

THE NEWS

of Orange County

COUNTY PAPER
A real COUNTY paper is one that moves in lock, stock and barrel and prints county news from Genesis to Revelation.

BACK TO SCHOOL
September comes the back time for education. Why not make your county through THE

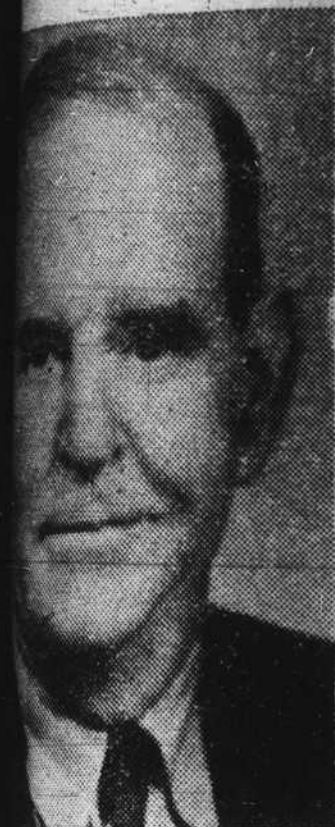

51, No. 34

Hillsboro, N. C., Thursday, October 5, 1944

(One Week Nearer Victory)

8 Pages This Week

This Week's ORANGE MAN

James Cox Wins Distinguished Flying Cross

S/Sgt. James Pyler Cox was recently awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross for "extraordinary achievement in aerial flight against the enemy". Sergeant Cox, ball turret gunner, on a B-24 liberator, was liberated recently from a Romanian prison camp, after he had been shot down over the oil refineries of Ploesti. His wife, Mrs. Faye E. Cox, makes her home at Leaksville. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Cox, received a telegram from him last week stating that he had landed in New York, and they expect him home soon.

A. T. FERREE

Young Pastor Of West Hill Baptist

The Rev. E. D. Young of Columbia, S. C., took over the duties of pastor of the West Hill Baptist Church last Sunday, replacing W. V. Brown who recently resigned the position to receive further religious training.

Prior to coming to Hillsboro, Young was pastor to the Congregate Baptist church, Convert Baptist, Joyce Branch Baptist, and Leigh Chapel in Columbia.

Formerly of Buies Creek, he attended the Columbia Bible School before entering the ministry. He moved to Hillsboro last week with his wife and daughter, Dorris. They will live in the West Hill Parsonage.

Ferree Speaks To Carrboro Group

Carrboro, Sept. 30.—A. I. Ferree of Asheboro, Republican candidate for the United States senate, making the initial campaign speech in Orange county last Friday night at the Carrboro school, called upon his Republican friends to bestir themselves in the interest of the party between now and voting day, November 7. "One inspired soul preaching the doctrine of Republicanism seven days to the week year in and year out could make the party a strong contender in county and perhaps overturn the Democratic majorities regularly returned in the county," he said.

Candidate Ferree was introduced to his audience of Republicans by Oscar J. Coffin, Democratic precinct chairman — "the first time in all my campaigning (since 1912) that I've been presented by a Democrat," said Ferree. Coffin and Ferree are both natives of Randolph county and it was as a fellow townsman and former associate that Coffin introduced Ferree "as a man ably fitted for the office he seeks."

Forsaking his prepared speech, in which he denied that the Republican party was responsible for unpreparedness for the war and placing the responsibility upon the Democrats who were in power, Ferree asked his hearers to devote their time to looking after their own household, seeing that voters were registered and that they voted on November 7.

He recited the experiences of the party in his own Randolph county in overturning a regular Democratic majority and capturing all local officers for the Republican party. "Credit for the change in party faith in Randolph, must go largely to one man who came to Asheboro years ago and worked at the business of politics every day in the year," said Ferree. It was largely a one-man inspiration that worked in his county, he said, and his plea to Orange Republicans was to catch some of the same spirit in this election.

Missing in Action

Mrs. J. W. Gates of Chapel Hill, Route 1, recently received word that her son, Sgt. Edward S. Gates, is missing in action. He has been overseas for three months as a gunner on a B-19. Gates entered the service in May of 1943. He has three sisters living in Durham county, who are: Mrs. E. W. Shambley, Leutta Cheek and Mrs. Beatrice Flowers.

