

KIDD BREWER'S Raleigh Roundup

WEST RULE ... Follow-first week with the Democaravan through the west, convinced of the following: no deep feeling on the western Democratic leadership with reference to the rule on governors; there crystallized sentiment for gubernatorial candidate from Blue Ridge; but there is a thought that the east-west has got a little out of kilter in the last few years unless there is a really candidate from the far west in the mountains generally prefer an east-west next time and thus back into the old rotation

In all the people of the counties—and this may all over—are more in the candidate's quality regardless of geography.

9TH DISTRICT ... The situation in the Ninth has improved, something unforeseen, and the people will keep — Congressman Hugh will be sent back to tion. If this is accomplished it will be due in great the interest and work of democratic women of the

For instance, at the rally women virtually hte entire proceed same was true in Stanley.

of that section are working a block-to-block basis ... that may result in a Democracy for Stanley.

THE WOMEN ... Speaking women, they are coming front more every year in—and justly so. In the place, they have more actually, than men. As a fact more of the nation's is in the hands of women. Another thing, was strike to the hearts of women. ose husbands and sons. men are not as inclined to political or governmental from a selfish standpoint, they have more time. If ous they spend with the club, for example, were d to politics with a view to government, we would soon ust that. The women are as this more all the time doing something about it.

9TH DISTRICT ... Chances story for the Democrats in nth are not as bright as in nth at this time. This is o many factors. If the Dedic leaders of Mecklenburg and would solidify their ef- instead of bickering among elves, this alone would be nt for victory.

ERKINS SHOW ... The Dedic Caravan has been re- to by many people as John s Greatest Show on Earth. matter of sharp observation one who accompanied the an last week, we must re- that it is actually loaded real talent.

WIN GILL ... It is agreed State Treasurer Edwin Gil, s the prettiest speech ... a smattering of history, poli- and poetry. His speeches re- his wide study and reading bert Olive said jokingly that n has the advantage in respect over the rest of us n being a bachelor, he has g else to do but read."

W. SAM ERVIN ... Down-to n are the speeches of Sena- rvin and filled with more al illustrations than the nes of the other travelers.

W. H. EURE ... Thad Eure, modern Paul Revere, always s a hit with his recitations s "The Midwinter Ride of Erue" or "From Raleigh to sville in Twenty-three days."

W. AL ... Efforts are made d the program at each stop hours, including recognition al candidates, officials, and ation and speeches of candidates and party of (See Roundup, Page 2)

MISS ANNIE CAMERON, First Grade teacher in Hillsboro School for more than two generations of students, is being honored this week by the local Business and Professional Women's Club in its observance of National Business Women's Week. She is shown above as Mayor Ben Johnston signs a proclamation proclaiming the local observance. Mrs. B. P. Gordon, Jr., president of the Hillsboro Business and Professional Women's Club, stands at right. The observance is being held throughout the United States, Alaska and Hawaii.

Wincoff Gets School Post Held By Blake

Kay Wincoff of Hillsboro has been appointed to the position of Properties and Cost Clerk for the Orange County School System. Announcement of the appointment was made yesterday by Superintendent G. Paul Carr, who said approval had been given by the Board of Education.

Wincoff succeeds the late J. Fred Blake who died last week of a heart attack.

Wincoff, a UNC graduate of the class of 1949 with a B.S. degree in Commerce, is now employed as a salesman for Brame Specialty Company. He is a past commander of the local American Legion Post and a member of the Exchange Club.

As Properties and Cost Clerk, he will supervise the parts department at the county garage and set up a perpetual inventory system, keep accounts for the 57 buses, six other vehicles and eight county cars serviced by the garage, and receive and dispense property of all kinds for the county and the State in the conduct of the schools.

HARVEST FESTIVAL

The Walnut Grove Methodist Church will hold its annual Harvest Festival on Saturday evening, October 16.

The auction sale will begin at 7:30 o'clock.

Supper will be served starting at 4 o'clock and will consist of Brunswick stew, barbecue, hot dogs, home-made cakes and pies. The public is cordially invited to attend.

