 15 except in Alleghany, Ashe, Avery, Mitchell, Watauga and Yancey counties where the season would end January 31. The statewide bag limit on rabbits would be five daily, ten in possession and 75 for the season.

The quail season is proposed for November 23 through February 15 except in Alleghany, Ashe, Avery, Mitchell, and Watauga counties where it would close December 16. The wild turkey season would open November 23 and extend through February 15 except that in and west of Stokes, Yadkin, Iredell, Lincoln, and Gaston counties, and in Anson, Beaufort, Carter, Montgomery, and Richmond counties there would be no open season.

John Edwards and Harold Sides said that in general the hunting and trapping regulations regarding the taking of game and warbearing animals would be about the same as for last season.

Under the proposed amendment, S. B. No. 255, a 25 cents per ton of feed would be charged on all feeds, even if they were produced and mixed on a broiler producer farm and fed to his own chickens. The amendment stipulates, "This shall apply to all commercial feeding stuffs furnished, supplied or used, for the growing or feeding under contract or agreement of livestock, domestic animals and poultry."

The proposed amendment is being prepared and proposed by the N. C. Department of Agriculture. I. J. Sandlin, Jr., of Beulaville, presided over the session which also named 11 broiler producers to the Board of Directors of the newly formed organization. Directors named were: Three year term: Willis Batts, Wallace O. H. James, Wallace; Frank Jessup, Pender County; R. G. Quinn, Kenansville.

Two year terms: George L. (Continued on Back)

GAIL NEWTON NOW "MISS RALEIGH"

Miss Gail Newton of Kenansville, senior at Meredith College, is the New "Miss Raleigh". Gail won the title in Raleigh on the past Friday night. Her talent that made her a winner was playing the piano, and she has been taking piano lessons for 16 years. This is a second bid for Gail on the Raleigh honor. The first try was two years ago and she was second runner-up. Gail is 5'2" and weighs 103 pounds. Gail's parents are Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Newton of Kenansville. She is a graduate of Kenansville High School and will graduate from Meredith this month. Her ambition and plans for the future? "Like every other girl I want to get married. If I teach piano, I'd like to teach either in a college or little children. The in-between age is bad."

John G. Clapp, Jr. Duplin's New Assistant Agent

John Garland Clapp, Jr. of Guilford County is Duplin County's new assistant Farm Agent. Clapp will begin work in Duplin on June 1 to take the place of L. A. Hesse who resigned recently to accept work in Henderson with the Farm Bureau Insurance.

TO KEEP THE FAITH WEAR A POPPY

By Lee Maxwell, Chairman Poppy Drive, Post 378
Once again, the time approaches for the American Legion Auxiliary to march on Saturday, May 27, we shall see you and ask you to wear a little red paper flower over your heart in remembrance.

More than one hundred thousand women, wives daughters, sisters of Veterans have volunteered to distribute the poppies which have been made by disabled veterans. This gives them work and a little income. As we pin them on your coats and dresses, the money you drop in our coin boxes, in exchange for the poppies, goes entirely to welfare activities of the American Legion and the American Legion Auxiliary. Every penny is made to serve in a cause of highest worth. Let's wear a poppy. "Least we forget."

The chest for the children's room, was bought unfinished, sanded and stained in natural, and is a beautiful job. These three girls raised the money to buy the chest and paint by selling candy and other products. They are working on their State FHA degree. Mrs. Marion P. Elkins is advisor for the Beulaville F. H. A. Department. On top of the chest is a blouse which was made by the students of the 9th grade in the Beulaville School and was presented to the gift chest at the hospital. (Photo by Ruth P.
