

Rep. Kornegay roasts Republicans . . .

Democrats unanimous in election of new officers

Orange County Democrats roasted the Republicans and elected their officers for the next two years unanimously in a display of intra-party harmony last Saturday.

The biennial county-wide convention in the county courthouse was attended by about 250 persons. Keynote speaker for the occasion, Sixth District Congressman Horace Kornegay, praised the effectiveness of the Orange political organization in the party and noted that every Orange County elective office holder was a Democrat.

Immediately before the convention was called to order the 56-member County Executive Committee re-elected almost all of its officers for the next two years. They were: Chairman L. J. Phipps, First Vice-Chairman Betty June Hayes, Second Vice-Chairman Delos O'Daniel, Treasurer Robert Satterfield, Secretary Earle Wallace, and Third Vice-Chairman Hugh Wilson, who succeeded C. D. Knight when Knight declined re-nomination.

Pass three resolutions
J. Alex McMahon, Chairman of the Resolutions Committee, presented three resolutions which his group had endorsed as received from various precinct meetings. One memorialized the late W. Otey Mincey, for over 15 years the registrar of Caldwell Precinct and a long-time active Democrat.

Miss Harriet Herring of Chapel Hill, past vice-chairman of East Franklin Precinct, and W. Luce Mace, for many years a Democratic leader in Cheeks Precinct, were both given certificates as "Distinguished Democrats" on motion of the Resolutions Committee. Another unanimously-adopted resolution memorialized the late President Kennedy.

The report of Treasurer Robert Satterfield showed a balance of $323 after payment of bills and the county's donation of $500 to the Jefferson-Jackson Day Dinner fund-raising campaign. East Franklin Precinct was cited as having raised the most money in this drive.

'Guilford bucked tradition'

As keynote speaker for the meeting, Rep. Kornegay noted that his county "went against its time-tested tradition two years ago." Of the five-member Guilford GOP delegation to the legislature, he recalled, "after one term in Raleigh about half of that car-load wanted to be governor and the other half thought they ought to stay home and sit this one out." It was as well that none have sought re-election, he suggested, because "the people of Guilford County are now aware that the best people to get any job done are Democrats."

The youthful Congressman, un-opposed in his own party for re-nomination to a third term, left the Orange convention immediately after his talk to attend the Guilford Democratic conclave. Earlier he'd been at the Alamance Demo-

Convention delegates to caucus in Raleigh

Orange County's 25 delegates to next Wednesday's State Democratic Convention in Raleigh will caucus in the capital city on Tuesday night to fill various party offices.

County Chairman L. J. Phipps said the meeting would be held in the Sir Walter Hotel at about 8 p.m. in a room to be noted in an announcement to be posted on the bulletin board. The Sixth District caucus will be held later that night and the district convention, the next morning immediately preceding the state convention.

Two members of the State Executive Committee will be chosen at the county caucus. Mrs. Gerald Barrett of Chapel Hill and E. J. Hamlin of Hillsborough presently hold these posts. Mr. Hamlin, a candidate for the State House, will not be able to stand for re-election. Members of the judicial, senatorial, solicitorial, and congressional committees will also be chosen from Orange. Following are the regular delegates to the state convention as elected at the county convention last Saturday. Harvey D. Bennett, Marshall Cates Jr., Carl Durham, Mrs. Virginia Forrest, Roland Giduz, George Harris, Eva Mae Hill, C. R. Laws, Sandy McClamroch, Jack McDade, Alex McMahon, R. E. Murray, James W. Oakley, L. J. Phipps, Mrs. James W. Prothro, Elaine Rountree, Phillip C. Schinhan, George B. Spransy, Mrs. James W. Street, James W. Taylor, Melvin Whitfield, Hugh M. Wilson, William G. Long, Frank Umstead, and Mrs. Herbert McKay.

Alternate delegates—Mrs. Raymond L. Andrews, H. Conway Browning, G. Paul Carr, Clyde C. Carter, John B. Chase, Vincent T. Dodson, Charles Dolan, Max M. Kennedy, Helen R. Laws, W. L. Mace, Delos O'Daniel, David Plessett, Parker Roland, Mrs. Richard Sparrow, Bernice L. Ward, Sherwood Ward, Mrs. Warren J. Wicker, Mrs. Alene Williams, Walter G. Wren Sr., E. T. Iseley, Charles W. Johnston, and Mitchell Lloyd Jr.

cratic convention. He received warm applause in praising his predecessor in office, retired Congressman Carl Durham of Chapel Hill, attending the convention as a precinct delegate.

Congressman Kornegay confidently predicted the election of Lyndon Johnson as president next fall in "a vote of confidence such as we have not seen in this country since Roosevelt—and no man is more deserving of such a vote." He summarized his "rousing" at the meeting by challenging the Republicans' appeal for "a two-party system."
