

Orange Pealings

THE CHAPEL HILL SCHOOL Superintendent's offices were moved yesterday out of their long-time make-do quarters in the Cone House and into cozier, but more accommodating offices in the high school building next door. The former "Brown Room" of the home economics department, so-called for its window curtains, is the new locale where new Superintendent Howard Thompson will reign as of Monday morning. The home ec department will continue in the "green room" across the hall... And the aging, creaking Cone House will be used for storage until it falls down, is torn down, or is sold to Hollywood.

FOR SEVERAL YEARS Jessie Whiteleather worked as a medical secretary in Memorial Hospital to help put hubby Al through UNC's journalism school. Now that Alan is the Durham Herald's Chapel Hill staffer, Jessie's back in school, a junior English major at Carolina. So Al was both delighted and taken aback last week to receive a form letter from the

See Pealings on Page 8

New geographic pupil plan established for all six grades

—Story on Page 2

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

New parking revenue bond proposal to be drawn up

—Story on Page 2, Sec. III

The News

of orange county

—Chapel Hill, Hillsboro, Carrboro—Between and Beyond—

See Pealings on Page 8

VOL. 70, NO. 28

HILLSBORO AND CHAPEL HILL, N. C., THURSDAY, JULY 12, 1962

32 PAGES

Best-behaved . . .

ALICE AND 'TOODLES' — Ten-year-old Alice Dawson is mighty proud of her cocker spaniel, 'Toodles,' whom was picked by the judges as the best-behaved animal in the pet show staged at Chapel Hill's Fourth of July celebration. The dog's good manners won a blue ribbon for him and a silver dollar for 10-year-old Alice. Other superlatives in the show included a bug from outer space, entered by Dickson Phillips — the "most unusual"; and Wiemaraner puppies of the John Allcotts — the "most outstanding."

It's HOT DIGGITY time!

Big madcap sale is all set again

That craziest of all bargain events—the mad fifth annual Hot Diggity Day, sponsored by the Chapel Hill-Carrboro Merchants Association — will be staged throughout the community this Friday.

The mad-cap sales promotional event features innumerable buys that will never be equaled anywhere except in each succeeding Hot Diggity Day. Through tradition this has built up each year to become Chapel Hill - Carrboro's outstanding shopper's special. Last year, according to businessmen's estimates, more than 15,000 persons jammed stores throughout the community as merchants slashed prices on seasonal stocks and offered unusual bargains on special purchase items. Many merchants found crowds waiting at their doors when they came to open for business. Some hopeful customers spent the night on the sidewalk in order to be at the head of the shopping line.

Trade Promotions Committee Chairman Carlton Byrd noted that free pizza and Pepsi Colas will be given out from 2 to 5 p. m. Friday at stands in front of Central Carolina Bank and Trust Co. at Columbia St. and Ledbetter-Pickard on E. Franklin St. In addition free ice cream will be given out to children throughout all shopping centers in Chapel Hill and Carrboro.

Through the courtesy of local banks a throng of be-ribboned Hot Diggity Girls will give out free parking meter nickels to drivers.

A number of stores will observe late closing hours Friday to accommodate expected crowds. And the offerings of several firms include sale prices keyed to Friday the 13th — 13 per cent discounts, 13-cent purchases, and baker's dozen buys. Ads for participating business establishments are carried throughout this edition of The News.

County tax rate $1.10; budget ok'd

—Story on Page 5