Hospice cookbooks

Hospice of Davidson County will release a 25th anniversary cookbook with contributions from staff, volunteers and members of the community. The 25th anniversary cookbook, titled "Recipes and Remembrances from the Heart," will be available mid-September. The hardback cookbook will feature a healthy choices section for diabetics and vegetarians in addition to traditional sub-categories. The cookbook will also feature a self-supporting bookstand. All profits from cookbook sales will benefit Hospice of Davidson County patients and their families. To pre-order your copy of "Recipes and Remembrances from the Heart," contact Hospice of Davidson County at (336) 475-5444, ext. 2123. The limited edition cookbook is available for $15. Information regarding recipe categories and submission guidelines are available online at www.hospiceofdavidsong.org/ways-to-give. For more information, contact Windy Cole-Hedrick, volunteer manager, at windyhedrick@hospiceofdavidsong.org.

Mail checks or money orders to Thomasville City Beautification, PO Box 368, in Thomasville. Deadline is October 15. Delivery will be in November.

Area partners needed for senior food drive

Comfort Keepers has kicked off a nationwide Serving Seniors, Nourishing Lives initiative to collect healthy food items for distribution to seniors in the community. About 30 million older Americans live with chronic diseases that nutrition therapies can effectively manage and treat, so some simple dietary changes can make a big difference for seniors. Beginning in June and continuing through the summer months, Comfort Keepers is asking local businesses, organizations, churches and community groups to partner with them to collect food donations that have added nutritional value for seniors. For more information or to help, contact Lori Eberly or Andy Fortune with Comfort Keepers at (336) 775-0005 or via email at lorieberly@comfortkeepers.com. Comfort Keepers will provide each participating organization with a collection bin and promotional materials and will coordinate food pick up and delivery as needed.

Yard of the Week

The City Beautification Committee is currently seeking nominations for Yard of the Week. To be eligible for Yard of the Week, the yard must be maintained by the homeowner. Yards that are professionally maintained are not eligible. To nominate a yard, contact Crystal Hodges at 476-8675. Have the homeowner's name, telephone number and address when calling. Yards are named for the weeks May 1 through July 31.

Sunset Sounds

Arts United for Davidson County will continue its annual Sunset Sounds tradition of free concerts at the bandstand beginning with The Tom Holladay Orchestra. Bring a picnic, blanket or chairs and listen to some fantastic North Carolina musicians as the trains roll by — no alcohol. In case of rain, the concert will take place in the Central Recreation Center on East Main Street.
