

New County School Board Elects Stanford Chairman

Championship collie Bonnie (left) and Skipper (leaping), owned and directed by Mrs. Betty Theis of Mebane, will present an exhibition of dog obedience as a special feature attraction of this Sunday's Third Annual Chapel Hill Area Dog Show, sponsored jointly by the Jaycees and Humane Society on Emerson Field beginning at 1 p. m. Entry blanks for the show may be had at sporting goods stores and veterinary hospitals, or by writing to Dr. W. T. Kohn, Box 718, Chapel, Chapel Hill. More than 75 prizes, trophies and ribbons will be awarded.

Hillsboro — Charles W. Stanford was elected chairman of the Orange County School Board Monday for the next biennium, succeeding Kemp S. Cate.

Stanford's election came on the nomination of Cate and with the support of New Member Harry P. Breeze sitting in his first meeting after qualifying and taking the oath of office for a new six year term.

Organizing as a new board, the meeting was opened with Stanford's nomination of Cate to succeed himself as chairman. Cate then nominated Stanford and Breeze, noting that Stanford was the senior member of the board in point of service, threw his support to Stanford.

The board then proceeded to handle a variety of routine business, including a revival of the Aycock district boundary issue, which has plagued the board for many months. A request from the principal and committeemen of Aycock school for the attendance of some 16 elementary and 10 high school students, now attending Hillsboro, Caldwell and Hurdle Mills Schools to be counted in the allocation of teachers for Aycock was presented, as were letters from the principals and committeemen of Hillsboro and Caldwell protesting such transfer.

It was contended that Aycock would lose a teacher if not given credit for the children now attending elsewhere, but considered by Aycock to be in their district although they have never attended school there. Should Aycock get the students, Caldwell stood to lose one it now has and Hillsboro one it expects to get as result of this year's attendance record. C. D. Jones of the Hillsboro committee, appearing before the board, contended that the teachers should be placed where the children are as a logical conclusion and it was shown that teacher loads of Aycock and Hillsboro would be approximately the same even if Aycock lost the teacher and Hillsboro gained.

After prolonged discussion, the board on motion of Breeze voted to request the State Board of Education to grant credit to Aycock Elementary School for this attendance provided it can be done legally and without causing either Hillsboro or Caldwell Schools to lose a teacher.

The sum of $2,550 was approved to renovate the gym at Efland, with the community supplying all labor for the project except wiring.

Deeds for the Efland Negro School site were approved and payment at the rate of $150 per acre was ordered to the Morrow heirs.

The proposal for the Orange County School system to participate in the School Administrative Improvement Program sponsored by the UNC School of Education was approved for a two year period. Developments up to that time would determine whether the plan is continued for a longer time.

CHANGE IN SCHEDULE

Hillsboro — The chest x-ray clinic for May will be held a week later than usually scheduled at the Hillsboro office of the District Health Department. This month's clinic is set for Monday, May 21, from 1 to 3 p. m.

Nine Beauties Toss Bonnets In Ring For "Miss Chapel Hill" Title Benefit

Chapel Hill — Nine attractive young misses have thrown their bonnets into the running for the title of "Miss Chapel Hill" to date. The winning beauty will be elected at the first annual Chapel Hill Beauty and Personality Pageant, to be presented by the Jaycees for the benefit of a future community and youth center here next Wednesday night in the Carolina Theater. She will proceed to the state elimination section of the nationwide "Miss America" Pageant to be held in Burlington in July.

In addition a $250 college scholarship will be provided for her by the Jaycees, and she will be given a complete wardrobe and expenses paid trip to the state finals. Entries for the Pageant may be presented through any Jaycees until next Monday.

Entrants so far are as follows: Miss Betty Lou Worthington, University coed from Ayden; Miss

Interest, And No Interest

Chapel Hill — In an unprecedented tribute to this town's financial integrity and a generous gesture in the public interest, the Bank of Chapel Hill Monday bought a 4-months $16,000 sewer bond anticipation note of the Town of Chapel Hill at an interest rate of exactly nothing.

