New Building Code Adopted

Chapel Hill.—The Town of Chapel Hill has a new building code, adopted at a special meeting of the board of directors. It is on public display at the office of Town Manager Gilbert W. ...
It is modeled in most respects after the building code of Durham and was recommended by a special committee composed of Building Inspector P. L. Burch, Town Manager Ray, and Aldermen Ed ...
One important change is that it will be left to the discretion of the building inspector to issue permits for new construction for residential occupancy not exceeding $1,000 in total cost in residence classes A, B, and C, provided satisfactory specifications and bond are submitted. Under the old code architects plans were required, regardless of cost of the dwelling.

Local Woman's Brother Killed by Ex-Employee

Hillsboro.—H. L. Mangum of Salisbury, brother of Mrs. Florence Pearson of Hillsboro, was shot and fatally wounded in the driveway of his home Sunday afternoon.
A former employee, Olin Everheart, is being held on a charge of murder in connection with the shooting.
Funeral services were held Monday in Salisbury.
Mangum died en route to the hospital of three bullet wounds, received a few minutes earlier when his assailant allegedly drove up to the house, engaged in a brief argument with Mangum in his car and fired. Relatives stated there had been a disagreement between the two men previously.
Mangum was a member of the Masonic Lodge and the Methodist church.
Survivors other than the local woman are his wife, Mrs. Blanche Mangum; two sons, H. L. of the home and Junius A. of State College, Raleigh; one daughter, Mrs. Jack D. Turrell of Lexington; a brother, L. A. Mangum of Durham; another sister, Mrs. C. A. Erick of Milwaukee, Wis., and seven grandchildren.

Sandy Graham Returns to Law Practice; Cobb May Get Post

Hillsboro.—A. H. (Sandy) Graham returned to his law office here this week after stepping out as Chairman of the State Highway Commission Tuesday.
The event was signaled by brief ceremonies in the office of Governor Scott in Raleigh when Dr. Henry W. Jordan of Cedar Falls, dentist and industrialist, was sworn in as temporary successor.
Graham's retirement was the result of last year's hot primary campaign in which Governor Scott was highly critical of the administration of the highway department. Although Scott had asked him to remain in office for several months longer, Graham refused and made his resignation effective at the end of the past month.

Social Gatherings With Baptist Pastor Becoming Thursday Evening Habit For Many Students

Chapel Hill.—Tonight about 8 o'clock, a number of University of North Carolina students will begin arriving at 212 West Rosemary Lane in Chapel Hill. What takes place after that is entirely up to them.
While munching cookies or sipping glasses of punch, they may talk about Karl Marx, fraternity life, be-bop or religion. Topics are unlimited and about anything goes.
Listening intently during these highly informal discussions will be the host for the gathering, Dr. Samuel Tilden Habel. In addition to being pastor of Chapel Hill Baptist Church, a post he assumed recently, Dr. Habel is responsible for the spiritual welfare of over 2,000 Baptist students, the largest Protestant denomination represented on the Carolina campus.
"I began these little social get-togethers in my home about a month ago," Dr. Habel said. "Invitations are extended to about 20 young men and women to call at the parsonage once each week. It gives me an opportunity to know the students better, and during

Rotary Visit Opens Scout Week Program

Chapel Hill.—The Scouts of Troop 9 began the celebration of Scout Week just four days early when they went to the meeting of the Rotary Club on Wednesday night.
However, Scout Week activities begin in earnest on Sunday morning when the Scouts will attend the worship services of the churches which sponsor Chapel Hill's two troops. The Scouts of Troop 39 and their scoutmaster, William Hammett, will attend the worship service at the University Methodist Church. The Scouts of Troop 9 and their scoutmaster, S. Y. Tyree, will attend the worship service at the Chapel of the Cross.

At 12:15 Sunday, the Scouts of both troops will meet at the Recreation Center for the flag-raising ceremony which will announce to the public that Scout Week has officially begun.

Sunday night at 8 o'clock at the Congregational Christian Church, James A. Westbrook and Rev. Bernard V. Munger will conduct an Award Court of Honor and a special anniversary service. Scouts Charles Wolf and Robert Linker, the latest Chapel Hill Scouts to receive the Eagle Award, will help in conducting this special service. Munger, who served for three years as Protestant chaplain of the Chicago Area Boy Scout camps, will address the Scouts on "The Discipline Which Leads to Freedom." Parents and friends of the Chapel Hill Scouts are invited to this service.

