

CITED BY CHAMBER — Orville B. Campbell (above, right), Chapel Hill printing and publishing executive, is presented an engraved bowl as the Chamber of Commerce Man of the Year for Chapel Hill-Carrboro by Joe Robbins (left) at the annual officers installation banquet for the Chapel Hill-Carrboro Merchants Association, held last Thursday evening. Below, outgoing Association President Sion Jennings (left) receives a plaque of appreciation for his services from incoming President T. L. Kemp. Looking on is Association Executive Director Joe Augustine, who began his duties this week.

Hillsboro folk against re-classification of Eno

Durham's late - hour effort to have the Eno River reclassified from its present "C or D" to Class A-II will be opposed by Hillsboro interests at the public hearing today in Raleigh by the Stream Sanitation Committee.

Attending the 2 p. m. hearing will be Mayor Fred Claytor, Town Attorney George Levings, Town Engineer Thomas D. Rose for the Town of Hillsboro and a delegation of attorneys and officials for the Cone Mills Corp.

Upgrading the river from the Neuse to the point at the Cone Mills dam at West Hillsboro will necessitate additional heavy expenditures by the Town for chlorination equipment as well as the continued maintenance and operation.

In a statement prepared for presentation to the committee Mr. Rose noted that the town is proceeding with plans for sewage treatment facilities which he contended will eliminate the cause of the present pollution. He reviewed the history of the town's cooperation with the Stream Sanitation Committee, which includes the passage of a $190,000 bond issue with only three dissenting votes, the approval of one supplementary grant by the federal government and then another one taking into account the additional requirements which would be imposed if the stream is upgraded as requested.

The question remains, however, he said, whether the town with limited financial resources can meet the increased costs of operations and maintenance under the new requirements.

Prior to attending the hearing, the three town officials were scheduled to visit the Local Government Commission for County asks new court terms to end 'two year backlog'

It takes at least two years to get a civil case tried in Orange County.

That was the evidence Monday when members of the county bar recommended and County Commissioners approved a move to double the number of court terms held per year.

The group also sought — and drew a jury for an extra week of court for the term beginning April 1.

Final approval of the commissioners' action must come from the office of the State Supreme Court chief justice. This approval was described as quite probable. The new terms would go into effect July 1.

The commissioners, acting jointly with the Orange County Board of Education, reappointed Giles Long to a three-year term on the Orange County ABC Board.

Another pending appointment — to the post of veterans service officer — was postponed until the commissioners' next meeting. Names of 4 applicants who want to succeed Walter Wren when he retires March 31 were received and the persons will be interviewed at 3:30 p. m. during next month's regular meeting.

In other matters, Superior Court Clerk Edwin Lynch asked for local legislation in the forthcoming General Assembly to permit three assistant clerks in his office rather than the current two.

The commissioners also moved closer to the often debated air conditioning of the county's courtroom. They informally agreed to seek engineering advice on the proper type of installation and its cost.

Air conditioning has been recommended by grand juries and superior court judges, as well as citizens at large.

Agricultural Agent Don Matheson presented his six - months report of farming activities in the county. In addition, he asked and got an appropriation for a janitor in the new county agriculture building and an allocation for furniture, which exceeded the budget estimates.

The request for additional terms of civil court was presented by Chapel Hill attorney Gordon Battle, chairman of the Orange County Bar Association Calendar Committee.

Battle said 346 cases were pending on the calendar last July and that little headway has been made in reducing the load. He noted that 65 cases were calendared last term and only 19 disposed of, only three through litigation.

Battle said Orange County lawyers had been in contact with Bert M. Montague, administrative assistant to the chief justice, and that prospects were good for high court approval of the extra terms.

If the move succeeds, Orange County will get 10 weeks of court annually, double the current five weeks. The additional terms will cost the county about $5,000 extra.

In other action the board approved a re-designation of the Hillsboro road from "Prison Camp Road" to "Old N. C. 86" as requested by the Highway Commission and received and passed on a number of road petitions to the highway department.

proved a re-designation of the Hillsboro road from "Prison Camp Road" to "Old N. C. 86" as requested by the Highway Commission and received and passed on a number of road petitions to the highway department.

YOUNG MAN—AND WIFE—Dr. and Mrs. Erle Peacock Jr. are seen at the annual awards banquet of the Chapel Hill Jaycees last Friday, at which he was presented the Distinguished Service Award as the Outstanding Young Man of the Year for 1962 on the basis of a selection made by a secret committee of community leaders. One of the nation's leading plastic surgeons, the Chapel Hill native is an associate professor of surgery at the University, and has been active in church and Boy Scout work.

YATES' CLOSEOUT

USED CAR SALE!

'61 PLYMOUTH 4-dr. Sdn.	$1,695
8 cyl. Auto. trans. Heater. Clean
2-'60 PLYMOUTHs, 4-dr. Fury	$1,695
Air conditioner, power steering, brakes R & H, Torqueflite Trans., Clean
'61 METROPOLITAN CONVERTIBLE	$995
'61 FALCON 4-dr	$1,495
Extra-Clean
'58 CHRYSLER 2-dr. Hard Top	$895
Sharp
'59 DODGE 4-dr.	$1,195
8 Cyl., Power Steering, Auto, Trans., R & H
'60 RENAULT DAUPHINE	$595
'54 DODGE PICKUP TRUCK	$495

20 Other Good Clean Cars Now at Reduced Prices

YATES MOTOR CO.

VALIANT • PLYMOUTH • CHRYSLER

Dealer License No. 573

417 West Franklin St.

Chapel Hill

Dial 942-3121