Voters give go-ahead to sewer bond issue

Hillsboro's town administration, in the wake of an overwhelming 293 to seven approval of a bond issue for sewer improvements on Tuesday, yesterday made plans for proceeding with its program.

After canvassing the election returns which saw 300 of its 540 registered voters turnout, the Board met with Engineer Tom Rose and authorized him to proceed with plans for the project. It is now dependent for completion on approval of an application for additional federal funds in the amount of $40,000.

Mayor Fred Claytor expressed the Town Board's general elation over the election results. "It is extremely gratifying, both as to the large turnout and the favorable vote. It illustrates definitely our Town's interest in these municipal improvements."

Two things are in the offing immediately to improve the Town's position on the list of applicants for federal funds. Mr. Rose will file copies of the election results in Raleigh which automatically grant the town an additional 15 points toward the necessary points required in the priority system. And Col. George Levings, town attorney, will proceed to obtain rights-of-way which will bring additional priority points.

There are 40 North Carolina towns on the applicant list for federal funds which come to the state, according to the Mayor.

According to Claytor, the Town may proceed immediately to install the additional sewer lines to enable every residence to tap on, even if there is a delay in the federal grant. This will increase the Town indebtedness and provide additional points to push the Town higher on the priority list, thus speeding up the federal grant to enable completion of the sewer disposal plant. The Town has two years to issue all of the $150,000 authorized by the voters for sewer improvements.

Hillsboro has been under pressure from the State Stream Sanitation Committee to provide treatment facilities for the sewage it now dumps into the Eno River.
