> Senator Frank P. Graham couldn't make it to his county's rally, but Nominee Willis Smith could, and the reception accorded him as the second place feature of the program, after fervent appeals for party harmony by preceding speakers, offered little indication that Democrats in great numbers will scratch the name of the bitterly opposed Democratic Senatorial nominee from their ballots on November 7.

> While Smith's reception, if any thing, was less warm than was accorded such sid Demo "friends" unstead and Car Congress, it was attributed to being personnally unknown to crowd, by and large, and a natural personal reserve. He was intro-duced by Hillsboro's A. H. "Sandy" Graham as an "old friend," a man who had rendered valuable service to North Carolina in many capacities, and a man who would grow in the respect of Orange County citizens as his forthcoming Senate term progressed.

Smith was seated on the platform which included the former Congressman and Senator, Umstead, Congression Carl Durham, of Eurlington, Sandy Graham, Treasurer and Teller respectively of the Hillshero Building and Judge L. J. Phipps, County Chair-Loan Association. The Keys, natives and recent residents of Mt. man R. O. Forrest, Rep John W. Umstead and Pres James Farlow of the Orange YDC who was master of ceremonies

> Umstead's remarks comme Orange County for its government which he termed as the best in North Carolina during his 24 years of experience in observing it, and commended the Democratic slate of officers for the support of the ssembled party members.

He cited the Democratic party's record in National affairs and saw it as the best force to combat the encroachment of Communism in this country and the world. He described it as the party of "action" and called upon his listperiment in inter-club and inter- of admissions.
