

Orange Pealings

MRS. C. S. LOGSDON OF Chapel Hill leaves today on an unusual three-week round trip to Ankara, Turkey. Occasion will be the wedding there of the Logsdons' son, Air Force Capt. Roger Logsdon, to Cheryl Thompson, daughter of an Army couple in Ankara. Capt. Logsdon, a career service man, has been in the Air Force since graduation from UNC in 1955. Mrs. Logsdon will be accompanied by her sister. On their return they'll stop in Istanbul, Rome, Paris, Amsterdam, and London.

RESIDENTS OF THE LAKE

Forest subdivision east of Chapel Hill, many of them plagued by ineffective septic tanks, are circulating a petition for annexation to the town of Chapel Hill. It's understood that better than two-thirds of the residents favor annexation. The proposal would involve a major expense in additional sewer lines for the town, if approved.

W. E. CLARK JR. OF CHAPEL

Hill has re-joined the Orange County Sheriff's Department as a deputy, succeeding Billy Wright of Carrboro who recently resigned. Mr. Clark has been a Chapel Hill and Carrboro policeman and a Chapel Hill fireman. He also served as a deputy for about two years. Recently he has been operating a store at Calvander.

ABOUT 70 YOUNGSTERS HAD

a whale of a time at the post-Halloween party staged for the pumpkin contest participants Monday afternoon at The Ranch House. The party ended at 5:30. At 6:30 there was still one youngster left. He telephoned mom. She said she'd forgotten about him, would come fetch him right away. One of the Ranch House folks asked the lad how many others there were in his family. He said three. End of vignette of American family life.

IT APPARENTLY DID NOT

come off. But official clearance was obtained from the Chapel Hill Police Dept., via Mayor Sandy McClamroch, for a fellow dressed as a pizza pie to make a sprint down the middle of the street in the main Chapel Hill business block at 5:30 p. m. Monday. —Some kind of promotion for National Pizza Week. Police said they didn't know how he planned to don his edible raiments, or how much he intended to wear.

CHAPEL HILL FIREMEN ANSWERED

an alarm last Sunday at 1 p. m. to the Glen Lennox Laundrette. A basket of about 25 assorted freshly-dried garments had somehow caught fire. There was no positive clue as to how. Damage was restricted to the clothing. Also last week the firemen answered an alarm to the home of Spencer Jeffers at 313 McMaster St. A faulty chimney was the source of the blaze which caused several hundred dollars damage to the cab-in-construction dwelling.

Golden anniversary ...

COMMUNITY CLUB IS 50 — The Chapel Hill Community Club observed its 50th anniversary last Friday with a golden anniversary program honoring past presidents of the group. Above, cutting the 'birthday' cake for the occasion are Mrs. Harvey Fife, the current president, and Mrs. Collier Cobb Sr., the senior past president of the group who was present for the observance.

Blend old & new ...

NEW LANDMARK — Here's architect Kenneth Scott's conception of how the new home of Collier Cobb and Associates, located at the eastern entrance to Chapel Hill, will look upon completion next February. The distinctive arrangement of full-height arch ways surrounding the 60-foot-square two-story building are intended to give it a tradition air, while providing openings for an expanse of glass and light to lend a functional, contemporary touch to the unique structure.
