he was in the face of Rutgers quarterback Tom Savage when he threw his second interception of the game deep in UNC territory to effectively end the Scarlet Knights' comeback effort.

"I don't know what it is about this place but I love playing here," said Carter, who returned an interception 66 yards for a touchdown in a win at Rutgers in 2008.

It wasn't just Carter who came up big for the Tar Heels (1-2) in the fourth quarter — it was the entire defense.

With UNC clinging to a 14-13 lead, quarterback T.J. Yates threw his first interception in 117 passes at the end of the third quarter, but the defense forced Rutgers into a fourth-down situation at the start of the fourth. As Ted Dellaganna tried to punt the ball, Carter was there for his sixth career punt block and seventh career kick block to give UNC the ball on Rutgers' 35.

"It's been a long time," said Carter, who hadn't blocked a kick since posting five in 2008. "That was something for the fans. They've been like, 'Get a blocked punt, get a blocked punt.' There it is."

Five plays later, Casey Barth chipped in a 25-yard field goal to give UNC a four-point cushion.

The Scarlet Knights moved down the field on the ensuing possession, as Savage got sacked twice on the drive but still managed to help Rutgers convert a pair of third-down plays and a fourth-and-12 to get to UNC's 19.

But that would be as far as they would get.

Matt Merletti, who has been starting at safety because of UNC's depleted roster, recorded his first career interception at UNC's 6. Savage completed 16 of 29 passes for 150 yards and was sacked four times.

"Matt made just a great play," UNC coach Butch Davis said. "They had tried to pick on the secondary throughout the entire day, and obviously they recognized that a lot of these kids are very inexperienced."

But the game wasn't quite over. The Tar Heels used just 20 seconds off the clock on its ensuing possession and were forced to punt.

A 31-yard punt and an illegal shift penalty on UNC had Rutgers starting its final drive on the Tar Heels' 34 with 2:21 to play.

UNC again was able to put pressure on Savage — his first throw fell incomplete, his second was batted down at the line of scrimmage and then he was sacked. His final throw of the day was incomplete to seal the victory for the Tar Heels.

"We [put] that fire out, and we got them stopped," Carter said.

Yates said Carter came up huge for the Tar Heels and the defense did an amazing job overall.

"Going 0-3 would've been a little devastating for us," said Yates, who finished 22-of-30 for 204 yards and one touchdown. "Especially because we were making the same mistakes as we were the past couple of games with just the fumbles and the turnovers."

UNC trailed 10-7 at halftime, mostly because of two fumbles in the first half — the sixth and seventh fumbles the Tar Heels have lost in their three games.

But in the third quarter, UNC took the lead for the first time when Yates found Ryan Taylor for a 5-yard touchdown pass to put the Tar Heels ahead 14-10. It appeared the tight end may have fumbled the ball in the end zone, but the official review upheld the ruling on the field, much to the displeasure of the crowd.

Rutgers cut the deficit to 14-13 with a 39-yard field goal by San San Te with 1:58 to play in the third, but that was the end of the scoring for the Scarlet Knights.

"Certainly we had our opportunities to win that football game, but we were unable to do it; coaching, playing, all things," Rutgers coach Greg Schiano said. "We just didn't do well enough."

JOHNSON

trance to the garage.

As the drivers he beat rolled through the gate to the garage area, they had to pass through Johnson's smoky celebration. It wasn't exactly a case of "eat my dust," but it was close.

"Man, you are rubbing it into all these guys' faces here," crew chief Chad Knaus radioed to the driver, after Johnson completed the best-case rally from last week's 25th-place run.

Indeed, Johnson won the pole, led the most laps (191) and scored maximum points (195) as he vaulted four positions to second in the Chase standings, 35 points behind ninth-place finisher Denny Hamlin, who posted a respectable result at a track that has plagued him in past Chases.

"It's a huge weight off my shoulders that we were able to come here and win a race in the Chase, rebound from last week," said Johnson, who won for the sixth time this season, the sixth time at Dover and the third time in the past four races at the Monster Mile.

With 53 Cup victories, Johnson is 10th all time, one behind Lee Petty and two behind Rusty Wallace.

Johnson regained the lead from Carl Edwards on Lap 366 of 400, when Edwards brought his No. 99 Ford to pit road during a cycle of green-flag stops. Johnson pulled away from Burton over the final 35 laps.

"Today is a great day for us, because it shows us what we are capable of and the fact that we can win races and be competitive in this Chase," Johnson said. "This summer was hard on us—there's no way around that. We had bad races and finished bad. We had good races and finished bad. So it's nice today to do things start-to-finish all weekend long on the right foot."

Joey Logano — the only non-Chase driver in the top six — finished third. Kurt Busch ran fourth, Edwards fifth and Kyle Busch sixth. Kyle Busch remained third in the standings and trails Hamlin by 45 points.

Burton hadn't written off Johnson's No. 48 team after New Hampshire — far from it.

"Well, they're good," he said before correcting himself. "They're not good—they're great. That word is not being overused when I say that. They've won four (championships) in a row. You're not good doing that. You have to be great to do that."

"They've been in the hunt. They've been in the mix. I think they're as seasoned as you can possibly be together."

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA
COUNTY OF DAVIDSON

BEFORE THE THOMASVILLE
CITY COUNCIL

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING ON ECONOMIC INCENTIVE GRANT

The City of Thomasville proposes to appropriate and expend City funds for the following economic development project pursuant to North Carolina General Statute or Section 158-7.1 The City Council intends to consider entering into an economic development incentive grant contract with Project Z.

The proposals to be considered are as follows:

1. Project Z will be entitled to a grant each year for five (5) years to be paid by The City of Thomasville provided the Company meets the requirements of the Contract as to investment, jobs and wages. The calculation for payment of the grant will be .0028 times the total new investment in plant, machinery and equipment. The grant will not exceed $5,400.00 per year. The company plans to invest a minimum of $2,000,000.00 and provide 20 jobs with an average hourly wage exceeding the county average.

The City Council believes the foregoing grants will stimulate the local economy, increase the City tax base and revenues, result in the creation of new employment opportunities in the City and promote the welfare of the City and its citizens.

The Thomasville City Council will hold a public hearing on the City's proposed appropriation and expenditure of funds for these grants at 7:00 p.m. on Monday, October 18, 2010, at the Council Chambers located on the 2nd floor of the Police Department, 7 West Guilford Street, Thomasville, North Carolina. The City Council will consider all information that they believe to have a bearing on these grants. The City Council invites all interested persons to attend and present their views. The Council may adjourn the hearing from time to time.

Persons with disabilities that may need special accommodations to participate in the hearings should notify the City Manager's Office at 336-475-4221 at least 24 hours prior to the start of the hearing.

This the 23rd day of September, 2010.