LAYMAN'S DAY

Layman's Day will be observed on Sunday morning, October 17, at 11 o'clock in the Efland Methodist Church.

Hurt By Black Looks

Cates Explains Water Cutoff

Fred Cates Jr., operator of the Hickory House Restaurant, says he has been getting black looks from people on the street since it was published last week that his water had been cut off for excessive use.

Cates explains that several people saw a wet automobile being rubbed down behind his cafe and mistakenly assumed it had been washed there. He said the car was washed with well water at his farm and driven there for the boy to finish the job. He said he had been hauling water from home for the dish washing

Lions Broom Sale Begins Tomorrow

The annual Broom Sale of the Hillsboro Lions Club for aid to the blind will be held here tomorrow and Saturday.

F. E. Joyner, chairman of the drive for the Lions Club said the Lions will conduct a house to house canvass tomorrow afternoon beginning at 4 o'clock and continuing until 9 p.m. Street sales will be held in downtown Hillsboro on Saturday. Persons who may be out of town or missed in the sale may obtain a broom or a door mat by contacting any member of the Lions club, or calling the chairman.

All brooms and door mats to be sold are manufactured by blind workers in Greensboro as a product of the Guilford Industries for the Blind and proceeds are used by the Lions Club in their program of assistance to the blind and those of defective vision throughout Orange County. The program of aid to the blind is one of the major features of Lions' activity throughout the world.

Regular weight house brooms sell for $1.50 and door mats are $2.50.

Assisting Joyner in leading the drive are the following who have named captains: Dr. H. W. Moore, Ted Smith and R. O. Forrest. Members of the club will be divided into teams for the solicitation.

In commenting upon the drive, Joyner said: "You can invest in happiness for a blind neighbor by the purchase of a broom or door mat during the Lions Club's annual sale tomorrow and Saturday. When the appeal comes to your door, won't you respond promptly and generously? If you have the money at hand, and the porch or lawn light turned on, these workers will be most appreciative."

PTA To Hold Open House

The Hillsboro Parents and Teachers Association will hold Open House at its regular meeting, Tuesday, October 19, at 7:30 o'clock.

Usually open house is held in the Spring of the year, but the plan has been changed this year. It will be a time for the teachers and parents to get acquainted with each other.

The Home Economics girls will have charge of a nursery for the children while the parents attend the meeting. Each parent is urged to attend.

Mystery Farm Of Week—No. 8

Who Owns This Mystery Farm?

IDENTIFY THIS "MYSTERY FARM" first and you will receive a free subscription to The News of Orange County. Considerable interest has been shown in this feature series and a number of people are calling each week with their identifications. Often they are right, sometimes they are wrong. So, join the game. Read page 4 of today's issue for the identification of last week's "Mystery Farm." The owner of the farm pictured above is asked to come by The News as soon as possible and receive a beautiful mounted photo of the picture above, courtesy of the Durham Bank and Trust Company and this newspaper.

Nickels Referendum Friday

Judge Divides Time Factions Can Use Church

In a rare night session of Orange County Superior Court last Friday night, Judge Leo Carr settled for the time being the controversy between two factions claiming the property of the Pentecostal Holiness Church at West Hillsboro by allowing each use of the church an equal amount of time.

With "the hope that all these people can resolve their differences and get back together before very long," Judge Carr issued a directed verdict to the jury on the basis of issues substantiating generally the position of the plaintiffs the Western N. C. Conference of the Pentecostal Holiness, the Rev. John Terrell and others seeking to regain the church property.

Judge Carr, in his comments on the verdict said it grew out of the court's confusion. He said the undisputed evidence would seem to call for such a decision. In the directed verdict Judge Carr ruled that the Terrell congregation affiliated with the conference is entitled to use and enjoyment of the church property, and the Rev. R. C. Frazier and others associated with him in the suit immediately filed notice of appeal to the Supreme Court.

Pending its decision Judge Carr directed that the Terrell congregation use the church from 3 p. m., Sundays, to midnight, Wednesdays, and the Frazier group from Thursday to Sunday 3 p. m.

