

Hillsboro board backs new road

The town administration has provided strong backing for the proposed new bridge and access road into Hillsboro from Interstate 85, but a minor flurry of opposition has developed from some sources, principally friends sympathetic to affected property owners whose property may be damaged through proximity to the new road.

A movement has been afoot for several weeks to obtain civic club action in protest to the new entrance highway which will be built near the homes of Miss Elizabeth Collins and Mrs. Evelyn Parsley and Miss Collins has written her objection to President Kennedy, noting her concern for "the unnecessary public spending" as evidenced by the new highway, with copies to the Governor, county and town governing boards.

Her letter, along with that of Mayor Fred Claytor of Hillsboro, writing to Gov. Sanford for the Town Board, was made public by the County Commisday. In his letter the Mayor noted "a few vigorous complaints by a few individuals opposed to the plan," and continued as follows: "We wish to assure you that execution of the plan will be in the best interest of the Town of Hillsboro, the travelling public and the great majority of the citizens of this community. We wish to go on record again as a governing body of Hillsboro as being strongly in favor of this improvement and respectfully urge that all concerned with the construction thereof proceed in this matter with dispatch."

The new approach to Hillsboro, now approved by the Highway Commission using federal funds on a matching basis, was instigated originally by the Hillsboro Merchants Association and members of the Town Board and County Commissioners.
