Easter Seals To Provide Speech Classes

Chapel Hill - In order to continue the much needed speech therapy which some children in Orange County have been receiving through the public school system for the first time this year, and to offer those persons needing speech correction, especially such children who will enter school this fall ,and persons not in school, the Orange County Chapter of the Nonth Carolina League for Crippled Children, the Easter Seal Agency, is making plans to provide summer speech classes beginning about July 1st and continuing during the summer. The classes will be open to children or adults with speech difficulties if it is determined they will benefit from such training. It is hoped that classes can be held. each week in Chapel Hill and Hillsboro, alternating days. There will be no charge for the speech therapy, this being a service of the Easter Seal Agency, however, each person enrolling will be responsible for his own transportation to and from the class. A list of persons from each section of the county will be made available so parents may pool transportation facilities, if desired.

The wiseacres - - politically speaking, that is -- have ruled out Agriculture Commissioner L. Y. Ballentine, Secretary of State Thad Eure, and are putting the skids to State Treasurer Brandon Hodges' toboggan.

-0-Waynick Announcement?

There's been a lot of talk about Capus Waynick, ambassador to Nicaragua, and his political future. Some folks say he won't have the "inside dope" that he won't run. Plain truth of the matter is that he hasn't decided yet. You can look for a formal statement from Mr. Waynick within the next week or ten days. This statement won't say he will run. and it won't say he won't run. But it definitely will say that he has not removed himself as a candidate. Close friends of the ambassador have been in contact with him - - via phone and mail -within the past week. Incidentally, Waynick's close friend Paroles Commissioner T. C. Johnson has not gone to Nicarague to confer with Waynick.