Ruling that the Pentecostal Holiness Church is a "connectional" church, the court held that a local church holding membership in a conference of the denomination is bound by certain rules and regulations affecting the entire denomination and a segment of the church, even though a majority, has no right to withdraw and take possession of church property.

According to reports of members of the local church controversy arose in the early part of 1953 when the official board of the Western North Carolina Conference Pentecostal-Holiness Church came to Hillsboro to investigate certain rumors concerning teachings that were alleged to be contrary to doctrines and practices of the Pentecostal Holiness Church.

Following the investigation, although the Conference Board declared no charges were justified against the Rev. R. C. Frazier, certain individuals in the church expressed dissatisfaction and circulated a petition among members.

GAS PRICES CUT

Regular gas at Amoco stations in Hillsboro and throughout Orange County with the exception of the immediate Chapel Hill-Carrboro area were reduced to 23 9/10th cents last week.

Other companies, however, yesterday had not seen fit to follow suit.

Owen S. Robertson, American Oil Company distributor for the county, said the reductions were placed in effect to meet competition from Alamance County which has been the scene of a gasoline price war for several weeks.

School Milk Plan Is Put Into Effect

The new federal-aid program designed to increase milk consumption by school children and sell more milk for area dairymen went into effect in Orange County Schools this week.

Under terms of an agreement with the State Department of Public Instruction just signed by G. P. Carr, Superintendent, Orange County is joining in the nationwide effort to increase the consumption of milk by children in schools, authorized by Congress. To bring about these increases, the U. S. Department of Agriculture advances funds to the State Department of Public Instruction which in turn reimburses the Orange County schools for part of the cost of the additional milk they serve. The milk will be bought directly from local dairies and distributors. According to Carr:

"We will be reimbursed for all milk consumed by children over and above the daily average used during last March and April. Milk costs us 6 1/2 cents per one-half pint. The child will be charged 3 cents and we will be reimbursed 4 cents. The difference of 1/2 cent will be used for refrigeration and handling cost.

Mr. Carr said the new program provides a wonderful opportunity to aid the children to drink more milk—the most nearly perfect of foods. To make it easier for the children to drink additional milk, he said, arrangements have been made to serve milk before school, at recess time, and after classes in the afternoon. In addition, they will be encouraged to drink as much milk as they want at lunch time with no limit placed on the amount a child may drink.

Mr. Carr urged that parents assist the new program by enrolling.

Much Has Been Accomplished By Nickels For Know-How Fund

Final plans have been made for conducting the Nickels for Know-How referendum on Friday, October 15, in Orange County, according to Henry Hogan, chairman of the local referendum committee.

Hogan pointed out that all agricultural agencies, farm organizations, and most businesses in the county had pledged their support to the program, which was begun three years ago to provide badly needed agricultural research and education—in addition to that provided by federal, state and other funds.

Voting places in the various communities are as follows: Carr Community—Compton's Store, Lynch's Store, Cedar Grove—Giles Long's Store, Candler's Store, Caldwell—Murray's Store, Walker's Mill, ASC Office, Farmer's Exchange; New Hope—A. L. Vin Hawkins Store; Hillsboro—Henry Tapps Store; Carrboro—Framer's Exchange, Tripp's Store; White Cross—White Cross Filling Station; Buckhorn—Sykes Dorsett's Store; Orange Grove—Snipes' Store; Kennedy—Hawkins Store.

The program is supported by a 5 cents per ton assessment on feed and fertilizer. An election, in which all users of feed and fertilizer are eligible to vote, is required every three years to continue Nickels for Know-How. A two-thirds favorable majority is required, or the program will end December 31.

Hogan urged all farm people to cast a vote in the election, and "show the country that North Carolina farmers are willing to support the work that is of primary benefit to them.

"Our future in farming depends to a great extent on favorable farm legislation, on the public's attitude toward us, and on our success in obtaining new know-how," Bason declared.

"North Carolina farm people have earned the praise of the nation—from legislators and Congressmen—for starting the unique Nickels for Know-How program. Another heavy, positive vote for continuing Nickels for Know-How will help farmers gain public support at a time when they need it most." In 1951, the vote was 9 to 1 in favor of Nickels for Know-How.