Monday night at 8 o'clock, in the Town Hall, there will be a public meeting, at which time the motion picture "The Scout Trail to Citizenship" will be shown. In addition to this film, there will be brief reports made concerning the expansion of Scouting activities in Chapel Hill. Leigh Skinner, chairman of the Committee on Cubbing of the Episcopal Church, will report on the Beginnings of a Cub Pack in this community. ### An Appeal

Dear Citizens of Orange County:
The March of Dimes campaign for 1949 has been extended by our State Chairman until the state goal has been met. The need is so acute this year because of the great expense of the polio epidemic last summer. Our quota in the northern section of the county outside of the school campaign is $2,000. We are now far below the attainment of that goal and we can't possibly meet that quota unless you send in your dollars. Won't you please make one final effort to contribute $1 to the March of Dimes? Come on, every wage earner in North Orange, mail me one every dollar and let's meet our part of this campaign. You may save the health and happiness of someone very dear to you. Mail your dollar to Mrs. J. W. Richmond, Hillsboro, N. C.

Yours hopefully,
MRS. J. W. RICHMOND,
March of Dimes Chairman for Hillsboro and Northern Orange.

March of Dimes Drive Continues

"Polio" Benefit Game Scheduled

Chapel Hill.—Although scheduled to close officially on January 31, the March of Dimes drive in North Carolina will continue until the state's quota of $1,000,000 is reached, it was announced here by State Chairman Ralph McDonald.

State headquarters has urged each county chapter to continue the campaign until its quota is "reached and exceeded."

Mrs. Phillips Russell, director of organization, writing to the county directors, said, "It is absolutely essential that at least $1,000,000 be raised in this drive. If it cannot be done within the two weeks time allotted, we must stay with it until it is raised."
"The need for a successful drive in each and every county, city and township cannot possibly be overstated."

Duke Dean Named Hillsboro Lay League Speaker

Hillsboro.—The Laymen's League of Hillsboro will present the Rev. Dr. Harold A. Bosley, dean of the Duke University School of Religion, in an address at the Hillsboro High School auditorium Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Dr. Bosley's topic will be "The Basic Freedom in America." Special Music will be provided by the choir of the Hillsboro Methodist Church under the direction of Mrs. Annie Lockhart.

The Laymen's League is composed of an active group of laymen from the Baptist, Episcopal, Methodist and Presbyterian Churches of Hillsboro. This group sponsors a meeting in the high school auditorium on the first Sunday night of each month at which time outstanding speakers and personalities are provided. The general public is cordially invited and urged to attend these monthly meetings of the Laymen's League.

One-Room School Achieves Record

Hillsboro.—The Merritt School, a one-room school for Negro children on Route 3, Chapel Hill, usually rates A-1 for achievement.

It is being cited this week on two counts, its contribution to the March of Dimes and its perfect attendance record.

With only 36 students enrolled, it raised a total of $81.65 in the polio campaign, which is considered outstanding by school officials and leaders of the drive. Its attendance record consistently high, it achieved a perfect record for the fourth school month.

Mrs. Ethel Staunton Clark of Chapel Hill is the teacher.

attraction which will pit the Exchange Club girls' team against a team composed of Hillsboro business men dressed as girls.

Included among the former Carolina players to appear here will be Jim (Pappy) Hamilton, Jack Fitch, Jim Hayworth, and Fred Swartzberg.

This twin attraction plus the worthiness of the cause for which the games are to be played are expected to bring out a large crowd.

Need Permits For Burning

Hillsboro.—Permits are necessary before burning brush on or near Woodlands between February 1 and June 1 and may be obtained at the following prices, according to Wordie R. Fitzgerald, forest warden.

NO EVENING SERVICES

Hillsboro.—The Rev. Floyd Paschall announced this week that no evening services will be held at West Hillsboro Baptist Church Sunday. Paschall will conduct a baptismal service at West Durham Baptist Church Sunday evening.

Fact-Finders Report Monday

Presbyterians Open Nursery For Worship Hour

Hillsboro.—The Hillsboro Presbyterian Church will begin a nursery during the church worship hour this next Sunday.

Women of the church will care for the pre-school children in the newly completed rooms. Babies will be provided with cribs, bassinets, and play pens while the nursery room for those that can toddle through five years of age will have toys, blocks, picture books, etc. It is hoped that many parents will take advantage of the nursery and the opportunity it affords to attend church.

The nursery will also be used during the Sunday School hour, beginning at 9:45 a. m. as a class room for boys and girls two and three years old. Classes are being formed for smaller age groups throughout the school as quickly as equipment is obtained for their respective rooms. There are at present the Nursery, Beginners for those 4 and 5, Primaries for those 6 through 8, and a Junior and Senior Class. These latter classes will soon be subdivided to make three classes in addition to the Men's and the Women's Bible Classes.

Exchange Teams Play Tonight

Hillsboro.—The Exchange girls' and boys' teams will play host to the strong Danville Independents in the Hillsboro Gym tonight.

The Danville girls have a string of 12 victories on the line for the local contest while the boys' team presents a group of former college stars that are hard to beat.

