

Band for Dan...

THEY'LL ESCORT 'HIS EXCELLENCY' — The widely-acclaimed Orange High School marching band, now considered one of the top high school units in the State, received new recognition in connection with the Dan Moore inaugural activities scheduled in Raleigh next Thursday. The governor-elect fulfilled an election promise by inviting the Hillsborough unit to participate in the official inaugural parade. Now, it has been learned from the inaugural committee, the local band will be a part of the governor-elect's escort from the Mansion to the swearing-in rites at Memorial Auditorium.

The high-stepping Orange students will be leading the first section of official cars and according to schedule will arrive at the Auditorium at 11:40 a.m. Orange High is one of only three high school bands from the entire State selected for the inaugural honor, others being the governor-elect's hometown band of Canton and the Cary High School. Top military units to participate include the famed 82nd Airborne band, the Second Marine Division band, the Ninth Air Force band and the 30th Infantry Division band.

The Hillsborough Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Hillsborough Lions Club will provide lunches for the band and also cokes and cake in the Manteo Room of the Sir Walter Hotel after the parade. The band's appearance is expected to swell the inaugural crowd with greater than average numbers from the Land of Orange.

Orange Peelings

THERE HAS BEEN AN UNUSUAL amount of public interest expressed throughout the University community in the idea of local inter-city telephone service for the three cities of the Triangle area. The idea was publicly aired in last week's Newsman's Notepad column of The News, in citing this as a new project of the Chamber of Commerce locally. Since then The Raleigh Times has picked up the editorial cudgel, too. The News intends to give this project all the encouragement and coverage it can, cooperatively with the Chamber and interested groups in Durham and Raleigh. The suggestions of any interested readers are hereby solicited.

AN ORANGE BLOSSOM OF public appreciation is awarded to The Carolina Inn for the unusually beautiful lighted Christmas tree that illuminated the lawn in front of the Inn nightly during the recent Yuletide. Another praiseworthy effort is that of the Town Board in Hillsborough which is responsible for the lighted tree on the courthouse lawn each Christmas.

THREE CHAPEL HILLIANS were recently given appointments to state committees by Gov. Sanford. Mrs. Herbert McKay was named to the North Carolina Good Neighbor Council for an indefinite term. She's the outgoing Democratic National Committee-woman for N.C., and is a member of the National Citizens Committee for Community Relations. Drs. Richard M. Peters and J. Kempton Jones were appointed to the Commission to Study the Cause and Control of Cancer in North Carolina.

DEMOCRATIC PARTY FAITHFUL across the County have been questionably flattered during the past few days to receive gold embossed engraved invitations from the Inaugural Committee to the President's Inaugural Ball in Washington — with an RSVP at the rate of $750 per eight-person box or $25 for an individual ticket. Scarcely less impressive (though not engraved) are the follow-up invitations sent for the Jan. 19 inaugural reception — which carry only a $10 per each "catch" with them.

ANENT THE DAN MOORE INaugural ceremonies next Thursday, here's one more additional bit of Orange flavor. Mrs. Moore will be wearing an orchid grown in Hillsborough and presented to the new first lady by Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Allison of St. Mary's Road.

ACCORDING TO A SIGN erected on the lot Monday of this week, the Y. L. Honey organization of Charlotte will shortly erect a Honey's Restaurant on its suburban commercially-zoned lot at the corner of S. Hamilton Rd. across from Glenwood School. Honey's has expansive drive-in type restaurants in Durham, Greensboro and Charlotte.

MISS MARGARET VIRGINIA Sparrow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard W. Sparrow of Farrington Rd., Chapel Hill, will be one of the 150 sponsors for the 1965 inaugural ball to be held next Thursday night in honor of Gov.-Elect and Mrs. Dan Moore. She was tapped for this honor by Rep. Donald M. Stanford of Chapel Hill.

SPEAKING OF THE FORTH-coming biennial municipal elections, the "patriots" are just beginning to bestir themselves with muted conversation about the imminently approaching campaign that will soon begin for the various offices at stake. There will be three seats expiring on the Chapel Hill School Board, three seats on the Chapel Hill Board of Aldermen in addition to the posts of Mayor and Judge, and Mayor-Commissioners elections for Hillsborough and Carrboro, too. Soon after Groundhog Day the politicians can be expected to visibly start coming out of their hibernation.

'Skyscraper' for Chapel Hill...

SEVEN-STORY OFFICE BUILDING — A seven-story $750,000 contemporary architecture office building is to be built by Chapel Hill Realtor John A. Cates on his two lots at 158 and 160 E. Rosemary St. immediately behind the main downtown business block. As drawn by City Planning and Architectural Associates, above, the building would have elevators and utility areas at the right, and offices in the main section of the 60,000 square feet of floor space. Two rooming houses on the lots are currently being demolished and construction will begin immediately when the site is cleared, Cates said. Completion is scheduled by Jan. 1, 1968.
