CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH of Warsaw, as it will look when completed. The foundation for the first unit of this church was laid Friday. The first unit to be built will be an educational unit and a temporary Sanctuary. Future plans call for another educational unit and a permanent Sanctuary.

Calvary Baptist Church Begins First Unit Construction In Warsaw

Calvary Baptist Church of Warsaw is ready to lay the foundation for the first unit of their new church building.

The first unit to be built will be an educational unit with a temporary sanctuary. The Educational building, arranged to take care of approximately 215 persons, will have an area of approximately 96x70 feet. The worship service building will accommodate approximately 270 people.

The first unit, the educational building, of Calvary Church is only the beginning of a fine and beautiful structure which is to be built in Warsaw. Future plans call for a permanent auditorium and a second educational unit which will be two stories. The three buildings together will accommodate approximately 500 people. The building will be of brick on masonry, with a forced air heating system, fully equipped kitchen, rest rooms for adults and rest room facilities for the small group of children.

The present building will have complete facilities for worship, such as choir and baptistry. The sanctuary part of the building will at present be used as classrooms for Juniors, Intermediates and adults; and by the use of accordion type folding doors, can be converted into a large room for worship, banquets or recreation.

Calvary Church will be located on the corner of Hill Street and Memorial Drive, on about a three acre tract.

Beginning as just a small seed in 1958, Calvary Baptist Church has grown steadily and rapidly under the leadership of their pastor, Rev. Paul Mull. The church was organized as a mission of the Warsaw Baptist Church, Eastern Baptist Association in September of 1958. Because of an overgrowth in the present First Baptist Church in Warsaw and also because of a need for a church to serve many who were not in any church, Calvary Baptist Church was formed. Services have been held since its organization in a two story dwelling which the church rents on Chely and Center Street. Paul Mull was called to the position as its first pastor in October of 1958 and has been with the church since that date.

The organization was constituted as church on August 23, 1959 with 53 charter members and has steadily grown since to an enrollment of 96 members. In September of 1958 when a revival was held, the response was so great that Sunday School and morning worship was begun the fourth Sunday of that month with 19 present for Sunday School and worship. From that beginning, the Sunday School has now grown to an enrollment of 181. In the following February 1959 a Training Union was started with an enrollment of 22 which has now grown to 109. The average attendance for the Sunday School runs in the nineties, and the attendance in the Training Union runs between thirty and forty.

Also in 1959 the Womens Missionary Society which has grown into four circles was organized and has a membership in the thirties. The WMU sponsors the Sunbeams, for primary and beginners, and the G. A.'s for Junior and Intermediate girls.

There is a brotherhood organization for the men of the church, seventeen years of age and above with an enrollment of 18. It sponsors and organizes for young boys of the church which has an enrollment of 7.

The State Baptist Association and the Eastern Baptist Association has assisted the church in securing the property. They have also been helped with the project by the First Baptist Church of Warsaw, which is the Mother church, who has helped with regular monthly assistance. The Brotherhood of the Mt. Zion Church has aided in raising money. Other friends have contributed and the church itself has worked and saved money.

This church building is an enormous undertaking for a small church and it has been necessary to secure a loan for the building project. The church is working toward saving the balance of $3000 which is needed for the completion of the unit being built at this time.

W. C. Bass, Jr. of Garland is contractor for the job.

'Keep 'em Burning For Labor Day

RALEIGH - Highway patrolmen this Labor Day week end will cruise the highways with their headlights burning, day and night. So will thousands of other motorists pledged to support the Motor Vehicles Department's campaign to "Light a Pledge for Safety."

Purpose of unique life-saving drive is to remind others that holiday highways are hazardous.

All over the state motorists who expect to be on crowded highways this week end are urged to go with their lights on. This means, says Motor Vehicles Commissioner Edward Schedt, that everyone with headlights burning is offering a constant reminder to others that safe driving pays off.

