

THE WEEKLY NEWS.

Dedicated to politics and news of the day

J. M. Harrington Editor & Proprietor.

Terms $2 per annum.

Vol 1. Harrington N.C. July 19th 1860

No. 7.

Political.

Kingsbury.

We were at Kingsbury on Wednesday the 11th inst, and heard the candidates for the legislature and Sheriff address their fellow citizens.

They were all present, and a respectable number of voters turned out to hear them. No new issues were taken, save that their views upon the proposed amendments were manifestly stated, and it was not

Mr. Daniel, the candidate of the opposition party, although he does not stand upon their platform, did not deal so much in personalities, as he had heretofore done. Parity and probability are still the prominent features in his discourse. So much so that a gentleman who was sitting at our side remarked that he was a strong advocate of Mr. Daniel has finished him, he was completely disgusted with the measures advocated by Mr. McDaniel.

Mr. Wright had the reply, and wound him up as effectually as it could have been done. This we presume will be concurred by Mr. M.D.'s strongest political friends.

During the dissection and physician process, Mr. M.D. became very nervous and very sick. He was relieved instantaneously by the application of in a good humored way, of a large dose of "Wright's Indian Vegetable Pills".

The democracy of Caswell's Creek district are well aware of the humbug and deception proposed to be practiced upon them.

They will vote in August next, for the regular county nominees and our gallant standard bearer John W. Ellis. Fay Courier.

State Stocks.

Since the payment of the July Coupon North Carolina bonds are quoted at 96. Fay Courier.