Five Students From Orange At Wake Forest

Three of the students are from Hillsboro. They are James Goodwin and Walter Vaughn, juniors, and William Ray, sophomore.

Mary Lee Thompson is a sophomore from Chapel Hill, and Henry Pope a freshman from Cedar Grove.

Three years ago the Smith Reynolds Foundation Fund, valued at around $11,000,000, was added to the resources of the College. This fund was donated on the condition that the College be moved to Winston-Salem and that sufficient funds be raised by 1952 to begin construction of the new college. At the same time a gift from Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Babcock of between 400 and 500 acres of the beautiful Reynolda estate was made available to Wake Forest College as a building site.

Steady progress is being made in securing necessary funds for the building program. More than $2,000,000 in cash is already available.

Cancer Drive Recognition Given By Cline

Chapel Hill.—Orange County went well over its quota of $1,710 for the cancer drive held during the month of April, announced George B. Cline, county drive chairman. The quota was reached even before the drive had been completed. Orange County's chapter of the Cancer Society received favorable state-wide publicity for being one of the three counties to go over the top first.

Col. Cline gave much of the credit for the successful campaign to Mrs. R. E. Studebaker, Mrs. James Snipes, Mrs. Hubert Robinson, and Mrs. W. Carson Ryan. Mrs. Studebaker organized the drive in Carrboro, making the rounds herself to the businesses and through the school. She collected three times as much as had ever been done before. Mrs. Snipes and Mrs. Robinson conducted a most successful campaign in the Negro districts, as they have done in previous years. Mrs. Ryan handled all public information, distributing displays and literature, and conducting tag day, a project carried out by the Girl Scouts and Brownies.

Two of the many services supported by the Cancer Society are the surgical dressing unit, under the direction of Mrs. A. T. Miller, and the Cancer Detection Center at Watts Hospital in Durham. The Center offered free service to all persons over 45 years of age.

Hans Freistadt Affair Stirs Durham, Who Takes Firm Stand On Fellowships

The Hon. Carl Durham of Chapel Hill, this district's representative in Congress, and a member of the Joint Committee of Atomic Energy, last week expressed deep concern over the Atomic Energy Commission's program which heretofore has permitted the awarding of fellowships to students without FBI clearance.

His statement to the House in which he introduced the bill requiring FBI clearance for such recipient will be of considerable interest to his constituents in this county. It follows:

Mr. Speaker: For the past few days we have seen in the press and heard over the radio discussions in regard to the Fellowship Program administered by the Atomic Energy Commission. That program deals with the training of students in the fields of physics, biology, and medicine as well as other branches of science. Under the direction of Senator McClellan, the program was authorized by the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy on January 23, 1949 which committee was headed by Senator Hickenlooper during the 30th Congress, the staff of this committee was authorized to investigate this program in preparation for committee hearings on the subject. A hearing was held on May 5th with the Commission and an open hearing is scheduled for this afternoon at 2:30.

The Commission has taken the position that students who receive this fellowship are not required to have FBI clearance before they are granted such a scholarship. Neither are they obligated in any way for future employment by the Commission. The position taken by the Commission is one that I disagree with. I believe that all students receiving this fellowship should be required to render some service to the Federal Government in return for receiving their education. I am thoroughly aware of the need to train scientists and feel that the program could be of great benefit in providing more and better qualified men for the field of science in which field there is a critical shortage here in America. The Atomic Energy Commission requires FBI clearance of all persons before they are employed by the Commission. Certainly if we are going to train these scientists with the expectation of using them later on I cannot believe it to be a wise policy to train them without FBI clearance first. I do not believe such requirements would trespass on academic freedom. I believe it would have been wise for the Commission to have corrected this which they could have done under the authority of the Atomic Energy Act of 1946.

Certainly I am opposed to education out of public funds who admits that he is a communist as Hans Freistadt has admitted and who has been awarded an Atomic Energy Commission fellowship or to any other person who is not loyal to our form of government. I assure the members of the House that I am going to do everything I can to correct this serious mistake of the Commission, so I am, today, introducing a bill which requires FBI clearance before a person may receive Atomic Energy Commission fellowship. I am deeply interested in the Atomic Energy program and I know of no member of Congress who desires to take any action that would jeopardize the program but I do not intend to sit idly by and see the program destroyed by infiltration of communists.

Interested in Orange County? Then read The News of Orange County for items of interest from all sections. It's reported factual- ly, true and without color or bias.

The campaign to secure passage of the two proposed bond issues for roads and schools continued in Orange County this week with Director John W. Umstead Jr. personally spearheading the drive in all sections of the county.

Last night at Chapel Hill, Capus Waynick, state Democratic chairman and nominee for the post of ambassador to Nicaragua, spoke to a group at the Chapel Hill elementary school in the only county-wide meeting thus far scheduled with an outside speaker. Umstead spoke to Schley Grange Tuesday night and will conduct a meeting at White Cross tomorrow night. Other meetings will be held at Effland, Cedar Grove and St. Mary's at times to be announced later.

There appeared to be little change in the county-wide alignment for and against the issues, with the rural areas apparently lining up strongly in favor of the program to issue $200,000,000 in bonds to improve secondary roads and the municipal residents generally cool or opposed to the issue. Little opposition has been noted to the school issue.

In an effort to take the campaign into the homes of the county Umstead called upon school principals to assist in sponsoring a letter writing contest among the school children. Details were contained in a letter addressed to the principals yesterday as follows:

"As Director of the Campaign for Bonds for Better Roads and Schools I am asking that you cooperate with me in putting on a letter writing contest.

"The letters are to be directed to me and the subject of the letters is 'Why my parents should vote for Bonds for Better Roads and Better Schools in the election to be held June 4th.'

"The first prize will be $7.50; the second prize will be $5.00, and the third prize $2.50.

"The committee of judges to award the prizes will be E. J. Hamlin, Editor of the News of Orange County, Don Matheson, County Agent, and C. K. McAdams.

"Each pupil in the schools of Orange County may submit a letter of not more than 300 words to the principal of the school they attend.

"The principal will then read the letters and select the five best letters to be submitted to the above named committee for the final selection of the winners.

"The pupils may get information from any source available. As director of this campaign I will leave with each teacher some information that they may use. They may also get information from their parents or other relatives but the letters should be written by the pupils themselves.

"The letters should be in the hands of the teachers not later than Monday, May 30. The teachers should get the five letters from their school to me not later than Thursday, June 2. Winners will be announced in the News of Orange County the week following the election.

"The letters will be judged from the standpoint of reasons given for voting for bonds, neatness and expression. Letters should be written only on one side of the sheet of paper and may be written with either pencil, pen or typewriter. They must be signed and carry the address of the writer."