The vehicles chief said the light-reminder period would extend throughout the entire holiday week end, from the evening of September 1 through Monday night. His department will also begin the grim countdown of highway fatalities over the same period. Last year Labor Day road deaths came to 21, he said. Another 304 suffered injuries in accidents largely caused by careless and irresponsible driving. "This week end, wherever you drive, keep your headlights burning," Schedt said. "Let others know you are obeying the law, that you intend to share the road and enjoy a happy, accident-free holiday journey."

The commissioner said in conclusion, "Let your holidays end on the calendar, not on the highway."

Dr. Grady Speaks On Explosions

The Grady-Outlaw Reunion was well attended on Sunday at the B. F. Grady School.

Dr. Edgar D. Grady, surgeon of Atlanta, spoke to the group on Thermo Nuclear Explosion explaining what happens if an explosion is somewhere in your vicinity. Dr. Grady said that the rays could have their effect as far as thirty miles away from the point of the explosion. He explained the structure of the three major radio beams of the bomb and the effects and damage of the radio active beams to the body. The beams which will damage any cells with which they come in contact take special toll of the gastro intestinal tract and the kidney and urinary tract, and do much damage to bone marrow. A damage which will show up much more slowly. He concluded his talk with the advice that the best thing to do is to protect yourself as best you can from the rays.

Dr. Grady was introduced by Ben Frank Outlaw. Roland A. Grady of Wilson, president of the clan, presided at the meeting. Out-of-state guests were recognized by Malcolm Grady and the invocation was given by Rex Marshall.

A sumptuous picnic dinner was enjoyed.

The Beulaville band, under the direction of Robert Craft, gave several selections on the morning program.

Negroes Organize Industrial Organization

An unnamed Duplin industrial organization was formed last night (Monday) at the E. E. Smith High School in Kenansville. Some 400 persons turned out for the initial meeting. Julius Demay, who heads three sewing plants in the Duplin, Sampson area was the principal speaker. He discussed with the group the possibilities of a Home Sponsored Sewing Enterprise. Leader of the community development clubs and other civic leaders sought industrial expansion opportunities.

Mrs. L. B. Hall of Beulaville was instrumental in the formation of the organization. The group elected Windsor Johnson of Rose Hill as president. W. E. Foster of Warsaw vice president. H. C. Powers of Wallace Treasurer and Mrs. Irene Carr of Rose Hill Secretary. W. H. Kenan of Rose Hill, James Thompson of Teachey, J. B. Dafford of Rose Hill and Mrs. Edna Wallace of Wallace are on the board of directors.

More than $1300.00 in cash and several thousand dollars in pledges were made to initiate the company. If the current pace is maintained, president Johnson says "we may reach our immediate goal of $15,000 in a few weeks." The ultimate objective is $50,000 to be raised through the sale of common stock. A further meeting is scheduled for Monday night Sept. 4, according to Johnson.

Colored Man Stabbed To Death

Della Mae Miller colored woman of Warsaw is charged with murder after the slaying of Johnny Turner 38, Negro, on Sunday afternoon.

Della Mae is being held in the Duplin County Jail without privilege of bond until superior court in September.

He was a roomer in her home and she claims that he was trying to kill her. The motorist notified Chief of Police Perry Smith and he and Constable J. E. Creech went to the scene.

They found the dead body placed in the back door of the house, it had apparently been dragged and placed there and the accused attacker was sitting on the front porch smoking a cigarette.

Fifteen Convicted Coin Tel. Robberies

Since the first of the year, 15 persons have been apprehended and received jail sentences ranging from 90 days to 18 months in connection with robberies of coin telephones in the area served by Carolina Telephone, according to W. Y. Vann, local manager.

Persons apprehended and convicted have also been required to pay damage claims ranging from $75 to $500, in addition to serving long jail sentences. Manager Vann pointed out.

Damage to coin telephones generally exceeds the small amount of money stolen during each robbery, as coins from each telephone are collected frequently enough to prevent a large accumulation.

