

Orange Pealings

ORANGE COUNTY'S JUNKETING public officials, Chapel Hill Mayor Sandy McClamroch and County Commissioner Carl Smith will leave Brussels tomorrow for a flight to Moscow, in company with the group of 38 Tar Heels on a people-to-people mission now in Europe. In a note received by Mrs. Smith yesterday, Hon. Carl said they were guests of the Mayor of Manchester, England, on Sunday, also visited in Coventry, and planned to be in London on Monday. Mayor Sandy reportedly "went shopping" in London on Monday. Tour Director Alex McMahon of Chapel Hill will be joined by his wife in Berlin when the group arrives there on Oct. 7. The McMahons will stay on a while, touring Austria and Italy.

CAR FANCIER JIM PHILLIPS recently-acquired one of those increasingly rare automotive wonders, a real-live running Model "A" Ford coupe, 1931 model. He picked up the "cream-puff" clean vintage vehicle in Ohio recently, admitting he had to pay a fierce price (well in excess of its FOB when manufactured) for it. It runs fine, sounds good, and joins ranks with its companion status symbol, an A-model owned by auto dealer Crowell Little.

THE WELL-OILED PUBLICITY machine in behalf of the candidacy of Dan K. Moore for Governor is running in high gear. The News yesterday received from the-Canton jurist a neat file folder of background material and reproduced clippings, replete also with a nice letter, newspaper mats in four handy sizes, and several different photos.

HILLSBOROUGH'S "MR. HENRY" Walker is the latest to stake a superlative claim in the blooming derby for the Night-Blooming Cereus. Squire Walker states he's had a plant at his that had 50 blooms. A specimen with 17 blooms open on a single night, owned by Mrs. Annie Fuller of Efland, was cited in Pealings last week.

THE POLITICAL RUMOR MILL was rife yesterday with speculation on the race for the presidency of the Orange County Young Democrats Club. Officers for the coming year are to be chosen by the membership tomorrow night. Chapel Hill attorney Bob Cooper is running for the post now held by Fred Cates of Hillsboro. Other candidates or would-be candidates have been publicity-shy to date, but are allegedly available as "patriots" for the office.

THE WAYWARD PRESS, so often given grist by The News, received a choice tid-bit recently from the Chapel Hill Weekly. Buried in the middle of a story on the "atmosphere" of Chapel Hill in the paper's student orientation issue was this nugget, herewith taken so handily out of context: "... Some ladies shop in shorts. Others only appear in gloves ..."

ORANGE COUNTY'S OWN gubernatorial hopeful Raymond Stansbury of Hillsboro is trying to round up some string band ac-

(More Pealings, Page 12)

Historical Commission to have first meeting in Hillsboro on Oct. 12

—Story on Page 2

Police checking new leads In Chapel Hill break-ins

—Story on Page 2

The News

of orange county

—Chapel Hill, Hillsboro, Carrboro—Between and Beyond—

VOL. 71, NO. 39

HILLSBORO AND CHAPEL HILL, N. C., THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 26, 1963

24 PAGES

Cover Girl at Grandfather...

ANNE AND AUTUMN—Anne 'Zackie' Murphy, a sophomore at Peace College in Raleigh, and daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Robert J. Murphy of Hillsboro, sets the mood for an autumn scene atop Grandfather Mountain where she was an entrant recently in the Carolinas Photo Queen competition. Anne has her eye on a modeling career after school and the fashion world may well have its collective eye on Anne, too, if photographers hereabouts are competent judges. It's Anne's second appearance on The News' photo-frontis in as many years, and we hope it makes you as happy as it does us.

Circulation Today
7,651
99 PCT. DISTRIBUTED IN
ORANGE COUNTY