

Planning For Next Five Years:

School Building Need Approaches 3 Million

An estimate of school construction requirements in Orange County for the next five years, it is believed, will total at least $2,850,000 when the school boards of the county and Chapel Hill present their needs to the County Commissioners on November 7.

Superintendent G. Paul Carr last week furnished a statement of needs of the county units to the White House Conference for North Carolina held in Raleigh for the next five years which totalled $1,850,000. The County Board of Education will meet in the next week in preparation for the November 7th meeting with the Chapel Hill board and the Commissioners, but their final figures are not expected to vary much from the recent estimate.

The Chapel Hill School Board totalled up its bond needs Tuesday night and arrived at a $1,000,015 total.

The money is needed for the following projects: at Chapel Hill

High School a new gymnasium, an addition to the shop, and a home economics building; at Lincoln High School a new shop, six classrooms, and an auditorium; the renovation of Chapel Hill Elementary School and the construction of fire towers; the renovation of Northside School; a new auditorium at Glenwood School; and a site and new 12-classroom elementary school.

The Chapel Hill board will carry its list to Hillsboro on Nov. 7 when at 2 p.m. it will compare needs with the Orange County School Board. Later in the day the two units are scheduled to present a combined list to the County Board of Commissioners.

Purpose of the discussions is to fix the size of a school bond issue. It will be up to the commissioners to determine if a bond election is to be called and how much will be asked.

Earlier this year the Orange

County School Board presented the commissioners with a list of needs which included six classrooms at a new site with office and lunchroom at Carrboro; six classrooms at Central High School; a lunchroom at Cedar Grove School and four classrooms; a lunchroom at Efland Negro School; a gymnasium at both Central and Hillsboro High Schools; a new building at Carrboro and for the Efland White School; and the renovation of Hillsboro High School and Aycock High School.

Both school systems have described their needs as "serious," but officials of the Orange County unit have been reluctant to plan for a bond election. Officials have said it "may be the wrong time" because of the integration issue. The meeting of the two boards on Nov. 7 was arranged by R.J.M. Hobbs, chairman of the county commissioners, who urgently requested action.

ASC Election Voting Light; Groups Named

Results of ASC committee were available from six townships yesterday, following Tuesday's county-wide election in which only 146 farmers cast ballots out of a potential vote of about 1,400.

The committee administers the acreage allotment programs for tobacco, cotton and wheat and the Agricultural Conservation Program which this year will distribute some $41,000 in this county.

Similarly, light votes were noted in other counties in the area, according to district officials.

From 10 nominees in each township the following were selected:

Hillsboro township: Marvin Phelps, chairman, Leroy Hall, Sr. vice chairman, Dupree Smith.

Bingham township: G. T. Durham, chairman, Edmond Stroud, vice chairman, Walter Lloyd.

Emo township: W. A. Crabtree, chairman, Wallace Bacon, vice chairman, H. S. Walker.

Cheeks township: A. C. Wright, chairman, W. B. Shambley, vice chairman, J. Sam Nelson.

Cedar Grove township: Milton Ward, chairman, Donald McDade, vice chairman, Marvin Rogers.

Chapel Hill Township: Clyde Bowden, chairman, John Cates, and Aubrey McLennon.

The chairman of each township committee will meet in Hillsboro as delegates to the county convention to select the overall county committee.

County Adopts Job, Pay Plan For Staff

Several Groups Are Excluded; Raises Granted

Employees of Orange County with certain exceptions this week went under a civil-service type job classification and pay plan which the Commissioners adopted at a special meeting Monday night at the courthouse.

Pay raises were included for all employees covered and were retroactive to July 1, 1955 when the Board voted to ask the Institute of Government to prepare such a plan and withheld all consideration of pay increases pending its adoption.

Excluded from the plan as originally adopted were all elective officials and department heads, members of the staffs of the Extension service, the Welfare and Health departments, all of whom are paid partially from State or Federal funds and some of whom are included under the State Merit system.

Three members of the Welfare Staff were granted raises Monday night, to be effective November 1. These included the two clerical workers, and one case worker.

The new system not only set up pay scales but sets down for the first time written county policy on working hours, vacations, sick leave, holidays, etc.

The commissioners are expected to act on salary increases for other county officials who may be in line for them at their November meeting, now that the classification system has been set up and increases granted to the other employees.

Action on the pay plan was by unanimous vote of the four commissioners attending. As in past recent meetings, Commissioner Sim Efland was not in attendance and other commissioners said they had had no notice from him that he would be absent or when he would return.

All employees were interviewed in the course of preparation and classified according to the kind of work, the difficulty of the work and the responsibility of the work. The various classifications were given the same descriptive title, the same recruitment standards and allocated the same pay grade.

Organizational charts for every permanent position were prepared and a description of the duties of each job was included. No attempt was made to determine how well an employee performs his duties.

Jobs are classified into six grades as follows: 1—janitor; 2—stenographer clerk 1 and typist clerk 1; 3—stenographer clerk 2, tax clerk, and typist clerk 2; 4—accounting clerk, assistant register of deeds, Deputy Clerk of Recorder's Court and veterans service officer; 5—deputy sheriff and dog warden; 6—Assistant Clerk of Superior Court.

