

Business groups to form industry - seeking body

An industrial development corporation will be formed for Chapel Hill and Carrboro under auspices of the chambers of commerce for the twin municipalities.

Plans for organizing the industry-promotion group were made at an initial meeting Tuesday night of representatives of the Chapel Hill-Carrboro Merchants Association and the Carrboro Chamber of Commerce. R. B. Fitch Jr., of the Carrboro Chamber's Industrial Committee, was elected temporary chairman of the group. It will next meet on Thursday evening, Feb. 23, at which time a report will be heard from two committees named at this week's meeting. One of these groups is for the formation of a corporation, and consists of Emery Danny Jr., Bernice Ward, and Raymond Andrews. The other on organization of a stock sale campaign, is headed by Calvin Burch and consists also of Joe Augustine and Bernard Whitefield.

Also on the over-all committee for the industrial development group are Lloyd Senter, Joe Page, and Sandy McClamroch. The group received guidance in its plans this week from two representatives from the North Carolina Department of Conservation and Development.

A likely objective of the group will be the purchase of possible industrial sites, and perhaps the construction of a building, all of which would be financed by proceeds from the public sale of stock.

Mayor cast vote to defeat trailer zone

Mayor C. T. Ellington's tie-breaking vote has prevented a zone change that would have permitted W. T. Durham to set up a residential trailer court on his newly-annexed property in Carrboro.

Durham's nine-acre tract on the western edge of town was planned as a 100-unit mobile homes development, subject to his re-zoning petition.

Four acres of this property was annexed to the town at the owner's request last month, and the trailer zone was set up especially for his and subsequent developers. Owners of nearby property spoke both for and against the proposed re-zoning at a recent public hearing on the matter.

Vote break-down

At Tuesday evening's Carrboro Commissioners meeting E. O. Hardee moved that Durham's petition to change his territory from a residential to trailer zone be approved. Ralph Morgan seconded the motion. Commissioners Eugene Sturdivant and Offie Durham voted against the motion, and Wilson Lackey abstained. Commissioner Harold Dark was absent. Mayor Ellington cast the rare tie-breaking vote to eliminate the 2-2 deadlock and defeat the motion.

In other matters of business, the resignation of night policeman E. B. Riggsbee was announced and Town Clerk R. B. Todd was asked to begin looking for a replacement. Mr. Riggsbee has taken a job with the University.

After hearing a report from engineer Thomas D. Rose the Board agreed to install a sewer line on Pleasant Drive. The project is expected to cost about $10,000 for a line of 1,500 to 1,800 feet, including a small pumping station.

The Board discussed the annexation of the Pine-Oak-Cheek-High St. neighborhoods under its authority to take in developed suburban areas. The town clerk was directed to obtain a survey of the area, establish proposed boundary lines, and obtain a house count for a report at the Board's next meeting. At that time, it was suggested, the date for a legal hearing on the annexation might be set.

There was some discussion of the extension of the high-value fire district in downtown Carrboro. An assortment of Christmas lights and equipment was purchased from the Chapel Hill-Carrboro Merchants Association for $25. The Board will hold an adjourned meeting Feb. 28.

Treasure chest keys feature of Dollar Days

February Dollar days, featuring special purchase and reduced price items in most local stores, will be staged throughout Chapel Hill and Carrboro this Friday and Saturday.

The event is being sponsored by the Trade Promotions Committee of the Chapel Hill-Carrboro Merchants Association. A. J. (Red) Altemueller and Milton Julian, co-chairmen of the project, have urged all local merchants to join in this sales promotion.

Shoppers in cooperating stores will be offered the key to a treasure chest when they make their purchases. Certain ones of these keys will fit a locked treasure chest that will be set up on the main corner downtown. Persons whose keys open the chest will get the $25 silver dollars inside.
