Mt. Olive College Putting On Financial Drive; Public Asked To Respond

B. E. Bryan of Mt. Olive has been named Chairman of a new effort to obtain vital financial support for Mount Olive College in the Wayne-Duplin area for 1962. This drive will continue for the entire year. It is hoped that many pledges will be made and paid prior to the end of June, 1962. Mount Olive College operates on a fiscal year basis, and will need a special amount of money in order to close out the current year on a sound financial footing.

Financial support which a citizen of the Wayne-Duplin area gives to Mt. Olive College is much more than a donation. It is an investment. An investment in an institution which has added to the business development of our area as much as a major industry. An investment in the cultural and spiritual development of the community. An investment in the future of our young people and an investment in a very real sense - in the future of our state and nation.

Buy Christmas TB Seals Today

One of the greatest joys of Christmas is giving to - and for - others. And surely, one of the most significant symbols of the spirit is the tuberculosis Christmas Seal.

The Free Will Baptist Denomination is making a fantastic financial contribution to the success of Mt. Olive College. Many individual members of that denomination who know that they, individually, cannot possibly expect to receive any personal benefits of any kind from the college have given generously at real personal sacrifice.

Trial & Error

The Editor slipped off a little while last Thursday (press day) to go down to Rose Hill and see the festivities in progress. Rose Hill was truly in all its glory, decorated for the parade, everyone dressed up and anxiously awaiting the huge crowd which attended the parade. The press had been invited to interview Emalee Gaddy, Miss Tobacco Queen, and she is a most charming young lady. Miss Gaddy was gracious and friendly, as well as pretty. I did not get a chance to speak to Miss North Carolina, but I had met her in Warsaw a few weeks before. She is also beautiful and friendly. It is wonderful to me that the girls who are selected to hold these enviable places are required to have more than just looks. They represent our state and country in so many different situations that they have to be wide awake to make a good impression. Miss Gaddy chattered away about her trip to Turkey and Germany.

Now Beulaville is preparing for their Big Parade on Saturday. I believe that about winds up the parades in this immediate vicinity. It looks as though the Christmas season will be past before Kenansville gets their lights on. Lights have been up for two weeks but there seems to be some trouble somewhere which has prevented turning them on yet. But in case you passer bys think we don't know it is Christmas, we do in a big way! Small towns can crowd more in during the Christmas holidays than the whole city of New York.
