Miss Geoghegan Of South Hill, William Cheshire Wed Saturday

A lovely wedding was celebrated on Saturday, August 1, at 4 p.m. in the South Hill Methodist Church when Miss Lucile Geoghegan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Christopher Wilson Geoghegan of South Hill, Va., and William Polk Cheshire, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Webb Cheshire of "Over the River," Hillsboro, were married with the Rev. A. Woodrow Laine officiating. Lighted cathedral candles, ferns and baskets of white flowers were used in the decorations of the church.

Mrs. S. T. Moore of South Hill, at the console of the pipe organ, played the traditional wedding music and accompanied the soloist, George Taylor of South Hill.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a lovely gown of pol de soi enhanced with a trimming of alenon lace embroidered with seed pearls. The chapel train had motifs of lace with pearl trims. Her finger-tip veil fell from a bandeau of lace and seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of white brides roses centered with an orchid.

Miss Frances Lucile Zollinger of Bronxville, New York, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a hycinath silk sheath dress made with an empire waistline accentuated with a band of matching taffeta. A fall of chiffon, in matching color, fell from the waistline to the hem of dress. Her taffeta bandeau, shoes and hat were matching the color of the dress. She carried a cascade bouquet of matching carnations tied with rose ribbon.

James Webb Cheshire, Jr., of Efland, brother of the groom, was best man. Ushers were James C. Geoghegan, Decatur, Ala brother of the bride; George Williams, Chapel Hill, George Gill of Richmond, Va. and K. Dean Levi, of Berryville, Va.

Mrs. Lewis W. Parker, Sr. of Manson, and Mrs. C. V. Montgomery, Jr. of South Hill, Va. were mistresses of ceremony.

Mrs. Geoghegan, mother of the bride, wore a copenhagen blue silk sheath dress with matching hat and shoes. Her corsage was a purple orchid.

Mrs. Cheshire, mother of the groom, wore a yellow linen sheath dress, embroidered in motifs of shades of yellow with matching accessories. She wore a shoulder corsage of white roses.

Mr. W. B. Beck of Chase City, grandmother of the bride, wore a navy blue sheath dress. Her feathered hat was shades of rose red and she had a corsage of pink roses. A reception followed the ceremony at the bride's home.

After a southern wedding trip they will make their home in Richmond, Va.

Mrs. Ollie Cates and son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Cates, of Roanoke, Va. visited here last week with Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Snipes Sr. and Mrs. Fred Blake and daughter, Phyllis.

Mrs. Losie Watkins returned to her home in the Fairview Community Sunday following an operation at Watts Hospital last week on her ankle.

Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Baucum returned home Tuesday from Asheville where they attended the N. C. Dairy Products Association Convention over the weekend.

Miss Kathryn Ray returned home Tuesday from Asheville. She home Saturday after undergoing an operation at Watts Hospital July 27. Miss Ray will be confined to her home for about a week.
