University By The Sea Offers Varied Program

Winning Essays In Clean-Up Campaign Contest Are Printed

During the clean-up campaign in Hillsboro, an essay contest was held in the white and Negro schools. The winning essays in the white division are printed below. Next week, The News will print the winners in the Negro division.

In the high school J. D. Turner won first place with the following essay:

CLEANLINESS AND CITIZENSHIP

Cleanliness is a subject on which this town needs a good lecturing. This doesn't mean that the people go around dirty, because most people know that with a cake of soap and a little water they can keep their bodies and clothes clean. Some people do forget, however, that there are other things besides themselves to keep clean. Most of us keep ourselves and our homes clean, but as for our surroundings we forget that there is such a thing. Everyone should help, at least, to keep their hometown clean and a fit place in which to live.

Cleanliness leads to another subject which is citizenship. In order to be a good citizen one has to be alert to the cleanliness of his surroundings. When you have cups or other paper things that you are finished with try not to litter the streets with them. The town has garbage cans and other means of disposals on the streets for your trash. So I think every one should try to be a good citizen and keep his town clean.

This is often forgotten by school children while they are eating candy or drinking from paper cups. A lot of young people going to schools go to town for their lunch and on the way back they throw their paper on the streets. This makes a clear path back to the school. It doesn't show very good citizenship for them because they are littering the streets in front of homes and it leaves a very bad appearance. Most families try to keep their yards clean and this doesn't help them. So in order to be a good citizen there is one way in which to help, keep your trash and put it in a waste can.

In the elementary grades Douglas Woods, sixth grade, won first place with the following essay:

A CLEANER HILLSBORO

We, the children of Hillsboro, think it's a grand idea to clean up this old historic town. Clean communities promote healthier living, beautiful surroundings and finer citizens. Our future government depends on the present and future training of this young generation. A clean town prevents the breeding and spreading of contagious diseases. For instance, an old garbage pail with no lid may breed flies and mosquitos which in turn may bite a person and carry germs. So the wisest thing to do is to keep lids on tight and have it emptied as soon as possible.

Too, what's more beautiful than a clean yard and streets with flowers growing in these yards. So come on folks and let's beautify this grand old town and make it the prettiest in North Carolina.

Unpredictable Duke-Carolina Sports Classic Scheduled Saturday

Some 56,500 football fans will overflow Duke university stadium Saturday afternoon to watch Duke university and the University of North Carolina Tar Heels continue one of the nation's oldest and most terrific grid rivalries. It has been a sell-out since August.

The Duke stadium built in 1929 has a normal seating capacity of 35,000 but by the use of bleachers this number has been increased to 56,500. The crowd which will watch this game, continuing a rivalry which started back in the spring of 1889, has grown in interest as the two institutions have grown in size, prestige and football strength.

Morehead Planetarium Cornerstone Laying To Attract Distinguished Guests

Chapel Hill—A distinguished delegation from North Carolina and out of the state will witness the cornerstone laying of the Morehead Planetarium and Art Gallery building to be held at the University of North Carolina here Saturday, November 29, at 11 o'clock.

Now under construction, the building, including the planetarium and a rare collection of objects of art, are a gift to the university from John Motley Morehead of Rye, N. Y., native North Carolinian, internationally known scientist, industrialist, and former minister to Sweden.

In addition to Mr. Morehead and a party of 14 from New York, notable guests at the exercises will be Governor William M. Tuck of Virginia; Edward R. Stettinius, former Secretary of State, who will attend as a member of the University of Virginia's governing board; President Colgate W. Darden of the University of Virginia, and Governor R. Gregg Cherry of North Carolina.

Mr. Morehead and his party, from New York will arrive in Greensboro Friday morning, November 28, and will proceed to Chapel Hill by chartered bus.

Following lunch at the Carolina Inn, the group will be taken on a sightseeing tour of the university here and Duke university, after which they will be entertained at tea by Duke officials at "Four Acres," home of Norman Cocke.

Returning to Chapel Hill Friday night they will visit the university's new communication center at broadcast hour.

Chancellor Robert B. House will preside at the cornerstone exercises at the building site Saturday morning. Dr. Howard E. Rondthaler, president of Salem college, will give the invocation, after which Mr. Morehead will make the presentation with Chancellor House accepting on behalf of the administration and faculty; Tom Eller, president of the student body, on behalf of the students, and Judge John J. Parker for the university trustees.

The program will be concluded with the playing of "Dixie" by the university band, especially requested by Mr. Morehead.

Following a buffet luncheon in the Pine Room at Lenoir Hall, the visitors will be guests of the university at the Carolina-Virginia football game, after which there will be a recital on the Morehead-Patterson Bell Tower chimes.

Hillsboro Closes Grid Season With .500 Average For Year

Altrusa Club Hears Report On Convention

Chapel Hill—Meeting Tuesday night for dinner at the Carolina Inn, the recently organized Altrusa club of Chapel Hill was occupied with business details incidental to launching a new group and with a report by Miss Kathryn Cook, secretary, from the conference in Washington, D. C., of the second district of the International Association of Altrusa Clubs, which she attended recently as a delegate from the local unit.

The club decided to meet the second and fourth Wednesday nights for dinner and will start this schedule November 26.

Mrs. Jean McAlpin Heer, president, announced the following standing committees appointed by her and the board of directors to serve until July:

Program coordinator, Miss Mildred Mooneyhan; vocational guidance, Miss Elizabeth Branson; Mrs. Bruce Strowd; Miss Ruth Hay; publicity, Mrs. Strowd; historian, Mrs. Irene Lee; constitution and by-laws, Mrs. Bayard Wooten and Mrs. Lee; finance, Mrs. W. M. Fugh, Mrs. E. C. Sutton, Mrs. B. L. Smith.

Hillsboro high school football team closed out its 1947 season by dropping a 39-20 decision to Henderson before 2,800 fans Thursday night in Henderson.

The defeat, the fourth of the season for Hillsboro, left the team with a .500 average, having defeated Asheboro, Graham, Roxboro and Bragtown and losing to Chapel Hill, Durham, Oxford and Henderson.

"The season was considered successful," Grady Brown, high school principal, said this week in pointing out that Hillsboro won the games it expected to—with the lone exception of the Chapel Hill encounter—and lost the games in which it entered as underdog.

Coach Joe Caruso's Bulldog eleven took an early lead on three touchdowns by Fullback Billy Williams, and then coasted along with reserves until the visitors struck back in the final quarter to narrow the margin.

Williams scored on a 17-yard slash off tackle for the first Bulldog tally, and only three plays later he took a Hillsboro punt and galloped 68 yards to a touchdown. Williams scored again in the second quarter on a three-yard plunge through the line. Hillsboro's first touchdown came near the end of the first half on a 26-yard pass from Howerton to Wicker. Henderson led at the half, 26-6.

Johnny Thomas ran 30 yards to set up a Henderson touchdown in the third period, and scored a moment later from six yards out. Quarterback Clyde Enscoe passed to End George Enscoe for the final Bulldog touchdown in the fourth period.

Hillsboro rallied in the final period to score twice, on a 24-yard pass from Newman to Howerton and a 19-yard pass from Parker to Howerton.
