Pastor Quits For Church In Johnston

Carrboro.—The Rev. William H. Poole, for the past seven years the pastor of the Carrboro Baptist church, brought his pastorate to a close on Sunday, December 29. The Rev. Mr. Poole resigned the Carrboro church in order to accept the pastorate of the Pisgah Baptist church of Smithfield.

The Rev. Mr. Poole became pastor of Carrboro Baptist church on January 1, 1940. The church has made progress during Mr. Poole's ministry here. There have been approximately 150 additions to the church membership; all indebtedness on the property has been paid, and many improvements have been made to the church plant. A parsonage was bought, and gifts have more than doubled during the last seven years. The church has recently undertaken the support of a missionary to China in addition to its regular support of the mission program.

A new heating plant has been ordered for the church building, and a successful campaign has been begun for a pipe organ.

The services of John H. Brinegar have recently been secured as part-time director of religious education.

The church recently held a reception in honor of the Rev. and Mrs. Poole, at which time they were presented with a complete set of silverware in their chosen pattern.

SURPRISE PARTY

Carrboro.—J. R. Evans was given a surprise birthday celebration on New Year's day by members of his family. Mr. Evans was duly appreciative of the large and attractive birthday cake with candles and all the trimmings.

North Carolina Girls Win Awards as Junior Growers

NORTH CAROLINA junior growers were named winners of two sectional championships and four state awards among members of the National Junior Vegetable Growers Association as the organization gathered in Boston for its 12th annual three-day convention.

Miss Simmons Miss Terry

Lois Arlene Simmons, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Simmons of route 1, Mt. Airy, and Mildred Terry, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Terry of route 2, Durham, each received $100 from the $6,000 in scholarships provided by A & P Food Stores for the competitive production and efficient marketing of vegetables.

Four state awards of $10 each went to Sheldon Murdock, 14, route 1, Troutman; Johnnie R. Howell, 17, Pikeville; Mildred Jester, 18, of route 3, Durham, and Herman Hecht, 16, of route 2, Norlina. Winner of the national championship and a $500 A & P scholarship is Jim Spell, 17, of Columbia, Miss. Results were announced at Boston by Prof. Grant S. Snyder of Massachusetts State College, adult advisor for the young vegetable growers.

Miss Simmons' four-acre garden project produced 23 kinds of vegetables plus enough cane for 30 gallons of syrup. The estimated value of the produce was $695, costing $179.79 including 198 hours of her time.

Miss Terry's one-acre garden grew crops worth $593.10 used at home or sold. She canned 980 quarts of vegetables to add to the family's food supply.

Valedictorian of her high school class, she was named most outstanding citizen in high school and has enrolled in a Durham business school.
