Anniversary

On August 1 Dr. Henry Jordan, chairman of the State Highway Commission, celebrated an anniversary.

Just 32 years ago, -- August 1, 1919 - - Doc Henry says "I started working for a living." That living he was earning at that time was through the practice of dentistry.

Jordan and a friend, Textile Manufacturer Dave Hall, have the same "beginning working for a living" anniversary. Each year on August 1, one or the other calls or sends a message to the Job Swapping

Bill Sharpe, ex-newspaperman and ex-State News Bureau director will become ex-publicity director for CP&L on or about September 1.

Bill has bought a hunk of "The State" magazine, published for Thompson, Nathaniel, 74 acres, many years by another booster of North Carolina, Carl Goerch. Sharpe is to step in as editor and publisher, while Carl will retain a reported 49 percent interest and become associate editor.

Meantime, it reported reliably that Jack Riley - - former feature editor for the News and Obsercer and now an associate professor of journalism at UNC - - will replace Sharpe at Carolina Power and Light.