Vann urges that citizens living near outdoor telephone booths help apprehend coin telephone burglars by reporting suspicious activity to police. "The company's offer of $100 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of these law violators still stands," he said.

Now Is Time For Fall Fertilization Of Strawberries For Best Results In 1962

The 1962 strawberry crop will soon be forming. It is hard to believe, but in the crown of a well-rooted strawberry plant first bud formation will soon be taking place. Nitrogen is the one plant food that will produce a response on fruit bud formation. Many times, growers apply complete fertilizer when it is not needed. If adequate phosphorus and potash was applied at planting time, these elements need not be added for at least two years. In 1961, yields and quality of fruit was reduced by over-fertilization. Excess nitrogen in the fall can reduce fruit bud set to a considerable degree.

Nitrogen should be applied during August or early September at the rate of 40 to 50 pounds actual nitrogen per acre. This application should be made directly over the plants with the excess being brushed off the foliage. On heavier soils,

At Rose Hill Poultry Technology Course Scheduled Offered By Goldsboro Industrial Center

Rose Hill, Aug. 28 - Dr. T. T. Brown, professor of poultry science at North Carolina State College, will teach an intensive course in poultry management technology at the Rose Hill Unit of the Goldsboro Industrial Education Center beginning September 18th. The course, designed for persons employed in the poultry industry in this area, is intended to provide a sound basic understanding of genetics, poultry breeding and nutrition, feeds and feeding, poultry health, brooding and rearing and housing equipment.

Only those who can demonstrate high interest and ability will be admitted to the poultry technology course. It is expected that the course will prepare students for employment as field supervisors and managers with up-to-date information regarding the techniques now being employed throughout the country, but it will also give instruction in the basic scientific areas related to this type of employment.

The course will eventually cover such important subjects as agricultural economics, mechanics, poultry meat production, egg production, grading and inspection and business management, including personnel relations. The instruction is at the same level as the State College two-year terminal program in agriculture, but it has the added advantage that it will not require students to leave their homes and jobs. Instead, the education is to be brought to the students, who will attend classes after working hours.

The cost to the student will be limited to the cost of books and a small fee for supplies and the use of a science laboratory, since it is a part of the North Carolina public school program of Industrial Education Centers. These Centers are expected to enroll over 18,000 students during the new school year in many different technical and occupational areas. The Unit at Rose Hill already has two classes in automechanics.

The Goldsboro Center recently announced a new curriculum in farm machinery technology which will give intensive training in all types of commercial equipment available to farmers. It will include engineering techniques as well as mechanics. Applicants should address the Goldsboro IEC, Goldsboro, N. C., for further information.

Trial & Error

Last week I listed the people of Duplin County who had been named "Tar Heel of the Week". And I have found out that I made a very bad mistake. I want to make an apology to O. P. Johnson of Kenansville, and Melvin Cording, Dr. John D. Robinson and Rev. Forrest Maxwell of Wallace. Are there any others in the county, if so please let us know. Nine in Duplin County, that is a very high ratio for a rural county with small population. We salute you!

Please, please this Labor Day week end, drive carefully. Let's cheat the statistics. It is predicted by the N. C. State Motor Club that 23 persons will die in traffic accidents this week end. Fatalities will be counted from 6 p. m. Friday through midnight Monday. Last year the toll was 21, but the motor club increased its estimate in view of the fact that national highway death records were shattered this year for both Memorial Day and Fourth of July holidays. The State Highway Patrol is sponsoring the special "Light Your Pledge For Safety" campaign. Motorists are urged to drive with their headlights on, both day and night, during the holiday period. Another warning, 622 troopers will be on the highways this week end. We don't want a ticket, do we?

Football season begins tomorrow night (Friday), in Duplin County. Everyone is talking football. The James-Kenan fans had so much to be excited about last year, that everyone is speculating on the team this year. We really had a time last year. Beulaville and Wallace-olives will be up tomorrow night also. That should be a mighty good game. Will see you at the ball game.
