

Bill Ray becomes candidate for Orange County Board

(See other story on earlier candidates, Sec. III, Page 8.)

William C. (Bill) Ray, 36, well-known beef and dairy cattle farmer of the Cedar Grove community, yesterday announced his candidacy for one of the two seats at stake this year on the five-member Orange County Board of Commissioners, subject to the May 30 Democratic primary.

Incumbent Harvey Bennett of Chapel Hill last week announced for a second four-year term.

Board Chairman Donald M. Stanford of Chapel Hill, whose term is also expiring, last weekend announced he would seek nomination as State Representative from Orange.

"I am aware of the many problems facing Orange County and would like to exercise my ability in helping the citizens of Orange County solve these problems," said Mr. Ray.

Mr. Ray and his partner, who is his brother-in-law Bobby Nichols, own and operate Arrowhead

Farm on Route Two, Hillsborough. They milk 65 cows, have a total herd of 145, and also raise some tobacco.

A native of eastern North Carolina, he has lived in Orange County for the past 15 years and is a veteran of service in both the Army and Navy. His wife is the former Jessie Gray Nichols of Efland and they have two children, Cynthia Lou, five, and Robert William, three.

The Vice-President of the Orange Farm Bureau, he is Master
