UNC Fared Very Well With General Assembly; Teachers Pay Hike Cited As Top State Measure

By REP. JOHN W. UMSTEAD. The 1957 session of the General Assembly broke all records for the number of bills introduced and for the number enacted into law. Since 1931 I have attended each session of the Assembly either as a member or as a lobbyist and this was the hardest working body that I have seen. They may have made some mistakes but they tried to get the facts about legislation proposed and then took time to give each matter consideration to the end that they might do what was for the best interest of all the people of the state. Personally I was pleased with most of the legislation that was passed. There was some proposed legislation that was killed that greatly dis-

Employees of Carrboro Mills plant will observe the entire July 4th week as a vacation week. It was announced today by Thomas B. Murray, Resident Manager. The plant will close down at the end of operations on Friday June 28th at midnight and will resume operations on Monday July 8th at 12:01 A.M., he said. Mr. Murray said that all eligible employees are receiving vacation pay. In most cases, this means that employees with more than one but less than five years' service will receive amounts equivalent to approximately one week's pay, while those with more than five years' service will receive approximately two weeks' pay. At Carrboro Mills plant approximately fifty-four per cent of eligible employees have more than five years' service and will receive the larger payment, Mr. Murray said.

Pay-As-You-Go School Plea Appears Doomed In County

Board Moves Near Adoption Of Its Budget

The Board of County Commissioners moved toward final determination of the new budget and county tax rate this week, but a number of vital decisions still remained in the role of final determining factors. Still to be settled is the important schools segment of the budget which accounts for well over half of the total levy. It is apparent, however, that the bid for additional capital outlay funds from the Chapel Hill School System, which would in effect bring the county nearer a "pay-as-you-go" system of school financing, has no likelihood of success in the coming year.

Several members of the board indicated frankly there is "no likelihood that the Chapel Hill request will be granted." This is a request that $75,000 be appropriated in each of the next three years for a new building which estimates indicate will be needed at that time. Major increases thus far, on the basis of decisions which have been made, are in the Health Department and Sheriff's Department budgets.

On the basis of these preliminary decisions, the Health Department will get a $5,000 increase or one half of the request made by Dr. O. D. Garvin for Orange County's share of the operation of the District Health Department for the next year. The Board has voted to appropriate $25,000 for health purposes this year as compared to $20,000 a year ago, a 25 per cent increase. Dr. Garvin has cited decreased State and Federal support as justification for the increase.

Sentiment of the board is that Sheriff Odell Clayton should be given funds for at least one additional full time deputy and possibly an additional part-time deputy to aid him in his law enforcement program. Additional radio equipment and uniforms will be required for these officers if they are authorized. Thus far, the commissioners have balked at increased travel allowances for the deputies, but the total departmental appropriation appears headed for a least a 20 per cent increase, including a small additional travel allowance and salary increase for the Sheriff.

Orange Residents And Industries Planning On Holiday Schedules For Fourth Of July

Orange Countians generally look forward next week to the annual 4th of July holiday. For many thousands it will be summer vacation time. The observance for the most part will take place on Thursday. Banks and public offices will be closed next Thursday in observance of the legal holiday, as will virtually all stores and other business firms. Industrial plants in Hillsboro and Carrboro will close tomorrow or Saturday and will remain closed for varied periods to give employees their annual vacation. The Eno plant of the Cone Corporation is a notable exception. It will observe next Thursday and Friday as a holiday, with the annual vacation week starting later on July 22. The White Furniture plant will be closed all next week, shutting down after tomorrow's shift and reopening on July 8. Vacation pay will be handed this week to all employees with at least one year's service. Operations at the Belle Vue Manufacturing Co. plant will close Friday, reopening again on July 8. Employees will draw vacation pay in the form of a percentage of their earnings during the past year. Many Orange County citizens are off to the beach or other distant points. Picnics and family get-togethers will enliven the holiday weekend from the local standpoint. Employees of the Carrboro Mills will observe the entire July 4th week as a vacation week. The plant will close down at the end of the operation on Friday and will reopen July 8. Vacation bonuses will be paid to all eligible employees just prior to the vacation week. In most cases employees with more than one, but less than five years service will receive amounts equivalent to about one week's pay, while those with more than five years' service will receive about two weeks' pay. About 54 per cent of the plant's employees have more than five years' service.

Myron Lloyd Squeezes Victory . . .

Pinch-Milker For Mayor Wins In Dairy Contest

Water Superintendent Myron Lloyd, Miss Ann Barker, the county dairy princess, was presented by Chairman Clyde Erwin, who acted as master of ceremonies. She was presented the following gifts: cosmetics from Forrest Brothers, an address book from Hillsboro Sundry, costume jewelry from Smith's Ready-To-Wear, a free shampoo certificate from Wynne's Beauty Salon, lingerie from J. L. Brown & Sons, costume jewelry from Mary's Shop, stationery from the Corner Drug Store, and a gardening set from Western Auto Associate Store.

Superintendent G. Paul Carr and Sheriff Odell Clayton, who preceded Lloyd in the milking derby merely got things going for the victor, whose superiority was convincing to most of the small but enthusiastic crowd of spectators, although there were some partisans of the losing contestants who shouted "foam" and "bubbles" when the finals comparisons were made by the judges.

CARR COMPETES—County Superintendent of Schools G. Paul Carr scorns a stool to get closer to his object in competing against Sheriff Odell Clayton and Water Superintendent Myron Lloyd for the milking title in Saturday's June Dairy Day contest on the courthouse lawn. Mr. Lloyd won the title.

Patriots Write Weaver To Drop Transfer Try

A "suggestion and request" that a Negro father withdraw his petition for admission of his son to a white school here has been sent by the Orange County Patriots of North Carolina organization to the applicant, shoe repairman Preston Weaver. University medical faculty, past State President of the Patriots organization, confirmed last night that he had seen the typewritten letter before it was sent, but declined to identify specifically the writer or the names of the Executive Committee. Carbon copies of the 250-word message were sent to newspapers in this area. Full text of the letter follows: "Mr. Preston Weaver, Chapel Hill. "It has been reported that you have entered an application for the admission of one of your children to the elementary school maintained for white children. "Suggest You Withdraw. "We suggest, and request that you withdraw that petition for admission. "It was stated that the reason you gave for entering the application was the Supreme Court's ruling. May we point out that smooth and friendly relations between people are based more on mutual courtesy and observance of local customs than on asserted constitutional rights, and closed by stating "Your act helps to destroy that peace and good will." The letter was undated and bore no signature other than "Executive Committee Orange County Patriots of N. C." Prof. W. Critz George of the
