Exhibition Of Swimming Set For Friday

CHAPEL HILL—An interesting swimming exhibition is slated for Kessing outdoor pool on the University of North Carolina campus here tomorrow afternoon at 6 o'clock.
Coach Ralph Casey will put on display his quartet of Olympic hopefuls, their last exhibition before the Olympic trials at Flushing Meadow, N. Y., next week. Since good crowds have turned out to watch the swimmers perform earlier, a public address system will be set up to introduce the competitors and explain their races.
The program shapes up this way:
1. Bob Browne, Princeton University star and world's record holder in the 200-yard breaststroke, will swim in the 220-yard breaststroke. He will go after his own American record of 2:41. Last week he barely missed lowering his previous best.
2. Jimmy Thomas, former University swimmer and great and a three-time national champion, will swim the 50-meter backstroke. He will also swim the backstroke in the 150-yard medley relay.
3. Donnie Evans, University varsity swimmer and former Southern Conference champion will try to crack Johnny Weismuller's 200-yard freestyle mark of 2:01.2. He missed setting the record last week.

4. Thomas, Barry Wall and Buddy Heins will attempt to lower the time on the 150-yard medley relay record held by a University of Iowa trio. Wall and Heins are members of the Tar Heel varsity swimming team. Even if the time is better than the old record, the new standard will probably not stand as all three swimmers do not have the same A. A. U.
