Minister Opens Fight On New Track And 'Jalopy Races' Planned Here

Legal Means To Ban Races Being Sought

A local pastor, with strong backing from his congregation, this week began a vigorous campaign to prevent the opening of a new race track in Orange County designed to promote so-called "jalopy races" here on Sundays.

The track and grandstand, now under construction, are located just half a mile from his church.

The Rev. W. I. Conway, pastor of the Gospel Baptist Tabernacle, two and one-half miles south of Hillsboro on the Orange Grove road, branded the proposed races as "legalized murder" and called upon the Board of County Commissioners at its Tuesday morning meeting to assist in the fight.

Dr. Maddry is at present pastor of the First Baptist Church of Hillsboro, having served in this position since January of 1951. The Hillsboro Church was also the first pastorate of Dr. Maddry, during the years 1902-1904. He is a native of Orange County, born near Chapel Hill on April 10, 1876. He was graduated from the University of North Carolina in 1903. During the time he spent in the University, Dr. Maddry served as pastor of five Orange County churches. Upon the completion of his seminary training, Dr. Maddry came to Greensboro, N. C., where the College Park Baptist Church was organized under his leadership. Subsequent pastorates held by Dr. Maddry have been: First Baptist Church, Statesville; Tabernacle Baptist Church, Raleigh; University Baptist Church, Austin, Texas. An Appeal For Sanity

(An Editorial)

The local minister and his congregation, the Board of County Commissioners and the Sheriff are on sound ground, indeed, as they seek legal means to outlaw legalized "jalopy" racing in Orange County. That the venture here may well become "legalized murder" if not halted in time is a foregone conclusion to any observer who rides the highways or reads the newspaper accounts of multiple deaths directly attributable to highway racing and the mania for speed which seems to possess many of our generation.

The advocates of these races appear to point with pride to the fact that only novice drivers and jalopy cars will be eligible to compete in the weekly Sunday afternoon races on the track being built just off the Orange Grove road. We would point the finger of shame at such irresponsibility. What better stage for death, what more fertile ground for recklessness than this combination?

We appeal to our public officials, we appeal to public opinion to take a firm stand for sanity and smother this menace to our safety and that of our neighbors before it gains further foothold in our midst.

YDC President William M. Alexander said that preparations were being made for an attendance of 500 persons. More than 50 candidates for County, District, and State offices in the May 26 Democratic primary election have been invited, he said, and acceptances have already been received from many of these.

"This rally will be conducted in the finest old-fashioned tradition of the Democratic party," said Mr. Alexander, noting that the candidates will speak from the bed of an Orange County farm wagon.

Two Tobacco Experiments Begun Here

Tobacco farmers all over the county are busy ploughing, young tobacco plants are looking good, and there is a general air of optimism prevailing.

Several tobacco experiments are being started—one by Jeff Roberts of Cedar Grove who is going to try a small area with the fertilizer broadcast method rather than applying it in the row. He wants to see if there will be less fertilizer burn to the tobacco roots if the fertilizer is thoroughly mixed with all the soil rather than concentrated in the bottom of the tobacco furrow.

June Allen, also of Cedar Grove, is cooperating with the N. C. Experiment Station in a test to determine which of the new soil fumigants give the most effective Nematode control on tobacco land. Actual Nematode count before and after application will be made in the State College laboratory.