County Club Members Compete In Cattle Show; Return With Honors

On Friday, September 29, Orange county club members exhibited twenty-five dairy animals in competition with animals owned by club members from twenty-three other Piedmont North Carolina counties for $2,000.00 in premium money offered by Coble Dairy Products of Lexington. The show was held at the modern Holstein farm of Coble, located just outside of Lexington.

In the face of keen competition and due to the fact that a lot of the other club members had more experience, the local club members made a creditable showing.

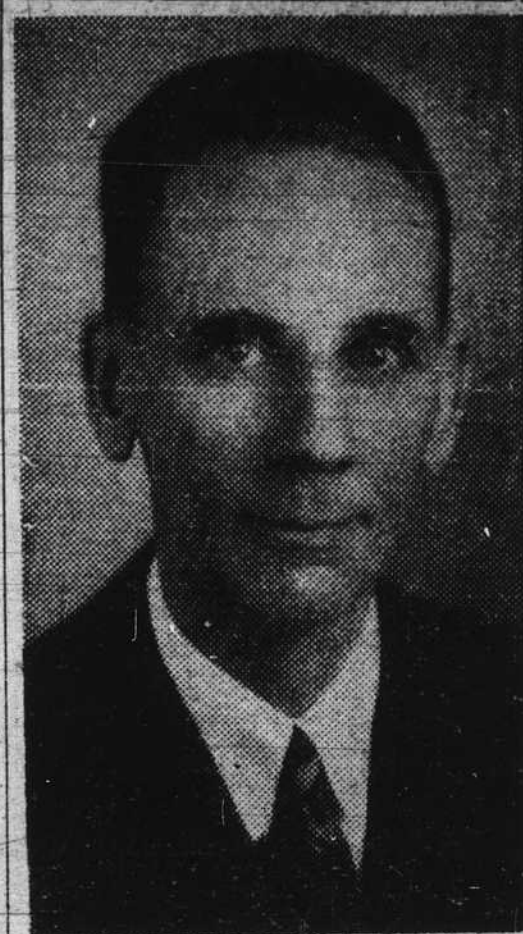

The following are club members who took part in the show and their winnings:

J. K. Woods, Jr., Jersey female, white ribbon; G. A. Munn, Jr., Jersey female, blue ribbon; G. A. Munn, Jr., Jersey calf, red ribbon; Z. C. Burton, Jr., Jersey female, red ribbon; Z. C. Burton, Jr., Jersey calf, white ribbon; W. G. Carruthers, Jr., Jersey female, white ribbon; W. G. Carruthers, Jr., Jersey calf, red ribbon; J. C. Hawkins, Jr., young Jersey bull, red ribbon; Dorothy Boone, young Jersey bull, red ribbon; Ben Lloyd, Holstein female, red ribbon; Ben Lloyd, Holstein bull (Jr. Champion and Grand Champion), blue ribbon; William Teer, Holstein bull, red ribbon; Bill Stanford, Holstein bull, red ribbon; Bill Stanford, Holstein female, red ribbon; Bill Stanford, Holstein calf, blue ribbon; Ralph Compton, Jr., Jersey female, red ribbon;

Margaret Brown, Jersey female, white ribbon; Kenneth Brown, Jersey female, blue ribbon; Lloyd Oakley, Guernsey female, white ribbon; Lloyd Oakley, Guernsey female, red ribbon; Lloyd Oakley, Guernsey female, red ribbon; Lloyd Oakley, Guernsey calf, white ribbon; Bill Hogan, Holstein female, blue ribbon; Bill Hogan, Holstein calf, red ribbon; Lewis Cheek, Ashyre female, blue ribbon; and Lewis Cheek, Ashyre female (Junior Champion and Grand Champion), blue ribbon.

Durham - Orange Home Ed. Assn. Hears Mrs. Groves

The Durham-Orange County Home Economics Association held its first meeting of the new year at the Durham High School Home Economics Cottage Friday, September 29. Mrs. Gladys H. Groves of the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, presented some recent findings in the field of "Marriage and the Family" of interest to the group. She also gave a bibliography bringing up to date sources of material in that field. Part of the meeting was devoted to round table discussion of such problems, especially applicable to the adolescent. The following club members were present: Mesdames Julia Davis, Naomi Adams, Bessie Starling Ware, and Misses Kathryn Highsmith, Woodward Byars, Elizabeth Davis, Claire Hill, Myrtle Hopkins, Grace Haines, Lydia Olive, Alice Tilley, Frances Woolworth, Annie Wooten and Helen Blalock.

