The 12-mile relocation will go south of Hillsboro and will be built dual lane with limited access-control to meet interstate highway requirements.

It is estimated that the total cost of the 12-mile length, including survey and acquisition of property right-of-way will total about 31/2 million dollars.

Plans are being made to complete the survey and to acquire right-of-way. How long it requires to obtain right-of-way will depend on the attitude and resistance of property owners.

"We hope to be able to call for bids within the next year," de-

Two cases now pending in the courts could have an effect on the acconsition of the right-of-way. The lower courts have held in the two cases that the Highway Comlimited access standards.

The new dual lane highway, will tie on the new single lane of a proposed dual lane from Efland to Greensboro, a distance of 36 miles.

Money is available to build the second lane from Efland to Greensboro and on the west end bypass at Durham. He added that the commission hopes to carry through with plans to open bids on those two projects early next year.

The Highway Engineering Department originally proposed an interim project for an additional lane to the Hillshoro link on the present location without control of mine whether to relocate the preslimited access standards or to run, the spokesman added, "This will mean a lot of saving to motorists." The new route will cross vote in the last general election

Bond Notes Next Month

Orange County will sell $250 000 in bond anticipation notes next month to secure funds for schoo' construction projects.

About $175,000 of the amount i needed now in the Chapel-Hill unit and the remainder primarily will go to the Ayeack project, now underway.

The anticipation notes of six months duration will be sold on November 27 and will be paid of following a major sale of bonds next Spring. A two million dollar bond issue was approved by voters of the county last Spring.

Mystery Farm Of The Week

Who Owns This Mystery Farm?

Last week's mystery farm was the home of M s. Tom Watkins and the late Mr. Watkins of Rt. Hillsboro in the Cedar Grove Community. Luther Boggs called in first with the correct answer at 11 c'clock Thursday morning followed with a call from Wade Carruthers, son-in-law of Mrs. Watkins, on Friday morning. The farm is operated as a dai y farm with Julius Carson as herdsman. Children of the Watkins are: Mrs. W. B. Coleman of Hillsboro, Mrs. Irwin King of Raleigh, Mrs. Wade Carruthers of Rt. 2 Hillsboro, Howard Watkins of Lilling on, Mrs. Carl Burke of Burlington, Mrs. Lloyd Shaw of Greensboro and Mrs. Bryant Tripp of Greenville. The only other guess on the picture was by G. O. Reitzel who thought it to be the Arthur Wilson ho ne in the Schley Community.
