Dairymen Re-elect Two Board Members

Chapel Hill.—At the second annual meeting of the Farmers Dairy Cooperative of Orange, Durham and Chatham counties in Chapel Hill Thursday, Henry Hogan of Orange county and C. H. Lutterloh of Chatham county were re-elected to the board of directors of the association.

Immediately after the meeting the board of directors met and elected for a second term W. W. Fitzpatrick, manager of Quail Roost, president; C. H. Lutterloh, vice-president; and Henry S. Hogan, secretary-treasurer.

An important feature of the membership meeting was a discussion of plans to originate a herd improvement program, working with the North-Carolina Dairy Extension Service. Lt. Col. George B. Cline, manager of the association, referring to the program said, "This would include the employment of a field worker for the association who would do butterfat testing and record keeping on the dairy herds of members so as to eliminate unprofitable milking cows. Also, through the efforts of the field worker better care and feeding methods as well as the health of the milk cows would be supervised and controlled."

This plan was endorsed by the members and will go into effect sometime this year.

Chancellor R. B. House welcomed the association. Short talks were given by Commissioner of Agriculture Kerr Scott; J. W. Cummings, Guilford College, president of the Guilford Dairy Cooperative at Greensboro; Mose Kiser, manager of the Greensboro Dairy Cooperative; C. L. Petrey, president of the Farmers Cooperative Dairy, Winston-Salem; J. V. Whitaker, manager of the State Milk Producers Federation; Prof. W. L. Clevenger, State College Dairy Extension Service; and John Sprunt Hill, a member of the local organization from Durham.

Arrangements for the meeting were made by Lt. Col. George B. Cline, who has been with the association since December, 1944, when he was discharged from the Army. He has just been presented the Army commendation award "for outstanding performance of duty and meritorious service."

The Cooperative has under construction a new plant located at the corner of West Franklin and Roberson streets. H. L. Coble, general contractor from Greensboro, is doing the work.

That is making one ditch in the middle of the road, pushing all the mud out on each side, filling up the side ditch so the water will have more space to run.

Negro Found 'Not Guilty' Of Larceny

Chapel Hill.—Judge Henry Whitfield gave a verdict of not guilty in the case charging Walter Farrington, Chapel Hill Negro, with larceny of $180 from Dee Baldwin, Negro, also of Chapel Hill, in a trial before recorder's court Tuesday.

Evidence presented at the trial showed Farrington spent the night with Baldwin after the two had spent the day cutting trees and quaffing a couple of jugs of "Sweet Lucy" wine. The following morning, Baldwin related on the witness stand, he awoke to find his wallet with $180 dollars missing from its usual position under his pillow.

On the stand the defendant stated Baldwin had remarked that he might have lost his wallet up-town. He also said he had lived with Baldwin when he was sick and had an opportunity to take amounts of money from him if he had so desired.

Judge Whitfield rendered a verdict of not guilty for lack of evidence.

Other cases were taken up and disposed of as follows:

Sallie Ingram, Negro, assault with a deadly weapon, nol-prossed. Sallie Ingram and Helen Baldwin, Negroes, affray, 30 days in jail, suspended two years on good behavior and payment of costs.

Ross Beal, drunkenness, fined $5 and costs. Ernest Farrar, Negro, drunkenness, 30 days on roads, suspended on good behavior for one year and payment of costs.

Oren Stephens and Archie Stephens, soldiers, damage to property, drunkenness and threatening the life of Mrs. Charlie Merritt. Adjudged guilty of drunkenness and damage, and fined $25 and costs plus payment of property damages in sum of $20.

George Obby, Negro, speeding, $5 and costs. Henrietta Gleickman, speeding, $10 and costs.

James Baldwin, Negro, drunkenness, three months in jail.

David Green, Ed Gibbs, and Sam Baldwin, affray and disorderly conduct, six months each on the county roads.

Poultryman Says 'Cull Out, But Don't Sell Out'

In a poultry school for farmers of Durham, Orange and surrounding counties, held in Durham last Friday, C. F. Parrish, extension poultryman, pointed out that the critical time poultrymen are having now with the price of feed advancing and the price of eggs getting lower, would not last more than four or five weeks. He gave the following recommendations:

1. Carry on a strict culling campaign and take out all hens that seem to be low producers.
2. Get quality sexed baby chicks.
3. Make arrangements to supplement commercial feed with green feed each day.
4. Prepare now for putting the pullets on clean range shelters as soon as they are ready to leave the brooder house.
5. Don't get panicky and sell out—the demand for eggs will be normal in a few weeks.

