

Chapel Hill bond vote is now seen around March 1

A referendum on a $525,000 bond issue will likely be held for local voters around March 1.

This became apparent upon approval of formal resolutions by the Chapel Hill aldermen authorizing the issue, which would finance sewer, street, and curb and gutter improvements as well as an addition to the Town Hall.

While the actual date of the election has not yet been set, Mayor O. K. Cornwell told the Board that the time until March 1 would be necessary for final approval from the Local Government Commission in Raleigh and for registration of new voters.

Two annexation hearings set
The aldermen also agreed to hold a public hearing on annexation of the Estes Hills Schol area at the time of their second regular meeting this month, Jan. 26. A similar hearing has already been scheduled then on the annexation of the 42-acre Northside School neighborhood.

The Estes Hills area involves 99 acres in all — 35 in the school grounds and the rest in the Estes Hills subdivision. Following these public hearings the aldermen will have authority, in the absence of objections from property owners, to annex these territories.

Among other matters of business the Board heard from Town Attorney J. Q. LeGrand that an action brought by George Doak against the Town contesting the curbing assessment for old Mill Rd., had been docketed for next week's session of Superior Court.

Approve parking laws
Ordinances previously authorized were passed providing for parking on one side of McCauley St. only (first two blocks) after Feb. 1; for parallel parking in the second block of W. Franklin St.; and for appropriation of $13,000 excess revenue for 1958-59.

CAP unit plans to meet again tonight

Tonight at 7:30 in Town Hall, Chapel Hill, prospective members of an Orange County Squadron of the North Carolina Civil Air Patrol will meet to turn in membership applications given out at last Thursday's meeting. Requisites for obtaining a CAP charter for a county squadron will be discussed. According to Marshall Duncan, 15 members are required and it usually takes about two months for charter approval and issuance.

The next step will be to elect officers for the squadron if the required 15 members are signed up. In addition to proficient pilots, Mr. Duncan said the county squadron would need radio operators, ground and air observers and leaders for training programs. Anyone wishing to fill one of these posts is cordially invited to attend tonight's meetings.

When chartered, the Orange County squadron will become a part of North Carolina CAP Group 7, which consists of squadrons in Durham, Raleigh, Henderson, Oxford, Louisburg and Burlington.

to necessary categories where expenditures exceeded budget authorizations.

Without any debate the Board unanimously passed the special use permit amendment to the zoning ordinance, which will allow under certain restrictions land uses which would not normally be permitted in zoned territories.

The aldermen also allocated previously authorized funds totalling $51,009 for construction of the new Glen Lennox fire station.

Among matters of new business the Board agreed to discuss its tentatively adopted thoroughfare plan at its Jan. 26 meeting; decided to examine the fee schedule for plumbing inspections then, also; and directed the Town Manager to study the possibility of assigning foot police to a W. Franklin St. beat.