The note, for temporary financing of the sewer project, was offered for sale by the Local Government Commission. Two other bids were received, the Branch Bank and Trust Co.'s for 2.8 percent and the Northwestern Bank's for 2.0 percent. Naturally, the Bank of Chapel Hill's bid of .0 percent won the contract, and naturally, the Town Fathers are pleased.

"Pop" Concert By Symphony Next Monday

Chapel Hill — The North Carolina Symphony Orchestra, directed by Benjamin Swalin will come to Chapel Hill for a "Pop" concert next Monday, May 14, according to Albin Pikutis, Symphony tour manager.

The concert will be played at 8:30 Monday night in Memorial Hall as a benefit for the Symphony's Sustaining Fund. Membership cards in the Symphony Society will not be honored for the event, but tickets will be on sale at the door — 90c for the main floor and 60c for the balcony, tax included.

Program listed by Swalin. The program selected by Director Swalin for the concert will be light, in keeping with the "Pops" concert custom. Included on the program will be music from the Rodgers and Hammerstein hit, "South Pacific," "Buttons and Bows," and the March from Prokofiev's "Love for Three Oranges."

A hit spot in the program as tentatively scheduled will be the Tchaikowsky "Piano Concerto in B Flat Minor," made popular recently by dance orchestras as "Tonight We Love." Guest soloist in the concerto will be Tulley Mosley, young pianist of Dallas, Texas, who scored a hit playing with the State Symphony in Hickory earlier this month.

The Symphony's Sustaining Fund was set up two years ago as a reserve for the Orchestra. The Symphony cannot pay its way with membership drive quotas and its state appropriation. The Sustaining Fund is set up to help maintain the Orchestra beyond the earned income from these sources and from concert appearances.

4-H Club Camp Set For June At New Hope

Hillsboro — Extension agents from Durham and Caswell counties met with Orange County extension agents Monday to plan a joint camp for 4-H club members to be held at Camp New Hope during the week of June 11-16.

Applications and deposits from club members for attendance already have been received from 126 club members and more are expected to bring the total to over 150 from the three counties. Orange County 4-H boys and girls who have not yet sent in their applications are urged to get theirs in at an early date, since it is possible that the number wanting to go will exceed the capacity of the camp.

The camp offers wonderful opportunity for any 4-H boy or girl to enjoy a week of fun and recreation and to meet many other club members from this area, extension agents pointed out. Interested persons are asked to send their applications to the County Agent's office in Hillsboro.

THEY WERE "WROTE" IN

Strong write-in votes were recorded among Hillsboro's 34 voters Tuesday. The following got one each against the announced candidates: Jake Forrest, 1 for Mayor; Tom L. Davis, Brown Gordon Sr. and H. Broadwell, 1 each for commissioner.

Parade, Program Planned As Armed Forces Tribute

Commissioners Fill Posts, Study Budgets

Hillsboro — New appointments and preliminary budget matters were foremost on the Board of County Commissioners' agenda at their regular monthly meeting here Monday.

In addition to appointing Miss Dorothy Parrish to succeed Miss Virginia Cathey as assistant home demonstration agent as reported in another column of today's edition, the board confirmed the appointment of J. L. Rosemond of Hillsboro as county electrical inspector and named three members to the enlarged Chapel Hill Zoning Board of Adjustment, in accordance with the new legislation.

The new electrical inspector succeeds Van Kenyon and was tentatively named last month contingent upon his passing the State Electrical examination, which he did.

The new members of the Chapel Hill board named for one, two and three year terms respectively include: Dr. Clarence Heer, Mrs. Harold Walters, and R. M. Gruman.

Members of the Board of Public Welfare presented their proposed 1951-52 budget request totalling $222,918.40, of which the sum of $47,336.30 would be supplied by the county. The State's and Federal share would be $173,182.10 with $2,400 to come from the Equalization Fund.

