HILLSBORO AMERICAN LEGION UNIT 85

Hillsboro American Legion Auxiliary Unit 85 will have their regular monthly meeting Thursday afternoon, Feb. 7, at 3:30 with Mrs. O. L. Thomas.

Crime prevention week plans noted by two Exchange clubs

Citizens all over the United States will participate in the 16th annual observance of National Crime Prevention Week Feb. 10-16 according to Doug Yates, President, The Chapel Hill Exchange Club, local sponsor of the campaign. Similar plans are being made by the Exchangeites in Hillsboro, where Mayor Fred Clator has issued a local Crime Prevention Week proclamation.

Plans for the seven-day program of crime prevention activities here include: on Feb. 10, the members and their families will attend the "Go-To-Church Sunday" services in a group at the University Baptist Church. Monday, Feb. 11, the Crime Prevention Poster Contest sponsored by the Exchange Club will be judged and the trophies and awards will be given the winners. The students in the Chapel Hill School system participated in the contest.

Wednesday, Feb. 13, will be Police Open House, with a display of weapons and scientific crime detection equipment, tours of the police department and jail.

SIGNS PROCLAMATION — Hillsboro Mayor Fred Clator signs a proclamation denoting Feb. 10-16 as Crime Prevention Week for Hillsboro, in cooperation with the nationwide observance of this occasion. Looking on is John Terrell, Exchange Club project chairman. Next Tuesday District Probation Officer R. W. Bodenheimer will speak on this topic at Hillsboro High School. This Sunday Hillsboro Exchangeites will attend the Methodist Church as a group to emphasize this program.

$12,500 goal set for April 21 drive . . .

Three co-chairmen named for cancer crusade

Sheriff Buck Knight, Mrs. George Nicholson, and George Hogan have been named co-chairmen of Orange County's 1963 Cancer Crusade, to begin April 21 with a $12,500 goal. They were appointed this week by Jim Falconer, Chapel Hill insurance man, who is president of the American Cancer Society's Orange County unit.

Sheriff Knight will direct the campaign in Hillsboro and the rural areas of the county. Mrs. Nicholson will have charge of the work in the Carrboro and Chapel Hill residential areas. Mr. Hogan will be chairman at large, helping in all areas.

Mr. Falconer also announced the appointment this week of Justice Haswell of the Bank of Chapel Hill as crusade treasurer, Judge L. J. Phipps as chairman of advance gifts, and Mrs. Lucy Sutton as chairman of the Chapel Hill business district. Mrs. Sutton will be assisted by Miss Elizabeth Branson. Other appointments will be announced soon.

Mr. Falconer, the three chairmen, and Mrs. Lindsay Neville, the unit's executive secretary, launched plans for the campaign Monday evening at a meeting in Mr. Falconer's office in the Hayes Building at the Glen Lennox Shopping Center.

The purpose of the crusade is twofold: To give house-to-house information on cancer and to collect funds for the battle against it. Much of the proceeds is used to help Orange County cancer patients who need assistance. This includes drugs, bed linens, therapy, transportation to and from sites of treatment, home nursing, and household help. Proceeds provide funds for research and education.

Mrs. Neville said people could

Local firemen getting in-service training

Chapel Hill and Carrboro firemen have been attending an in-service training school each night this week. David Lee of the State Insurance Department in Raleigh is instructor.

The three-hour class sessions each night in the Glen Lennox Fire Station have been concerned with forcible entry, ventilation, salvage and overhaul, ladders, and fog spray use.

Chapel Hill Fire Chief J. S. Stewary said that 28 persons in all were enrolled — the 15 paid Chapel Hill firemen, most of the call men, and four Carrboro volunteer firemen.

help the unit with its community service by donating old sheets. Those good enough are used as bed linens; others are made into bandages. The unit's office at 159 East Franklin Street is open from 9 a. m. to 12 noon Monday, Wednesday, and Friday. Sheets may be delivered there at those times, or will be called for if donors phone Mrs. Neville at 942-1953 during office hours.