Two Injured In Cedar Grove Area Accident

A 23-year old Orange County man was seriously injured and his 13 year old brother painfully injured when their 1953 Ford failed to make a curve and turned over five times about 11:45 Tuesday night.

In critical condition at Memorial Hospital, Chapel Hill, is Theodore Randolph Jones, son of Mrs. Eva N. Jones of Route 1, Cedar Grove. His younger brother is Thomas Jones, who suffered several broken ribs and minor cuts.

The Ford 2-door sedan was demolished. Highway Patrolman Mann Norris Jr., the investigating officer, said the youths had gone to a store for a loaf of bread and were returning along the Cedar Grove-Hurdle Mills road, when the car failed to make a curve, turned over five times and progressed a total of 378 feet after leaving the road surface.

On Display At REA Building

Fair Exhibit To Be Shown

Orange County was one of five counties selected to present an exhibit at the State Fair depicting a phase of the "Challenge Program" being carried on throughout North Carolina. Orange County was asked to prepare an exhibit on "Stronger Community Life."

With the help of many hundreds of Orange County people and their Agricultural leaders, this exhibit has been prepared and is now on display in the lobby of the REA

Mrs. Williams New Registrar For Hillsboro

Mrs. Alton Williams has been appointed registrar for Hillsboro precinct by the Orange County Board of Elections.

She succeeds H. G. Coleman Jr. who resigned after the Spring primary when he accepted a job in Durham.

Mrs. Williams, and the 18 other registrars who took office last Spring, re-opened registration books for the November 2 general election last Saturday.

Registration for the November 2nd general election will continue at the county's 19 polling places on Saturdays, October 16 and 23.

Registrars will be at the precinct polling places on these days from 9 a. m. until sunset. Oct. 30 will be challenge day.

Persons must be residents of their precinct for four months and a resident of North Carolina for one year prior to November 2 to be eligible to register.

Young men and women who will become 21 years of age before November 2 may register and vote.

Qualified voters who will be absent from the county in which they are registered on election day, or who by reason of sickness or other physical disability are unable to go to the polling place, may vote by absentee ballot. Absentee ballots may be obtained from the County Election Board Chairman, E. J. Hamlin.

Cates Elected New President Of Merchants

Marshall Cates Jr., local oil dealer, this week was elected president of the Hillsboro Merchants Association in balloting conducted by mail.

A luncheon meeting to install the new slate of officers and plan a program for the new year will be held today at 1 o'clock at Colonial Inn. All members are urged to attend. Among items on the agenda will be a decision on the proposal to employ a full-time secretary to replace Mrs. Charlotte Cole, who resigned, and to increase dues and services of the association.

Cates will succeed E. Wilson Cole as president.

Others elected were Mrs. N. D. Crabtree, vice president, J. L. Brown Jr., secretary-treasurer, and Elizabeth Collins, Poy Cole and Ernest Wilkins, directors.

Brown Not Candidate For ASC Committee

John H. Brown, of Caldwell community, veteran member of the county ASC, formerly the PMA, committee, has announced that he will not be a candidate for reelection for another term.

He said, "It is with regret that I have arrived at this decision, but outside duties have forced me to do so. I hereby wish to thank my supporters in the past for the cooperation and trust."

On Display At REA Building

Fair Exhibit To Be Shown

Orange County was one of five counties selected to present an exhibit at the State Fair depicting a phase of the "Challenge Program" being carried on throughout North Carolina. Orange County was asked to prepare an exhibit on "Stronger Community Life."

With the help of many hundreds of Orange County people and their Agricultural leaders, this exhibit has been prepared and is now on display in the lobby of the REA building in Hillsboro. It may be seen any evening during the remainder of this week.

On Saturday evening, October 16, between the hours of 7 to 9 p. m., the REA office will be open for those who wish to obtain a close-up view of the exhibit. Everyone is cordially invited to see this exhibit before it will be set up in the new Coliseum at the State Fair grounds.