Tentative approval was given for the County's share in the various State and Federally-sponsored programs of assistance in the following amounts: Old Age Assistance, $12,750; Aid to Dependent Children, $7,920; Aid to Permanent and Totally Disabled, $1,980; Aid to Blind, $1,298.40.

Mrs. Douglas Davis, district librarian, presented her proposed budget and a request was received from Chapel Hill School Superintendent C. W. Davis for the board to make money available so soon as possible for grading and sewer work at the new Negro School, so that it can be completed before school begins. The board moved to seek bids in latter June and make the money available early in July in the new budget. The sum of $240 per year was approved for janitorial services at the jail.

A delegation from Cheeks Township in the interest of a road, Seven Mile Creek to Chestnut Ridge, Church was heard and the Commissioners agreed to request the Highway Commission to make a survey of the route.

Court Of Honor Set For Sunday

Chapel Hill — A Mother's Day Boy Scout Court of Honor will be held at New Hope Presbyterian Church at 8 o'clock Sunday night, William S. Roth, chairman of the Orange District Advancement of Boy Scouts, announced today.

During the ceremonies, county scouts will receive recognition for their advancement including new ranks, merit badges and hours of civic duty. Mothers of the scouts will be honored in a special ceremony.

Upsets, Tight Contests Feature Town Elections In Orange, Hillsboro Expected

This week saw elections come and go in Orange County municipalities.

In Chapel Hill in the race of most interest, William S. Stewart defeated Paul H. Robertson for Judge and Oliver K. Cornwell, P. L. Burch and G. Obie Davis won out over three others for Alderman.

Carrboro experienced consideration turnover when J. Sullivan Gibson, UNC professor, beat incumbent Mayor I. F. Hardee and Candidates Roy Lloyd and Sidney Barker ousted incumbents P. L. Senter and A. B. Poole. Dwight M. Ray and Roy Riggsbee won reelection.

In Hillsboro, a token vote of 34 ballots were cast for Mayor Ben Johnston and five board candidates. Incumbents W. M. Chance,

HDC Agent Resigns, Will Accept Post In Guilford County

Hillsboro — Miss Virginia Cathey this week, resigned her position as assistant home demonstration agent for Orange County to accept a similar post in Guilford County.

Replacing Miss Cathey in the local office will be Miss Dorothy Spain Parrish of Smithfield, N. C., who will be graduated from the Woman's College of the University of North Carolina in June.

Miss Cathey, who has served as assistant agent for the past two and one-half years, presented her resignation to the county commissioners Monday and that body accepted it "with regrets." One of the principal duties that Miss Cathey has had during her stay in this county has been work with the 4-H boys and girls. Members stated today that they have learned of the resignation with deep regret and pointed out that Miss Cathey has done much to make 4-H club work successful in Orange County.

The new assistant agent, who is a teacher training major in Home Economics, is expected to report for work June 11.

Final Rehearsals For Senior Play Are In Progress

Hillsboro — Members of the Senior play cast are spending much time this week perfecting their lines for "And Came the Spring," which is to be presented tomorrow night at 8 o'clock in the school auditorium.

The production is one of the most colloquial plays ever given on the local stage. All of the characters are bursting with wit, expressions of modern youth and philosophy.

Sam Blackwood and Mary Jo Harris are hard put with their family; their son, Philip Scott, who is a strenuous student; their daughter, Ruth Miller, the sorority girl and social climber; the young girl daughter, Joan Reinhardt, who is busy running the household. Wesley Scott, Peggy Caruthers and Ronnie Kennedy constitute the Fields family. It is Mr. Fields upon whom the family depends for its money. Nancy Walker, the athlete, Kenneth Collins and Martha Ann Wrenn, the jitterbugs, add to the hilarity of the family routine.