Monday night the girl Exchange girls will meet Gann Hosiers and the boys will play the Young Men's Shop, of the Durham Commercial League, here. In a former meeting, the Gann girls nosed out the Hillsboro team 25-23. The two boys teams have not met before.

The Young Men's Shop team features such cage luminaries as Garland (Cotton) Loftis, former Duke University ace, and Doug Auson, Duke co-captain of last year. It is the same team that whipped Erwin Auditorium last week by 10 points.

Brother Of Local Man Gets Eulogy Colored Friend Finds Unbelievable

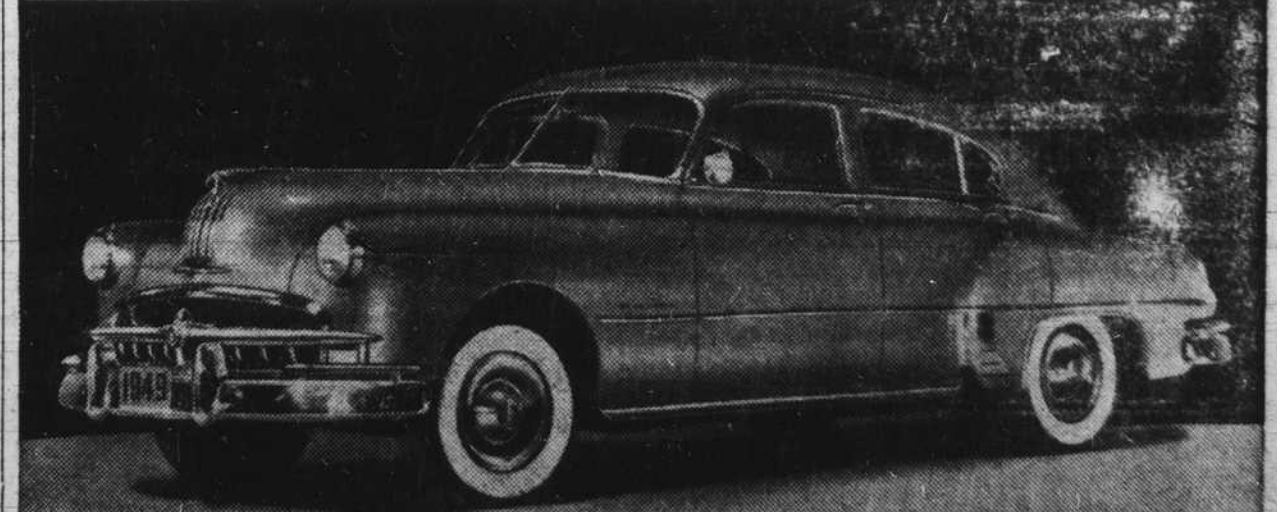

Chapel Hill.—Ernest N. Neville, formerly of Chapel Hill, but for the past 40 years Superintendent of Schools in Monroe, was highly honored recently, the occasion being his retirement from active service in the school system.

Mr. Neville is the brother of Everitt and D. Neville of Chapel Hill. The following is from the Monroe newspaper:

"Neville Day," widely celebrated to honor the superintendent of Monroe city schools for more than 40 years, was the occasion for numerous short talks of eulogy from admirers of this man and were given over the local radio systems. It so happened that an aged colored man who had worked for Mr. Neville for many years was among those who listened in on the radio talks. Deeply impressed and badly depressed over what he heard, he made his way to the funeral chapel and knocking timidly at a back door declared with faltering voice:

"It's come ter see de body!" was his simple explanation.
"What body did you want to see?"
"It's come to see Mistah Neville's body."
"Why, Mr. Neville is not dead. He is very much alive," was the answer.
The Negro squared himself off and with bulging eyes and skeptical countenance he shot out "Does you all mean ter say that aftah all dat talk over the radio he is not dead?"
Again he was reassured.
"Massah sakes Ah pevah heered all dat talk about any man who was still alive!" declared the Negro as he turned around and started back down the street.
This true yarn was made known by Mr. Neville himself and was related by Mr. Neville's nephew, Lindsay Neville of Chapel Hill.
Ernest Neville really has a good sense of humor as his friends here will remember and he did not let the colored man's inquiry upset him in the least.

Pontiac Has Two "New Looks" For 1949

This is the four door deluxe Pontiac sedan in the Streamline series. Forward thrust has been gained by lowering the hood. Body contour is in the modern manner and yet unmistakably Pontiac. Added safety is compounded by reduced pillars and a curved windshield whose gleaming sweep has been increased nearly six inches. Both Pontiac Streamliner and Pontiac Chieftain lines use a 120 inch wheelbase and Hydra-Matic transmissions optional at extra cost.
