Grange Group Offers Essay Prize Of $1.00

St. Mary's Grange met in regılar session at 8 p. m., Thursday, March 1. Weather and roads being good, there was a record-breaking number of 30 officers and members present.

During the business session, the names of Rev. S. F. Nicks and Miss Ellen Bacon were presented for membership in the order, and both were favorably received.

The program centered around "Grange Day," as discussed in the National Grange Monthly for February. Mrs. Henry Walker gave a review of the article, which was followed by short reports on "How our Grange can observe Grange Day" by Will Crabtree, Mrs. Mary Crabtree, and Bobby Parlier. After some open discussion, Master Henry Walker appointed Mrs. Reid Roberts to head a planning committee to formulate plans by the next meeting for the observance of the day.

The Grange also voted to offer a prize of $1 for the best essay on "How Our Grange Can Observe Grange Day," to be written by any Grange member under 18 years of age. Essays must be from 100 to 200 words in length, and must be handed in before or by next regular meeting, April 5.

Two members were absent because of illness, Rev. S. W. DuBose of Hillsboro has been ill for some time. Mrs. Minnie Cheek, of the community, is at home recovering from an operation.

On February 17, this Grange enjoyed a barbecue supper. Several visitors were present, among them being Deputy State Master Crouse Jones, County Deputy G. O. Reitzel and Mrs. Reitzel.

During the evening Deputy Master Jones publicly installed the officers for 1945, with impressive ceremony.

Four new members were added: Mrs. Dorothy Arms, L. H. Cox, Roger Woods, Jr., and R. M. Hill. These were given the obligation and instructed in the secret works of the order by Jones.

The county commissioners met last Monday morning in the county accountant's office at Hillsboro and approved war bonuses for county officials and employees as set up by the state legislature.

J. H. Hanner was reappointed as a member of the board of welfare to serve two years from April 1. The commissioners received a report from W. T. Mattox on the rejections, acceptances and revisions of OAA and ADC, and Miss W. Byars, home agent, submitted her narrative report to the Miss Byars' report showed the total market sales for February to be $2,836.62, an increase of $778.12 over the same month last year. The report revealed that a seller on the market, Mrs. Henry Tapp, had dropped out more than five ter and greatly appreciated homemade bread and other articles that attract new customers.

Miss Myrtle Ivey has some competition from two other sellers this season with her forced jonquils. Forced pussy willow, jasmine, forsythia and pear blossoms have added much color to the market during the winter months.

According to Miss Byars' report, a number of people are making repairs to their homes and some are planning new ones.

The Foster Tapps of the New Hope community have remodeled their home since Christmas. The upstairs was insulated and provision for storage made so both the boys and girls have separate quarters.