Fred Blake and Belle Crabtree, as gardener and maid carry on a clandestine love affair, while Bill Privette, the boy about town, tries to gain the love of Ruth Miller. Peggy Strayhorn, the glamour girl, steals the hearts of all the men, even that of Kenneth Brown, the actor.

The play is being directed by Mrs. E. T. Campbell and Bill Teer is manager of the production.

Chapel Hill — By joint proclamation of Mayors Edwin S. Lainer and J. Sullivan Gibson, Chapel Hill and Carrboro will celebrate Armed Forces Day next Wednesday and elaborate preparations are underway for a gala parade and program at 3 o'clock.

In this tribute to all the Armed Forces and the veterans of Armed Forces, all the other citizens of Orange County are invited to join.

Flags will be displayed throughout the day and at 3 o'clock a colorful parade of bands, beauties, military units, veterans' groups and auxiliary services, and civil defense representatives will proceed along West Franklin street from Graham Street intersection to the Postoffice.

Admiral Donald Loomis has been named Grand Marshall for the Parade by the arrangements committee, headed by Roy Armstrong, chairman, and composed of Mrs. Norman Gordon and William Alexander.

Exercises will follow the parade at the reviewing stand to be set up at the Postoffice. Lt. Gov. Pat Taylor will be the principal speaker. Other dignitaries to participate include President Gordon Gray and Chancellor Robert House of the University, Congressman Carl T. Durham, the Mayors of Chapel Hill and Carrboro, Lt. Col. Jesse L. Moorhead, commanding officer of the University Air ROTC, and Commander William J. Manning, executive officer of the University NROTC.

A part of E. Franklin St. near the Postoffice will be closed off during the exercises and schools will be suspended in time to allow all children to participate.

To be included in the parade are 18 contestants in the "Miss Chapel Hill" beauty pageant, the UNC, Chapel Hill and Lincoln High Bands, University Air and Navy ROTC Drum and Bugle units, Boy Scouts, Cub Scouts, Girl Scouts and Brownies of Chapel Hill and Carrboro, Red Cross Gray Ladies, Junior Red Cross, American Legion and Auxiliary, UNC Veterans Association, and Civil Defense representatives.

Field Is Shaping Fast For Area Dog Show Sunday

Chapel Hill — Entries are coming in at a good clip for the Jaycee-Humane Society Third Annual Chapel Hill Area Dog Show, to be held on Emerson Field here Sunday afternoon.

Dr. L. L. Vine, in charge of the affair for the sponsors, predicted today that over 100 dogs would be entered in the show, some from as far away as Wilmington and Charlotte. However, he pointed out, the affair is primarily for pure-bred canines from Chapel Hill and immediately surrounding towns.

Two large-bronze trophies will be awarded for the best all-around animal in the competition and the runner-up. In addition about 75 prizes, ribbons, and smaller trophies will be given out. As a special feature attraction, Mrs. Betty Theis, professional dog trainer of Mebane, will present an exhibition of obedience by her championship canines.

Entry blanks are available through veterinary hospitals and sporting goods shops in the area, and should be mailed in to Dr. W. T. Kohn, Box 718, Chapel Hill.

Master of ceremonies will be William M. Alexander, former Durham radio announcer and president of the Chapel Hill Jaycees. Two professional dog show judges will supervise the competition.

Everett Cheek Wins Grange Lecturer Contest

Everett Cheek, lecturer of the 2-year-old Calvander Grange in Orange County, has been named winner over 200 eligible Grange lecturers in a statewide contest showing "The Role of the Local Grange in the National Emergency."

Cheek said that in the present "cold or limited war," the local Grange should foster the spirit of good citizenship, develop a community emergency plan in time of need, and help keep people from becoming panic-stricken in time of crises and sloughful between crises.

In the event of the outbreak of general war, Cheek said, the local Grange would then be in a better position, having approached as nearly as possible a state of readiness, both to prevent disaster locally and to treat it should it come.
