Duplin Observance Of National 4-H Club Week To Be Held March 3-10

The Duplin County 4-H Club Council met Monday night in the Agriculture Building in Kenansville. Approximately 100 persons attended the monthly meeting. Twenty of those attending were adults.

The theme of the observance in Duplin this year will be "Community 4-H Clubs." Articles telling of the various activities will be written and published.

The 4-H Club Public Speaking Contest, to be held March 5 at the next County Council meeting, was also discussed. A junior and senior division has been planned. The junior division will be for boys and girls from nine years through 19 years of age. The senior division will be for boys and girls 14 years old and above.

A $5.00 award will be given to the junior boy and girl winner toward their Summer Camp expenses and a $10.00 award will be given to the senior boy and girl winner.

The County senior winners will represent Duplin County at the District Demonstration Day, which will be held June 12. The place has not yet been determined.

To participate in the Public Speaking contest, the boys and girls will have to be a member of an organized Community 4-H Club. The speech must be original and written by the boy or girl who delivers it.

The Poultry Chain was discussed and applications are now being accepted. Boys and girls accepted receive 100 chickens. The chickens are raised until 12 are turned back into the program next August at the Poultry Show and Sale. Money received from the sale is used to buy more chickens to keep the chain going.

Prize money is also awarded at the August Show and Sale, sponsored by Sears and Roebuck. "If there are 4-H boys and girls who are interested in this program," said John Clapp, assistant Farm Agent, "they should contact their adult 4-H leader and have them get in touch with the County Agent's office."

Area Meet Of N. C. Agri. Foundation Tuesday Night

Mr. Lex Ray, Director of Foundation at North Carolina State College, will be at Wallace-Rose Hill High School on Tuesday, February 13, for an area meeting of the North Carolina Agricultural Foundation.

The North Carolina Agricultural Foundation is in charge of administering the Nichols For Know Program whereby farmers assess themselves $c per ton of feed and fertilizer to promote agriculture research in North Carolina.

Farmers, businessmen, and other people interested in agriculture are urged to attend this meeting to hear a report on what the Agricultural Foundation has meant to the agricultural economy of the state. They would also like to get ideas from the people on ways to improve the agricultural well being of the state.

Trial & Error

The column today is for the very "young at heart" and is from a release by the World Book Encyclopedia. Since Valentine's Day is next Wednesday, you young fry might like to read this.

"Valentine's Day has become a pleasant occasion for cashing in on cards or candy. But for the maids of an earlier day, it was a time for serious husband-hunting.

A girl might start out at midnight by circling the church 12 times and repeating the rhyme, "I sow hempseed, hempseed I sow, he that loves me best, come after me now." If no one did, she could still hope to see her true valentine in her dreams. Of course, she first took the precaution of pinning five bay leaves to her pillow, one to each corner and one in the center.

"Was marriage possible in the coming year? A peek through a keyhole could tell her that. The girl rose early on February 14 and set her eye to her keyhole. If she saw two objects, well and good. But if only one-better luck next year.

Still, perhaps she could identify her husband-to-be. She wrote the names of her boy friends on bits of paper and rolled each one in a piece of clay. Then she dropped the clay into water. The first scrap of paper that floated to the top was (Continued on Back)

GOLDEN HOUR FOR BOYS

Boy Scout Anniversary Week Feb. 7-13

The Pledge of a Boy Scout
ON MY HONOR: I will do my best to do my duty to God and My Country. To obey the Scout Laws; to help other people at all times; to keep myself physically strong, mentally awake and morally straight.

It is the precept by which he advances in the Boy Scout Program under the guidance of Adult Volunteer Scout Leaders. It keeps him on course as he is challenged by his fellow scouts to achieve a high degree of unity of purpose. The Scout is an individual as he goes about accomplishing self reliance and a deep love of nature through his own choice of merit badge subjects. Yet through membership in the Local Council he is affiliated with the National Council of 3,783,075 boys and 4,377,885 adults. Since 1910 a total of more than $3 million have participated in putting together Today's Boy Scout Program. A program that has kept pace to meet the needs of Today's Scouts. A program that permits the Scout to put together his home, religion and school training in a "Proving Ground" test before he is (Continued on Back)

Swine Producers Advised To Obtain Extra Good Breeding Stock For Success

A farmer should not mind paying extra for good breeding stock in hopes any more than he minds paying extra for good seed corn. This was one point brought out by Jack Kelly, Extension Swine Specialist, at a swine production course held at Kenansville, Monday night. Kelly went on to point out that the purebred breeder has more expenses in producing hogs than does the commercial breeder.

Kelly said that a commercial producer should use good purebreds for foundation stock and then raise a three or four way cross. This will give him larger litters, better feed efficiency, a faster rate of gain, and a more meaty hog that would give a good meat carcass.

R. M. Ritchie, Jr. will discuss swine building next week, February 12, 1962, at 7:30 p. m. at the Court-house in Kenansville. He will have models of different types of buildings and will discuss different systems of raising swine, also disposal pits use with pig parlor. This should be a very interesting and worthwhile meeting and everyone is urged to attend.

Farmer attendance and participation has increased continually since the program was started January 22.
