BASKETBALL Ledford camp

Ledford will host a basketball camp June 7-9 at the school gym. The camp, for players grades 1-8, will run from 5-8 p.m. each night. Cost is $50 per camper which includes camp, pizza on Wednesday, insurance and T-shirt.

The Panther Booster Basketball Camp is designed to provide campers with a positive basketball experience, with an emphasis on teaching and developing basketball skills and a love for the game, in a fun and competitive environment. A staff of high school coaches, as well as current and former players, will be on hand to help campers improve their game, while promoting the principles of good character, teamwork, and sportsmanship.

For more information contact Ledford coach Scott Dalton at 847-1879, or Andrew Stone at 816-1058.

"She Got Game" camp

Former East Davidson standout Katie Freeman will host the "She Got Game" girls basketball camp June 28-July 1 at the Brown Middle School gym. The camp is for rising third through ninth grade girls and will run from 8 a.m.-noon each day. Cost is $50 for pre-registration and $55 at the door. Cost includes instruction, T-shirt, insurance and certificate.

This camp is a great opportunity for girls to better their all-around game under the direction of past and current college basketball players. Instructors include Anna Freeman (Appalachian State), Alyssa Cutchaw (Brevard College) and Elizabeth Merritt (Catawba College).

Girls will be divided into groups that will maximize their ability to either learn basic skills or improve upon their current skill level. Instruction will include team-oriented as well as position-specific drills and competitions. Daily motivational sessions will encourage girls to develop skills that will help them achieve success in basketball, as well as life.

For more information contact Katie Freeman at 802-9537 or kfreeman20@gmail.com.

DCCC offers camp

Davidson County Community College will conduct a camp June 28-July 2 for boys and girls grades 4-12. The camp will run each day from 8:30 a.m.-noon.

The goal of the camp is to give campers instruction in the fundamentals of basketball as well as emphasize team play and sportsmanship. Campers will be divided into groups based on age and ability level. Instruction will be provided by members of DCCC coaching staff, players and other area coaches.

Cost is $75 per camper. Make checks payable to DCCC, P.O. Box 1287, Lexington, N.C. 27293. Please mark the bottom left corner "basketball camp."

For questions, contact coach Matt Ridge at 239-3819.

there is an impressive statistic that has been frequently quoted. Of the last six races run in NASCAR's top three series, including the non-points-paying Sprint All-Star Race, the Busch brothers have combined to win all six of them.

The last time a different driver won in either the Sprint Cup or Nationwide series was in Darlington, where Hamlin swept the weekend. And Kyle probably still holds that against him.

Of course it can't last, but a six-for-six record is nothing to sneeze at. It is also nothing to ignore. Both Kyle and Kurt currently sit in the top 12 in the Cup driver standings, and their names regularly come up in conversations about potential championship prospects.

Our siblings are the people we practice on before we have to deal with the folks that aren't related to us and aren't obligated to spend money on us at Christmas. It is an ongoing process. Kurt and Kyle don't always get along with their fellow drivers; shoot, they don't always get along with one another.

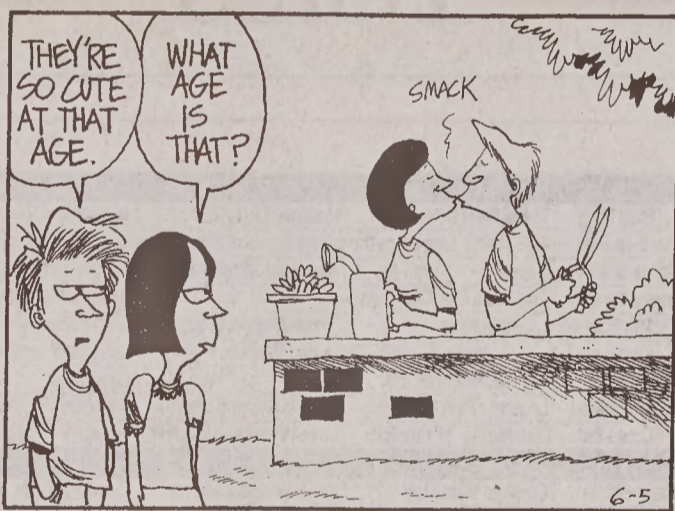

But you can't argue the fact that they seem to be getting along just fine with their mechanics, crew chiefs, engine builders and, by extension, with their race cars. It may not be what we're used to, but it's nice to see a racing family doing so well.

So in the case of Kurt and Kyle Busch, we can all just sit back, enjoy the show and let brotherly love continue. Until one of them comes in second, of course. Then, all bets are off.
