Open Letter

To Weekly Newspapers:

The enclosed reprint from American Press illustrates the phenomenal showing in sponsored War Bond advertising made by the Nation's weekly newspapers during the Fifth War Loan drive.

According to the reports submitted to us, each of twenty-five weeklies published more than 10,000 lines of sponsored War Bond lineage each week during the 5th drive.

The total War Bond advertising in weekly newspapers jumped from 61,748,242 to 88,625,600 lines. This amazing gain of 43.5% was the largest increase made by any media. For this colossal contribution to the vitally important war financing program the American people are deeply indebted to the Nation's weekly press.

The coming Sixth War Loan presents an even greater challenge to newspapers and their sponsoring advertisers. Due to over-optimism arising from our military achievements, the public must be awakened to the cold realization that the war is not yet over—not by a long shot!

Newspaper advertising support will be needed more than ever before to put the 6th drive over, and to finance a round trip to Tokyo for several million fighting men.

We know we can count on your continued support for which the Treasury is deeply appreciative and truly grateful.

Sincerely,
Loyal Phillips,
Newspaper Advertising
War Finance Division.

Of about 600 ballots sent to service men and women from Orange county, about 200 have been returned, said C. A. Bivins of Hillsboro, chairman of the board of elections, as Orange Countians all over the world cock their guns for the November 7 election.

Their are three types of absentee ballots being cast in the election this year, the Federal War Ballot, Civilian absentee, and the regular soldier vote ballot. There will be about 25 Federal War Ballots cast in this county. This ballot is for those soldiers who will vote in the national election only. Out of 50 civilian absentee ballots, about 20 have been returned to be distributed to the various voting precincts November 7.

Bivins said every precinct in Orange county is represented in the soldier vote.

Qualified registered voters will receive four ballots when they go to the polls to vote.

The presidential ballot carries the names of Franklin D. Roosevelt and Harry S. Truman, Democratic nominees for president and vice president, and Thomas E. Dewey and John W. Bricker, Republican nominees.

The roster of county officers, representative and State senators lists W. Dennis Madry, Dem. for State senate, opposing Alan T. Garrison, Rep. for the same office.

J. W. Umstead, Jr., Dem. is opposing George N. Harward, Rep. for the House of Representatives. Clerk of Superior court, Edwin M. Lynch, Dem. vs. W. S. Crawford, Sr., Rep.; County treasurer, G. G. Bivins, Dem. is running without opposition. The present Dem. county commissioners, Collier Cobb, Jr., Ben F. Wilson, and H. G. Laws face the Republican opposition of J. W. Kirk, M. L. Cates, and McKenzie L. Walker.

The ballot of State officers where both Democratic and Republican candidates appear, includes U. S. Senator, governor, lieutenant governor, secretary of State, auditor, treasurer, attorney general, superintendent of public instruction, commissioners of agriculture, insurance and labor, two associate justices of the Supreme Court, and member of Congress.

A ballot of five Constitutional amendments make of the fourth ticket.
