Riders enjoy annual cycling event

TIMES STAFF REPORT

A day with mostly clouds and temperatures comfortably in the sixties gave cyclists an enjoyable day for a country ride. It was the 12th edition of the Silver Valley Civitan Rolling In The Valley Bicycle Ride.

Proceeds are pledged to SV Civitan service projects that benefit people with disabilities. The club presented contributions to several projects at their Civitan Awareness meeting April 12. The riders viewed scenic vistas along the 8, 25 and 50 mile routes through Randolph and Davidson Counties this past Saturday. Cyclists ranged in age from age 19 to 65. The event was staged for a consecutive year from Pleasant Grove United Methodist Church on Old Highway 64 at the county line.

Entries came from ten cities with Lexington, Thomasville and High Point again leading the way. Other towns and cities represented were Denton, Asheboro, Trinity, Winston-Salem, Clemmons, Greensboro and Randleman.

Coordinating the ride for a second year was Chris Hughes. Two dozen Civitan volunteers worked registration, rest stops, provided course assistance and served lunch.

What's Green and gets a lot of attention?

If you guessed both, give yourself a gold star. Lexcom is now Windstream and along with that, your trusty money-making Lexcom directory has become a beautiful new directory, all decked out in Windstream green. Which is appropriate, since it's all about making the other kind of green (see above). It's the book your customers will use and keep using to look for the goods and services they need. Your goods and services. Who doesn't like that kind of attention?
