Orange Peelings

ELIMINATION OF THE TIME designation on postmarks by the postal department as of last Saturday hasn't made any noticeable difference to local patrons, according to the postmaster. As a matter of fact, authorities point out, if a fellow wants to have the time that he puts his mail in the postoffice officially designated, the clerks will be glad to mark the letter or parcel as of the precise minute the matter is received.

TALL IN THE POLITICAL saddle at last Saturday's Young Democrats banquet in Chapel Hill were a number of well-known ward-heeling vote getters: Bob Scott of Hawfields, candidate for lieutenant governor, looking quite at home among his fellow branchhead boys; Robert Morgan of Harnett County, brain-truster of Beverly Lake's; and Joe Branch of Enfield, eastern campaign manager for Dan Moore. While there were no visitors in behalf of Rich Preyer, he had a vocally patriotic sprinkling of partisans amongst the home crowd.

ONE OF THE MOST ATTRACTIVE downtown remodeling jobs done in many a moon is that now being carried out on the old ZBT fraternity house on W. Rosemary St. by Mrs. John Foushee. She's completely re-doing the old two-story brick dwelling to spruce it up and make it into an office building for Mr. Foushee's real estate and insurance firm.

MOST IN NEED OF A SIMILAR sprucing up now is the newly-bared and unsightly expanse of store exits now visible from Rosemary St. across the soon-to-be-completed municipal parking lot in mid-town Chapel Hill. Some of the tenants are planning repainting and renovations for their back-side entrances. Town and Campus has already done this.

WITH APPROVAL THIS week of the three-county 17th senatorial district rotation agreement by Democrats of Orange, Person, and Durham, the political spotlight in Orange is turning to this front. Rumors are right rife on candidate possibilities. One being bruited about, but not at all confirmed, is that County Commissioner Gordon Cleaveland will seek this post. There is much shuffling of feet by other possible racers at the starting gate, too.

Co-workers win civic honors...

CITED BY JAYCEES, SERTOMA—Three employees of Hospital Saving Association in Chapel Hill have been coincidentally cited for community-wide civic honors during the past week. Roy Martin (left), was last Friday night given the Jaycees' Distinguished Service Award as Chapel Hill's Outstanding Young Man for 1963. At the same event Hubert Pressly (background) was given the Nu-Jay Award as the outstanding first year member of the young men's civic group. Both are seen in front of HSA's home office building here. Last night another of their co-workers, Albert Graham, was given the Tar Heel Sertoma Club's "Service To Mankind" Award for his service in church youth work. Since the latter selection was held secret until a late hour last evening, he could not be included in the photo above.
