played well. Hats off to them. You just have to focus on your keys and do the right thing on every play no matter what your endurance level is or how you feel."

Cutcliffe said in about 20 of Wake's offensive plays Saturday, the Blue Devils played in synch and good things happened. The other plays were when Wake racked up big yards.

"All it takes is for one guy to not fill a gap and you have a hole big enough to drive a tractor-trailer through," Cutcliffe said. "We're going to have to anchor down and be the best we can be. It's not magic. It's not going to happen with the snap of your fingers."