Orange county school principals decided at a meeting last Thursday in Hillsboro to form an organization to be known as the United Principals Association. This was done in line with the new statewide NCEA program, and will take the place of the Orange County School Masters Club which was not reorganized this year.

Officers elected at Thursday's meeting were E. F. Cude, principal of Aycock, president; Mrs. L. R. Sturdivant, principal of Carrboro, vice-president; and Mrs. Lelia Morrison, principal of White Cross, secretary-treasurer.

C. W. Davis, supervisor of the city system, and Fred Claytor, superintendent of the county system, were elected honorary members of the UPA.

An offering will be taken which will go to the United Council of Church Women to be used by them in their work throughout the world.

Aldermen Approve Sewer Contract

Chapel Hill.—The town board of aldermen, Thursday, Feb. 21, voted unanimously in favor of authorizing the mayor and town manager to sign a contract with Gilbert C. White, consultant engineer of Durham, for the survey and plans necessary in the sewer and incinerator expansion that the town is now considering.

Funds for this preliminary survey are being provided through a contract recently signed with the Federal Works Agency. This contract makes $8,900 available for the sewage survey and plans, and allows $1,800 toward the same direction on the incinerator project. This fund will be repaid the government agency in the event the work is done, as planned, under the survey. If the improvements and expansion are not carried out, the $10,700 then becomes an outright grant and never has to be repaid.

Collier Cobb, Jr., attending the meeting in his capacity as vice-chairman of the University building committee, told the board that the trustees of the school had unanimously agreed upon the pressing needs for improvement and expansion of the town's sewer system, and with this in mind the

X-Ray Survey To Be Made In Hillsboro

Miss Elizabeth Lovell, of the tri-county health department office in Chapel Hill, announced here this week that an X-ray survey will be made in the community the first week in March, from the 4th to the 8th. X-rays will be made in West Hillsboro the first part of the week, later, in Hillsboro at the Agricultural building across the street from the high school.

Pictures may be made through the clothes, Miss Lovell emphasized, and checking will be made for other abnormalities, such as enlarged heart, spinal or rib deformities, as well as for tuberculosis. Any resident of Orange is eligible for this service free of charge, and results will be kept confidential.

The second week in March the survey will be conducted from Chapel Hill.

Previously, members had expressed dissatisfaction with the type material being supplied, but Monday's meeting eliminated further construction delays on that score.

Aldermen Approve Sewer Contract

trustees promise their utmost efforts toward finding funds to defray half of the cost of the project under consideration.

Dr. H. G. Baity of the University faculty said that the present plant was now operating at over 100 per cent of its assigned capacity and added that with the continuing expansion of the University and town it is absolutely imperative to go ahead speedily with the expansion.

Alderman Hobbs made the suggestion that since a bond issue would be necessary to cover the town's part of the costs involved in this project, it would be a good idea to assess the needs of the town for the immediate future in other directions, such as street and sidewalk improvement and group all the needs in one bond issue.

Town Manager Hinson read a recommendation from the town zoning board which approved the inclusion of the east side of Columbia street between Rosemary and North streets in the business zone. Mayor Madry said that official action would be taken on this at the next meeting of the board, after all property owners on that block had been notified of the proposed change.

He stated that the Chapel Hill Rotary Club and other civic organizations would be asked to participate in the campaign.

Deaths

STERLING BROWNING

Sterling Browning, 77, died Monday afternoon in Watts hospital. He suffered a cerebral hemorrhage Thursday, causing his death.

Mr. Browning, the son of the late Andrew and Elizabeth Cain Browning, was married to Miss Mary Lockhart, who preceded him in death by several years. Mrs. Browning was the daughter of the late Levi and Martha Lockhart. Mr. Browning had spent most of his life as a farmer and was still residing on the old Cain plantation, which had belonged to his great-grandfather.

Surviving Mr. Browning are ten children, four sons, Philip D. and Alton C. of Greensboro, H. Conway of New York city, and Paul L. Browning of Durham; six daughters, Mrs. R. A. Funeral services were conducted from the Pleasant Green Methodist church Tuesday afternoon at 4:30 with the Rev. D. G. Smiley and the Rev. H. C. Smith officiating. Interment was in the church cemetery.

MRS. M. D. ADAMS

Mrs. Martha Ann Dezerne Adams, 87, of Hillsboro, Rt. 3, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. L. M. Walker, Sunday night at 9 o'clock. She had been ill for three days, and a complication of diseases caused death.

