

Radio Station Proposed Here

Merchants Tell Christmas Plans, Street Decorations

Chapel Hill — The Chapel Hill-Carrboro Merchants Association in their regular meeting this week heard the details for a proposed radio station to be opened here in the near future.

Roy Cox, owner of the Asheville Courier Tribune and owner of a radio station there and his manager, Bob Marlowe, were present at the meeting and told the merchants that they expect to operate a 1000 watt, 12-14 hour a day station. They plan to carry United Press news releases every hour.

At the same meeting, the merchants approved a resolution to the North Carolina Merchants Association asking for a change in the Regulation W. This regulation now requires all time payments on merchandise to be completed within 15 months. The merchants in their letter to NCMA asked for action to extend the time to 24 months.

Fred Blake, Jr. Invited To Play In Optimist Bowl

Hillsboro — Fred Blake, Jr., center for the Hillsboro High School football team, has been invited to play with other outstanding Seniors from North Carolina high schools in the Optimist Bowl game at High Point on Thanksgiving Day.

Young Blake will leave here Sunday for High Point to practice with the team until Thanksgiving. The Optimist Bowl is an East-West senior high school classic sponsored by the Optimist Club and the Mercury Athletic Club of High Point. The game, now in its fourth year pits selected squads of All-Stars from the Eastern and Western portions of the State with the tutoring done by four high school coaches. The selections were made by the North State coaches who are to direct the teams this year, Garland Causey of Goldsboro and E. E. "Knocker" Adkins of Rocky Mount for the East and Chuck Clements of Gastonia and Toby Webb of Albemarle for the West. Most of the players will come from schools with AAAA rating. Blake is the only one from this section.

Blake has been an outstanding player for Hillsboro all year, playing in every minute of every game since the first half of the opening game with Durham. Center on offense and line backer on defense, Blake was said by his coach not to have made a bad pass from center all year. In scholastic work, he is a straight-A student.

Street Names Committee To Plan Possible Changes

Empty Stocking Fund Campaign Planned To Spread Christmas Cheer In Orange

Chapel Hill — An "Empty Stocking Fund" campaign, to bring Christmas cheer to destitute families here and throughout Orange County, is being inaugurated by the Junior Service League, which plans to make the drive an annual affair. Mrs. Maurice E. Newton is general chairman of the project.

Mrs. Newton said today that there would be no personal solicitation but that contributions would be asked of civic clubs, churches and other community organizations all over the county.

Individuals wishing to help may mail cash contributions to Orange County Empty Stocking Fund, Box 374, Chapel Hill. Clothing, food, and toys are also acceptable and should be sent or taken to the county welfare department's office in the Alumni Building on the University campus at least two weeks before Christmas. The clothing and toys do not have to be new but should be in usable condition.

"One thing we want to emphasize," Mrs. Newton said, "is that not one penny will be used for Administrative purposes. All incidental expenses will be paid by the Junior Service League, and all work on the project will be done voluntarily by league members. Also, every family helped will first be thoroughly investi-

School Accident Policy Sales Lag, Two Claims Filed

Hillsboro — Approximately 45 per cent of the Orange County school children have bought school accident insurance, according to Glenn Proffitt, superintendent.

Proffitt, in urging the students to buy the accident insurance, pointed out that two claims have been filed under the policy already. Both were from Hillsboro school students who suffered minor leg injuries from playing football. They were filed on Saturday and payment was made on Tuesday morning.

"When a child is hurt on the playground, it presents an unhappy problem. The state and the county do not have the money to pay for the medical treatment necessary and often, the child's family do not have the necessary money. Therefore, to have an insurance company pay for these minor accidents is an excellent solution to the problem. It works no hardship on anyone," Proffitt said.

Legion Barbecue, Bingo Planned For Weekend

Hillsboro — The local American Legion Post No. 85 has two events on its schedule during the next few days, a barbecue supper Saturday night and the annual Turkey Bingo Party Monday night.

Barbecue will be for sale beginning at 6 o'clock on Saturday and the public is invited to the Hut for this occasion.

The Bingo party is an annual affair which attracts a large number of people to the High School cafeteria each year. Plenty of turkeys and hams will be the main prizes and will last as long as the players want to keep playing, the promoters say. This affair begins at 7 o'clock.

Public Hearing On Rent Control To Be Dec. 11

Chapel Hill — The Chapel Hill Board of Aldermen in their regular Monday night meeting authorized a public hearing to be held on rent control, Dec. 11, at the Town Hall.

Rent control, according to federal law, will expire Dec. 31, unless the Board of Aldermen pass an ordinance maintaining the controls before that time. The purpose of the public hearing is to give all interested persons a chance to air their views on the subject.

Other action taken by the board included the appointment of a new fireman, Eric Crabtree. Crabtree takes the place of C. M. Durham, who was called back into service.

The board appointed Mrs. E. G. McGavran to the recreation committee, in place of L. V. Huggins, who resigned earlier.

Two new taxi permits were issued to Robert Pendergraft at the meeting. Three taxi companies previously in operation have ceased their business in Chapel Hill.

Hunting Season Will Open For Game Thanksgiving Day

Thanksgiving Day will open the general hunting season in this area for turkey, quail and rabbit. Squirrel season opened on October 16 and the Duck season will open on November 27 at noon.

A federal duck stamp is required to take duck in addition to the hunting license.

District Game Warden Bob Logan has announced that licenses are available at a number of points throughout the county and that the hunter should obtain a copy of the game laws from these license agents before going into the field.

Passing on a few other tips, he says to be sure the gun is plugged so that it can't hold more than three shells, including the chamber, be sure you have permission of the land owner before hunting on another's premises and abide by the bag limits. He cited two changes in bag limits from last year, an increase from five to eight for rabbits and 8 to 10 per day for squirrels.

Hunting license agents include Western Auto in Hillsboro, IFA Peed Grocery at West Hillsboro, Huggins Hardware in Chapel Hill, Lloyd-Ray in Carrboro, Forrest & Forrest at Efland, McDade's at Cedar Grove and Howard Hester's on Highway 54.

Orange S.P.C. Breeders Cite Progress At Annual Supper

Hillsboro — At a family night supper held at the Schley Grange Hall last week, 110 Spotted Poland China breeders and their families heard Dr. Wm. George Chrisman, chairman of the Board of Directors, give a progress report on the work accomplished by the Spotted Poland China breeders during the past five years.

From the beginning, five years ago, of a big chain sponsored by the Chapel Hill Rotary Club, supplemented after one year by a pig chain sponsored by the Sears Roebuck Foundation, it was figured that the first year 25 sows farrowed 400 pigs; the second year, 50 sows farrowed 800 pigs; the third year, 75 sows farrowed 1200 pigs; the fourth year, 125 sows farrowed 2000 pigs; the fifth year, 175 sows farrowed 3000 pigs, making a total of 7400 pigs. In addition to 200 registered brood sows owned by 139 breeders in the county,