RUSSELL M. GRUMMAN

Grumman Addresses Hillsboro Lions Club

Russell M. Grumman, head of the extension division of the University of North Carolina, was honor guest at the Lions Club last week at which time he spoke to the group on federal aid for schools.

Grumman took an unbiased view toward the subject, that has been a target for much public criticism either in favor or against. The speaker delivered a one man debate, presenting arguments both pro and con for federal aid to the schools.

Introduced to the group by R. H. Claytor, superintendent of Orange County public schools, Grumman pointed out that one object of his speech was to help dispell ignorance of the average person on the subject.

Squirrels On The Hunted List Now In Orange County

According to information received from Robert Logan of Chapel Hill, district game warden, and Vance Perry of Graham, local game protector, the squirrel season in Orange county opened October 1.

The regular hunting season on quail, rabbits and turkeys will open November 23 with the Duck and Goose season opening Nov. 2. The deer season in eastern N. C. also opened Oct. 1.

For the benefit of hunters who might want to troll across the county line in Durham county, they are warned that the squirrel season in that county will not open until the regular hunting season opens Nov. 23.

A. W. Wilson Gets Office at State

Hugh B. Bell of Huntersville was elected president of the N. C. State College Agricultural Club, last Friday. It is the largest organization on the campus.

Other officers elected include: E. G. Dawson of Dunn, vice-president, A. W. Wilson of Hillsboro, secretary, C. A. Griffin of Rocky Mount, treasurer, and Dr. J. F. Lutz, faculty advisor.

D. Woods, of Hurdle one of the most well tobacco men in the county his business headquarters in Mebane.

son of the late Samuel and Ann Woods, he was born April 13, 1878. He is married and has five children. They are: Conklin, Mattie Taylor, Marie McDade, Hazel and C. G. Jodie, Ormnon and Virginia Allen.

attended the Caldwell School, after which he went to farming and later a partnership. Since then he has been a warehouseman in Mebane.

Woods was married to former Miss Rena Daniel. She is a member of the Grove Methodist church, and is a steward in the church.

Flight Man With Knife

Chapel Hill, Sept. 30.—Berston, colored dishwasher at the University hall on the University campus, was partially disarmed by a knife wielded by Snowball, a co-worker in the kitchen, Thursday. The Robertson woman was given preliminary treatment at the Navy Pre-Flight hospital and on Friday was released to Lincoln hospital, Durham. The latest word is that she is recovering satisfactorily from her wounds.

A warrant has been issued for Snowball woman but she had not apprehended her yet.

College Officers

L. Trewitt, of Cleveland, was elected president of the student body at Presbyterian Junior College in the regents elections held Monday, September 25. Other officers elected at the same time were: Clarence Hampton, Virginia, vice-president; Miss Jacquelyn Massey, Elizabeth City, secretary; Murray Jackson, Bensenville, South Carolina, representative to Student Council; and the collegiate department; Strayhorn, Chapel Hill, representative from the preparatory department.

Tobacco Markets In Mebane Open Doors

The Mebane Tobacco warehouses opened their doors for a first sale Thursday, September 23, the opening date for all markets in the Old Belt, with the prices running high.

A leading market in the Old Belt for 25 years, Mebane is the sight of three warehouses, Piedmont, Planters and Farmers. The chief tobacco warehouse owners there are Joe Woods, Carlyle Farabow, John McCauley, Walter Dillard, Burch Keek, Joe Warren, Rascoe Coleman, and Orland Coleman.

Most tobacco officials in Mebane look forward to a season of high price this year on tobacco.

American Legion Sponsors Carnival

After some opposition, the University of North Carolina has finally decided to permit the American Legion to bring a carnival to Chapel Hill the week of Oct. 30.

A carnival sponsored by the American Legion last year raised money enough to pay off the mortgage on the Legion Hut, but some considered the show a little too risque.

This year the American Legion signed a contract with the Kirkwood shows, which promise a clean show. The entertainment committee headed by Judge H. A. Whitfield, however, said there will be no time for supervision on the part of the Legion and that nothing can be guaranteed.