She was the daughter of the late James and Sallie Hatch and a widow of the late William Henry Adams.

She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. L. M. Walker of Hillsboro, Rt. 3, and Mrs. J. G. Comp-ton of Burlington; ten grandchildren and 13 great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock from Walker's Funeral Home in Hillsboro. The Rev. W. H. Poole and the Rev. S. F. Nicks were in charge. Interment followed in the Hillsboro Cemetery.

W. S. ELLIS

Chapel Hill.—William Stephen Ellis, 42, resident of Duke's Chapel community, died Monday afternoon at 3:50 o'clock in a Durham hospital. A complication of diseases following a prolonged period of declining health was the cause of his death.

Mr. Ellis was born and reared in Orange county, the son of Charles H. and Minnie Cates Ellis. He was educated in the Orange county schools. He moved to Durham in 1915 and had lived there since.

In 1928 the married Miss Maggie Lee of Durham, who survives as do two daughters, Mrs. Clyde Revell of Durham and Miss Minnie Frances Ellis of the home; one son, Clarence R. Literature, blanks and posters were distributed to chairmen at a meeting of the Orange county Red Cross at the library Tuesday night. The campaign will officially get underway in the county March 10.

According to chairmen, the next meeting of workers will be held in Hillsboro March 18, one week after the campaign is underway, in order to tally receipts to date.

Although the Chapel Hill-Carrboro quota in the Red Cross Fund drive, which opens here Friday following President Truman's radio address and the national kick-off Thursday night, is only $6,000 the amount which will be spent on Red Cross services and activities in these two communities next year will be $6,275.

The explanation is this: The local chapter has a surplus of approximately $3,275 from last year's over-the-top drive. So all it is necessary to raise this time is $3,000 for the local fund and a matching $3,000 for the national fund, or less than the total to be spent here next year.

However, the local chapter has lost two of its biggest sources of revenue in the Pre-Flight School and the Munitions Plant, and Campaign Chairman R. M. Grumman estimates that each donor's contribution would need to average about three-fourths of last year's to go over the top again.

As Chairman Grumman sums up: "The local chapter will spend $275 more actual money in Chapel Hill and Carrboro next year than the $6,000 it has for its goal. The total services will also be worth many times the $6,000, because this sum will be multiplied by the services of several hundred volunteer workers."

W. Hill Ladies To Form Club

An invitation is extended to everyone, particularly the women of West Hillsboro, to attend the organization meeting of a home demonstration club in West Hillsboro. The meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Crawford Thursday night, Feb. 28, at 7:30 o'clock. The topic to be discussed at this time is "Homestead Planning."

Slides showing the location of buildings, walks, driveways, and trees have been prepared by John H. Harris, extension horticulturist at State College. These slides will be of interest to those planning to do any landscaping around their home.

Since spring is just around the corner, it is time to be planning front yards with lawn and flowers. The flowers should be planned so that there is a nice arrangement of color all through the summer.

Kennel Club To Hold Trials

The Durham Kennel Club, Inc., held its February meeting yesterday at the Forest Hills club house at 8 p.m. A forum on "dog care" was led by local veterinarians.

It was announced at the meeting that the annual field trial for all pointing dogs will be held March 3 at the farm of Dr. Hans Lowenbach, one-fourth mile south on highway 54 beyond its intersection with highway 55. The trial is scheduled for 10 a.m. sharp.

Entries will be open to all bird dogs owned or kenneled in Durham and Orange counties. Dogs do not have to be registered in AKC or FDSB.

Each dog will be judged on the same basis, that is, on finding and handling of birds, speed and range.

Hugh Whitted, Dr. E. R. Tyler and R. H. Johnson will be the judges. The trials will be single course, 30-minute heats, and the drawing will take place March 2 at 8 p.m. on the mezzanine of the Washington Duke hotel.

PARISH SUPPER TO BE MONDAY NIGHT

The annual parish supper of the St. Matthew's Episcopal Church will be held Monday night in the Masonic building at 7 o'clock. A Brunswick stew supper, prepared by Walter Farrisbault, will be served by members of the Eastern Star. The O.E.S. will also serve delicious cake and coffee which they will prepare. All members of the church are urged to come and enjoy the occasion.

Those planning to attend are asked to notify Miss Elizabeth Collins, Mrs. Marjorie Roberts, or Mrs. James Webb.
