CHHS goes cosmopolitan . .

IN HIS INFORMAL TALK BEFORE the Chapel Hill Rotary Club last night, State Republican Chairman Herman Saxon gave general support to Gov. Sanford's emphasis on education. "But there's been too much emphasis on education overhead and not enough in the head," he said, adding that he meant the emphasis had been too much on buildings. He did not elaborate. As for Sen. Strom Thurmond's switch to Goldwater, he welcomed him, said Thurmond had been a good Republican for 20 years—like Sens. Sam Ervin and Harry Byrd.

DEMOCRATIC GUBERNATORIAL nominee Dan Moore will hit Orange County on his current 100-county tour at breakfast time next Tuesday. He'll arrive in Hillsborough at 9:00 a.m., and be met by County Democratic workers and the general public. He's coming from Raleigh, will stay in Hillsborough 45 minutes, then move on to Roxboro.

ANOTHER POLITICAL NOTE: Democrats in Chapel Hill will formally open a campaign office next week. Mrs. George Nicholson will be office manager, as she was in the 1960 general election campaign. Republicans are also understood to be planning a campaign office operation with particular emphasis on the candidacy of Chapel Hill attorney Bob Page, candidate for County Board of Education.

MUNICIPAL EMPLOYEES IN Carrboro marshaled their strategy and a broom brigade the other day to corner a big rat that'd been menacing the building. They flushed him out and chased the rodent down the hall. A spectator out front said he saw R. B. Todd turn the corner in the lead, headed for his office, running so fast he couldn't make the door and scooted on through the main entrance. 'Twas a 'dead heat between the Town Clerk and the rat, he reported, with the squirrel-size rodent running the T.M. right out of the building.

WITH SCARCELY ANY PUBLIC notice another big apartment project is under way in Chapel Hill. University Garden Apartments, a 90-unit $450,000 proposition, is being built on the hillside at the end of Pritchard Ave.

Extension. Owners are Mott Blair, Jack Carlisle, and James Hinkle. They'll be small apartments in 10 buildings of nine units each. One entrance will be from Pritchard, and another from a bridge across Umstead Drive into Bolin Creek.

YET ANOTHER POLITICAL note still: Ballots for the general election have just come off the press. There'll be three. Smallest is the $100 million public school referendum, to be decided by checks in a box for or against. Next is the presidential ballot, with circles marked for Democratic or Republican preference. On the state ballot are Democratic and Republican slates for Govern-

her family while her father, Dr. Gordon Stewart is a visiting professor of epidemiology at the University; 'sisters' to the Japanese visiting student, Marybeth and Francis Ellis, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Fred Ellis; and Ylva Eriksson, sophomore, from Stockholm, Sweden, in Chapel Hill for the year with her family while her father, Prof. Franco Munari Eriksson is a visiting professor of classics at U.N.C.
