Rent Ceilings In Effect 'til March 1949

Chapel Hill—Under the new Housing and Rent Act of 1948, rent controls will be continued in effect through March 31, 1949, it has been announced by Forrest A. Pollard, local area rent director.

There is no automatic change in rent ceilings and for most tenants their maximum rents under the new law are the same as those which were in effect on last June 30, with the following exceptions: (1) where a landlord and tenant have voluntarily entered into a written lease increasing the rent up to 15 per cent; (2) where the local rent office has issued an individual adjustment order changing the rent; or (3) where the Housing Expediter has approved a general increase in the rent level in portion of an area in response to a recommendation of a local Rent Advisory Board.

Tenants who have not signed voluntary leases increases are protected through March 31, 1949. The new law gives landlords the right to enter into new lease agreements with tenants, at a maximum rent which is no more than 15 per cent above the original ceiling.

The law specifies that a tenant may be evicted for the following reasons: (1) if the landlord or a member of his immediate family wishes to occupy the quarters, (2) if the landlord has contracted to sell the place, (3) if the landlord wishes to demolish or alter the structure, (4) if the landlord seeks to withdraw from the rental market, (5) if housing accommodations were acquired by the State for temporary use until the construction of permanent buildings, (6) if a non-profit, religious, charitable, or educational institution owns the place and wishes to use it for housing staff members.

No tenant may be forced to leave until 60 days after he has received a written eviction notice, unless the tenant has not paid the rent, is violating the tenancy obligations, or is creating a nuisance. In those cases the time limit before eviction is governed by local law.

$3,500 Worth Of Liquor Confiscated

A tractor-trailer truck valued at about $10,000 and $3,500 worth of bonded whiskey was confiscated early Wednesday morning when Orange County sheriff's officers and an S.B.I. agent raided a truck about 400 yards from the Durham-Orange County line across Highway 70 from the Log Cabin filling station.

W. H. Barbee is free under bond of $500 on a charge of possession of illegal whiskey for the purpose of sale, and James Waddell, 34, of Burlington, operator of the truck, is being held in the Orange County jail in Hillsboro, on a charge of illegal possession and transporting non-tax paid whiskey for sale. Trial of both is scheduled in Orange County Recorder's Court Monday.

A total of 130 cases of whiskey was discovered in the truck and 24 cases of liquor in Barber's home. The whiskey in the truck was being transferred to Barber's home in an old Army truck, which was also confiscated in the raid.

Sheriff Sam Latta said it was the largest amount of government whiskey ever taken in a raid in Orange County.

Orange County officers participating in the raid were Sheriff Latta, Rainey Roberts and Odell Clayton.

Loan Drive Is Opened In Orange

Chapel Hill—"Because Russia is looking forward to our economic collapse, we must show her our economic solidarity and prove to them we are backing our government," said Security Loan officials in opening the drive to promote the sale of Series E, F, and G Bonds which will continue through June 30.

The Security Loan drive is the first of these bond drives since the war ended. The last drive, held before World War II victory, was the Victory Loan—Orange County's quota for Series E bonds is $195,000; and series E, F, and G quota combined is $310,000.

Town officials for the Security Loan drive are W. E. Thompson, chairman of the men's division; Mrs. S. C. Leavitt, chairman of the women's division; and Mrs. W. E. Hamrick, vice-chairman of rural districts in Orange County.

The only change in the 1948 Security Loan drive is that tax reductions and limit buying on Series E Savings Bonds have been raised from $5,000 maturing value to $10,000 maturing value. There is no change in the manner in which the holdings will be computed. The new provision simply doubles the amount.

U. S. Savings Bonds are security bonds. Individuals provide for their own individual security when they invest in U. S. Savings Bonds, and at the same time they help to maintain the economic security of our country. Funds reserved by homes, education of their children, millions of American families mean emergency funds, and old age security. They mean that millions of American families are themselves investors—"capitalists"—guiding their own future and the future of the Nation.

The Security Loan Drive, the keynote of which is "Retard Inflation," is asking the assistance of bankers, civic clubs, industrialists, radio stations, newspapers, and retailers in furthering this most important bond drive since the war.

Officials are requesting that every citizen buy at least one bond each month. "The U. S. will have to be strong financially—individually and in the government. We must hold inflation down so that our money will mean something. The idea now is to get everyone to refrain from buying and spending, purchase security bonds and thereby invest money for their own security," said Security Loan officials at a recent State meeting in Raleigh to regional and county Loan chairmen.

Community Athletic Council Asset In Chapel Hill Area

By JACK DEVORE

Among the group of civic organizations in the town of Chapel Hill is one that has done a fine job of improving the school life of the boys and girls attending the public High School. This organization is called the Community Athletic Council.

The council was organized in 1943 for the express purpose of supplying the High School with badly needed athletic equipment and for promoting athletic contests, free of charge, between the Chapel Hill High School and high schools of other towns throughout the State. Before the council was established, the High School could obtain only second hand athletic equipment from the University. As was natural, Chapel Hill being a University town, there was partially shown to the University itself, and the High School was left pretty much alone, as regards donations and appropriations. Now, however, athletic council acts primarily as the financing agent for the school by supplementing the funds donated by the University and other organizations.

Twelve members make up the athletic council, six from the Kiwanis Club and six from the Rotary Club. The chairman of the council is appointed by the president of either club; that is, the chairmanship alternates annually between the two clubs. The chairman serves one year and immediately upon taking office appoints the other officers. The officers work on a volunteer basis and the council itself is a non-profit organization.

Although originally organized primarily for the purpose of supplying the high school athletic department with money for buying equipment, the Community Athletic Council at the present time also aids the intramural and varsity. The Community Center and Negro schools also receive aid.

The major portion of the funds which the council receives to give to the High School comes from the sale of banners, flags, Tar Heel pins, etc., at the University home games. These funds are not the total amount that goes to the school. They merely supplement the donations of the University, business men and the American Legion.

Besides aiding the High School in acquiring equipment for all the major sports, as well as for general athletics, the athletic council gives banquets for visiting High School teams and also interests itself with helping to pay medical expenses.

Mr. Y. Z. Cannon is now the chairman of the council, having succeeded Mr. T. B. Creel in the position. Mr. C. M. Oakley is the secretary and Mr. James Davis is the present treasurer. There are about four meetings per year, either at the Carolina Inn or some other location specifically designated.

True, the Community Athletic Council was organized for a fine cause and that cause is reaping dividends. For the people with civic pride a wonderful future can be seen for this organization which evolved from a small group of interested citizens five years ago.