All salary increases are retroactive to July 1, 1955. Estimated cost this budget year was placed at $1,872. Eighteen employees will benefit immediately with salary increases ranging from $25 to $232 annually.

Salary increases for department heads will be considered by the commissioners at a later date.

Purpose of the pay plan was said to be "to further the economical use of county funds by improving employee morale and efficiency." The plan provides for a minimum salary with automatic increases after the first six and 12 months. Employees may also be started as "trainees" with a salary below the minimum.

HEADS-FIRE DISTRICT

The newly organized Greater Chapel Hill Fire District Commission has held its organizational meeting in preparation to providing fire protection for the tax-supported suburban fire district here.

In their initial meeting late last week the three-man group, appointed by the Orange County commissioners, elected Prof. E. A. Cameron of Laurel Hill Road as their chairman. Other members of the group are William T. Hobbs of Flemington Road in Glen Lenoix neighborhood and Eben Merritt of the Pittsboro Road.

Lions To Hold Sale Of Light Bulbs In Town

The Hillsboro Lions club will hold a town-wide sale of electric light bulbs, beginning next Tuesday night.

Funds derived will be applied on various club projects including its Aid-To-The-Blind work, its major project.

Each member of the club will be issued a quota of bags for sale in his neighborhood, downtown, or at his place of business.

Farm Credit Is Expanded By Land Bank

Credit services of the Federal Land Bank of Columbia have been broadened by legislation enacted by Congress and signed by President Eisenhower on August 11, according to information received by M.T. Lamm, president of the Henderson National Farm Loan association, which serves Orange County from Bank officials.

Mr. Lamm said the new legislation increases the bank's individual loan limit from $100,000 to $200,000; expands the purpose of loans; broadens the base on which loans may be made on part-time farms; and permits the extension of credit to family-type corporations primarily engaged in farming operations.

300 Will Help In Cedar Grove School Beautification Project

Oscar Beasley, president of the Cedar Grove Farm and Home Efficiency Program, announced today that a crowd of over 300 is expected to participate in the school beautification project scheduled for Saturday, October 22 at 8 a.m.

Beasley's estimate is based on a preliminary report submitted by his community leaders on Tuesday night when they met at Cedar Grove School to make final plans for the project. At that meeting eighteen of his twenty leaders had registered 268 persons. By the Friday registration deadline the number is certain to go over the 300 mark.

The school and committee have already purchased $250 worth of shrubbery from the Lindley Nursery. This shrubbery will be delivered today and covered with sawdust until Saturday. The order is composed of 100 pieces of evergreen.

Immediately following the setting of the shrubbery the group will be served a barbecue dinner. Dock Beasley and Mrs. Corina Villines, co-chairmen of the food committee have already selected their co-workers and have made their final plans for serving this large crowd. The entire program in the Cedar Grove area is under the direction of Mrs. B. P. McAlister and J. M. Murfree.

Carrboro To Erect Stoplight At Dangerous Intersection

Installation of a signal stoplight at the bottleneck intersection of Main and Rosemary Streets has been approved by the Town Board of Commissioners in Carrboro.

In discussion on the measure Tuesday evening it was stated that delays must sometimes wait as long as 10 minutes before being able to gain clear entry to Main Street near this corner as the situation now stands. The corner has been the scene of numerous accidents and collisions in recent months.

The commissioners also voted to have lane markings painted on the pavement of the five-way intersection of Main and Franklin Streets at the Chapel Hill town line, on a basis to be worked out with Chapel Hill. The board also decided to open the west sidewalk on the curve of East Main Street and have it graveled for pedestrian use.

Xmas Mailing For Overseas Rules Listed

The period October 15 to November 15 has been designated as the period for mailing Christmas mail to the Armed Forces overseas and the Hillsboro Post office has announced the following dates to insure the mail arriving at their destination on time.

Parcels for Navy and Marine Corps personnel in remote places should be mailed by October 15th if possible. Parcels destined for Korea, Japan and Pacific Islands should be in the mail by November 1 and all others by November 15.

It is suggested that foodstuffs not be sent because of spoilage and breakage they are likely to reach overseas destinations unharmed for use.

Staff Sergeant A. J. Johnson Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Johnson of Route Three, Chapel Hill, has been drafted to try out for the Chicago White Sox baseball team next spring.

His parents said here today that the big league team had been scouting Johnson for several seasons during his playing with the service team of the Suffolk County Air Force Base on Long Island where he has been stationed as an air force mechanic. This past year he was awarded a trophy for having the top batting average on the team.

He played at both catcher and in the outfield during his days as a letterman winner on the team at Chapel Hill High School, from which he was graduated in 1952, and has continued in these same positions with the service ball squad.

Roxboro, a solid three touchdown favorite found its hands full with a determined Wildcat team which scored twice in the second quarter to lead 13-0 at half time.

Four fumbles, and an intercepted pass helped a good Roxboro eleven pull the game out of the fire in the last half.

Hillsboro's first touchdown came suddenly, early in the second quarter, when Ronald Gattis hit end, Garland Spangler, with a 43 yd. touchdown pass. Late in the second quarter Hillsboro drove 35 yds. for another tally with twelve. Gattis taking a lateral from Collins scored the extra point.
